A Poetry of Two Minds Sherod Santos, 2000 In his long awaited first book of prose poet and essayist Sherod Santos takes a compelling look into some of poetry's deepest secrets an investigation that leads him to the surprising conclusion that poems have minds of their own minds often inaccessible even to the one who composed them In these essays Santos explores not only what he thinks about poetry but also what and how poetry thinks about itself His writings range across the history of Western poetry from formative classical myths to modern experimental forms and touch on subjects as diverse as the rhetorical history of cannibalism the political and cultural uses of translation and the current state of American poetry Along the way he calls on past poets like Ovid Baudelaire and Phyllis Wheatley on twentieth century poets like Wallace Stevens H D and Rainer Maria Rilke and on writers and thinkers like Montaigne Walter Benjamin Simone Weil and Paul de Man These essays explore facets of poetry known best to one who has practiced the art for years From the methods of poetic attention to the processes by which perception is transformed into language and from the illusive relationship between poetry and meaning to the integral relationship between poetry and memory this collection delves into what it means to be a poet and how being a poet is intimately tied to one's social and cultural moment With Santos's trademark flair for seeking out the overlooked and unforeseeable A Poetry of Two Minds is an extraordinary collection that testifies to its author's far reaching intellectual curiosity Readers who have delighted in his insights over the years can now have the satisfaction of having them caught between the covers of this provocative book
