Orientation to Preschool Assessment Thomas McMurrain, Marsha Kaufman, Adrienne Garcia, 1979      Preschool Assessment Marla R. Brassard, Ann E. Boehm, 2011-06-08 Comprehensive and user friendly this ideal professional reference and graduate text provides a developmentally informed framework for assessing 3 to 6 year olds in accordance with current best practices and IDEA 2004 guidelines The authors are leading clinician researchers who take the reader step by step through selecting appropriate measures integrating data from a variety of sources and using the results to plan and evaluate effective interventions and learning experiences Coverage encompasses screening and assessment of cognitive linguistic emotional and behavioral difficulties including mental retardation and autism Case studies illustrate key facets of assessing diverse children and families appendices offer concise reviews of over 100 instruments      Orientation to preschool assessment Thomas McMurrain, 1979      Stakeholders' Perspectives on Assessment and Improvement of Quality in Early Childhood Education and Care: A World-Wide Kaleidoscope Antonia Elisabeth Enikoe Baumeister, Hui Li, Linda Joan Harrison, 2024-08-29 The key aims of early childhood education and care ECEC are to offer children from all social backgrounds a good start in their lives to support parenting as well as families workforce participation and thereby to sustainably strengthen the national economy over current and future generations High quality ECEC has been shown to improve child outcomes and be a buffer against developmental risk factors For these reasons governments ECEC providers and researchers are placing an increasing focus on the frameworks and systems that underpin quality as well as the measures that assess quality At the same time however research on ECEC as a multidisciplinary endeavor has shown that the aims and benefits of high quality ECEC can only be reached when all stakeholders needs are acknowledged and sufficiently met For example recent evidence suggests that the acceptability and social validity of quality assessment and improvement methods are contested among some stakeholders and thus the sustainability of these quality efforts may be in doubt New challenges also include the ever changing nature and circumstances affecting ECEC stakeholders for example the greater flows of refugee families and the impact of the Covid 19 pandemic This Frontiers Research Topic will contribute to an updated knowledge base in order to inform governments providers and the scientific community about best practices and new solutions for conceptualizing measuring and improving ECEC quality The aim of the proposed Research Topic is to generate a worldwide kaleidoscope of research studies that explore and discuss models for gathering the perspectives of multiple stakeholders and considering the meaningfulness of stakeholder views for conceptualizing assessing and improving quality in ECEC We believe that greater attention needs to be given to the diversity of stakeholders who are invested in ECEC including government regulatory authorities service providers educators families communities and children We also believe that wide ranging stakeholder input will generate innovative methods for assessing and improving quality that keep pace with our rapidly changing information society Two further foci are set on ECEC practices 1 that support participation diversity and inclusion of all children and families and 2 that are suitable for developing countries and diverse populations within countries In this the focus is not only on best practices but also on the limitations of practices In soliciting research articles on ECEC stakeholder perspectives we describe stakeholders as inclusive of government non government regulatory agencies service providers teachers and caregivers families communities and children Themes of interest include but are not limited to Assessment of quality in ECEC including self assessment approaches The design of and use of quality frameworks in ECEC Effects of quality and of quality improvement on children and families Drivers and indicators of quality improvement Acceptance and sustainability of quality efforts among ECEC stakeholders Policy expectations of quality rating and improvement systems e g funding policy The role of teacher and caregiver professionalization All types of center based and home based ECEC We are interested both in quantitative and qualitative research designs as well as in mixed methods research Cross sectional longitudinal quasi experimental and case study designs are welcome The following article types are welcome original research empirical studies systematic reviews community case studies policy briefs articles and brief research reports

Sensory-Motor Organizations and Development in Infancy and Early Childhood H. Bloch, B.I. Bertenthal, 2012-12-06 This book is the outcome of a Nato Workshop held in France in July 1989 The workshop was organized to examine current ideas about sensory motor organizations during human infancy and their development through early childhood The study of sensory motor development is experiencing a profound shift in scope focus methodology and theoretical foundations Many of these changes are quite new and not yet well covered in the literature We thought it would be useful for some of the leading researchers in this field to convene together and to compare notes and collectively to establish future directions for the field The reasons for a new conceptualization of sensory motor development are no doubt numerous but three are especially significant 1 One concerns a shift from studying either sensory or motor processing to investigation of the relations between the two 2 The second is connected to the new emphasis on action and its implications for goal directed and intentional behaviour extending over time 3 Lastly new theories and methodologies provide access to new tools for studying and conceptualizing the developmental process 1 One of the most enduring legacies of the behaviorist perspective has been a focus on the stimulus and the response to the exclusion of the relation between them Pick 1989 Historically this bias translated into a research agenda in which the investigator was concerned with either perceptual or motor competence but rarely the relation between them Resources in Education ,1998 Collaborative Assessment

Stephen A. Goodman, Stuart H. Wittenstein, 2003 Collaborative Assessment is designed to help all professionals who work with visually impaired students understand the impact of visual impairment on assessing students learning potential Written by the expert assessment team at the California School for the Blind this book focuses on evaluating students in a variety of areas including psychology speech and language orientation and mobility and technology and provides a framework for developing a cooperative interactive team of professionals from a variety of disciplines to achieve accurate evaluation of the needs and strengths of students School psychologists speech and language pathologists administrators teachers and parents will find this book invaluable Includes helpful forms and checklists and annotated lists of assessments in each area
