Wolf, 1992-05-19 The present volume is an intellectual agglomeration covering a variety of topics in diagenesis It starts with the diagenesis of marine pore waters and soft sediment deformations followed by two chapters on sandstones one on climatic influence in terrestrial sandstone diagenesis and the other on the deep sea volcanoclastic sandstones Diagenesis of carbonates is treated next with one chapter on compactional diagenesis and another devoted to a case study Aymestry Limestone Beds UK There are two chapters on the origin and migration of oil a maturation of organic matter and b relation of diagenesis to mineralization and hydrocarbon reservoir development followed by a chapter on sedimentary ore genesis banded iron formation In conclusion there are two chapters on paleosols This book will be of interest to geologists geochemists and petroleum engineers Dynamical Geology of Salt and Related Structures I. Lerche, 2017-09-29 Dynamical Geology of Salt and Related Structures deals with many aspects of the dynamical evolution of salt bodies in sedimentary basins This book consists of four major sections Section A deals with salt dynamics and the motion of salt The impact of a mobile salt mass on the structural development of the overlying formations is considered in Section B while the development of caprock which is commonly found overlying salt diapirs is emphasized in Section C The last section deliberates the interrelationships between fluid flow salt dissolution and heat flow in the vicinity of a salt diapir including the connections with maturation of source rocks migration and trapping of hydrocarbons in salt related structures This publication is valuable to professional geoscientists interested in processes involved in salt dynamics Evaporites, Petroleum and Mineral Resources J.L. Melvin, 1991-04-05 This volume illustrates the expanding knowledge of evaporites as important reservoir seals fluid aquitards ore hosting sediments and economically viable sediments in their own right Researchers oil and gas professionals minerals resource professionals environmental specialists and others within geology and the other earth sciences shall utilize the information within this book in their understanding of the many recent discoveries and concepts involved in the field of evaporite sedimentology Diagenesis, II G.V. Chilingarian, K.H. Wolf, 1988-12-01 Diagenesis is a highly developed interdisciplinary field of study It is reciprocal in that it borrows from numerous scientific or technological specialties and then in turn repays them with useful results Too often however the information gained and concepts developed remain unintegrated instead of being utilized quickly by several related earth science fraternities This volume the second of a multi volume work attempts to bring together such information thereby assisting the individual and the research group in keeping up with the data explosion There is no end in sight to diagenetic research because of its wide practical and intellectual appeals Consequently periodic reviews such as presented in this volume are greatly needed Oakwood Salt Dome, East Texas Alice Burns Giles, Debra H. Diagenesis and Burial History of the Lower Cretaceous Travis Peak Formation, East Texas S. P. Dutton, 1987

Petrographic and geochemical studies were used to determine the diagenetic and burial history of Travis Peak sandstones in East Texas and to relate the diagenesis to permeability variations within the formation. Permeability in much of the formation has been reduced to less than 0.1 md by compaction cementation and minor pressure solution. Travis Peak sandstone is quartzarenite and subarkose having an average composition Q95F4R1. The first authigenic cements to precipitate were illite which coated detrital grains with tangentially oriented crystals and dolomite. Next extensive quartz cement averaging 17% of the rock volume in well sorted sandstone occluded much of the primary porosity. Quartz is most abundant in the lower Travis Peak in well connected sandstone beds that were deposited in braided streams. Dissolution of orthoclase and albitization of plagioclase followed quartz cementation and occurred prior to mid Cretaceous movement of the Sabine Uplift. Illite chlorite and ankerite precipitated after feldspar diagenesis. Oil migrated into Travis Peak reservoirs in the Late Cretaceous from Jurassic source rocks. Later deasphalting of the oil filled much of the remaining porosity in some zones near the top of the formation with reservoir bitumen. Geological Circular ,2000 Bibliography of Studies for the Salt Repository Project, Office of the Civilian Radioactive Waste Management Program, April, 1978-July, 1985 ,1985 Mississippi Geology ,1987 Developments in Sedimentology Judith L.
