United States Army in World War II. ,1954 The Army Service Forces ,1954 Leadership in Administration Philip Selznick, 1984-04-13 Philip Selznick has profoundly affected how all serious students of organizations think about their subject Leadership in Administration is perhaps his masterpiece a lucid rigorous yet humane analysis of the essential task of leadership that brilliantly reaffirms the organic value infused character of a successful enterprise whether private or public The central concepts of the book mission distinctive competence have become so much a part of our vocabulary that we sometimes forget they had to be invented and that Selznick invented them His reminder that the true exercise of leadership transcends a concern with mere efficiency is even more appropriate in today's era of quasi scientific thought about organizations than it was when presciently he first set it forth in 1957 James Q Wilson Harvard University The reappearance of Leadership in Administration will be most welcome to students of organizations because it provides the most lucid and complete statement available of Selznick's special view of organizations This view has given rise to the institutionalist school of organizational analysis one of the liveliest and more irrelevant alternatives to mainstream rationalist formulations W Richard Scott Stanford University Leadership in Administration has become a classic in the art of executive leadership In fact it is stimulating more managerial thought and organizational research today than ever before Robert H Miles Harvard Business School Army Service Forces Manual ,1944 United States Army Veterinary Service in World War II United States.
