Berkowitz University of Missouri St. Louis THE OVERLOOKED INEQUITY Eric Schaps The Journal of Character Education is the only professional journal in education devoted to character education It is designed to cover the field from the latest research to applied best practices We include original research reports editorials and conceptual articles by the best minds in our field reviews of the latest books and other relevant strategies and manuscripts by educators that describe best practices in teaching and learning related to character education The Journal of Character Education has for over a decade been the sole scholarly journal focused on research theory measurement and practice of character education In this issue of the Journal of Character Education we return to something foundational and introduce something new The foundational element is a set of six independent scholarly manuscripts by a mix of emerging and established scholars We are pleased to introduce a new feature of the Journal of Character Education in this issue namely a section we are calling simply Opinion We began the JCE with an exclusive focus on publishing scholarship because there was no scholarly journal that focused on character education Over time we realized that we wanted to speak about practice and particularly to practitioners as well Hence we created a section we call Voices to present innovations and perspectives representing the voices of exemplary practitioners of character education Now we introduce the Opinion section that will allow us to publish perspectives from leading authorities in the field that might be more provocative We would love to hear responses to either or both opinion articles and are working on plans to share such responses perhaps on one of our related websites At this point we plan on publishing more opinion articles and for now by invitation However we are always willing to consider unsolicited articles for possible inclusion in the JCE

Handbook of Positive Psychology in Schools Michael J. Furlong, Richard Gilman, E. Scott Huebner, 2009-03-04 National surveys consistently reveal that an inordinate number of students report high levels of boredom anger and stress in school which often leads to their disengagement from critical learning and social development If the ultimate goal of schools is to educate young people to become responsible and critically thinking citizens who can succeed in life understanding factors that stimulate them to become active agents in their own learning is critical A new field labeled positive psychology is one lens that can be used to investigate factors that facilitate a student's sense of agency and active school engagement The purposes of this groundbreaking Handbook are to 1 describe ways that positive emotions traits and institutions promote school achievement and healthy social emotional development 2 describe how specific positive psychological constructs relate to students and schools and support the delivery of school based services and 3 describe the application of positive psychology to educational policy making By doing so the book provides a long needed centerpiece around which the field can continue to grow in an organized and interdisciplinary manner Key features include Comprehensive this book is the first to provide a comprehensive review of what is known about positive psychological constructs and the school experiences of children and youth Topical coverage ranges from conceptual foundations to assessment and intervention issues to service delivery models Intrapersonal factors e.g. hope life satisfaction and interpersonal factors e.g. positive peer and family relationships are examined as is classroom and school level influences e.g. student teacher and school community relations Interdisciplinary

Focus this volume brings together the divergent perspectives methods and findings of a broad interdisciplinary community of scholars whose work often fails to reach those working in contiguous fields Chapter Structure to insure continuity flow and readability chapters are organized as follows overview research summary relationship to student development examples of real world applications and a summarizing table showing implications for future research and practice Methodologies chapters feature longitudinal studies person centered approaches experimental and quasi experimental designs and mixed methods
