Orthodox Alaska A Theology Of Mission:

Orthodox Alaska Michael Oleksa, 1992 Mission from the Perspective of the Other Tim Noble, 2018-08-30 Christian mission involves God the missionary and the other the recipient of mission This book argues for the centrality of this other in the practice of mission The other as child of God is presented not as an empty vessel waiting to be filled but as the one who draws near to the missionary Both are sent by God and together they enter into the journey towards God Drawing on Scripture contemporary missiology and phenomenology the book argues for the importance of this often neglected other and demonstrates through historical case studies involving Saint Ignatius of Loyola William Carey and Saint Innocent of Alaska that the recognition of the gift of the other has always been present in Christian mission and can continue to inspire The Blackwell Companion to Religion in America Philip Goff, 2010-03-25 This authoritative and cutting edge companion brings together a team of leading scholars to document the rich diversity and unique viewpoints that have formed the religious history of the United States A groundbreaking new volume which represents the first sustained effort to fully explain the development of American religious history and its creation within evolving political and social frameworks Spans a wide range of traditions and movements from the Baptists and Methodists to Buddhists and Mormons Explores topics ranging from religion and the media immigration and piety though to politics and social reform Considers how American religion has influenced and been interpreted in literature and popular culture Provides insights into the historiography of religion but presents the subject as a story in motion rather than a snapshot of where the field is at a given moment Russians in Alaska, 1732-1867 Lydia Black, 2004 This definitive work the crown jewel in the distinguished career of Russian America scholar Lydia T Black presents a comprehensive overview of the Russian presence in Alaska Drawing on extensive archival research and employing documents only recently made available to scholars Black shows how Russian expansion was the culmination of centuries of social and economic change Black's work challenges the standard perspective on the Russian period in Alaska as a time of unbridled exploitation of Native inhabitants and natural resources Without glossing over the harsher aspects of the period Black acknowledges the complexity of relations between Russians and Native peoples She chronicles the lives of ordinary men and women the merchants and naval officers laborers and clergy who established Russian outposts in Alaska These early colonists carried with them the Orthodox faith and the Russian language their legacy endures in architecture and place names from Baranof Island to the Pribilofs This deluxe volume features fold out maps and color illustrations of rare paintings and sketches from Russian American Japanese and European sources many have never before been published An invaluable source for historians and anthropologists this accessible volume brings to life a dynamic period in Russian and Alaskan history A tribute to Black's life as a scholar and educator Russians in Alaska will become a classic in the field Alaskan Missionary Spirituality Michael Oleksa, 1987 Collection of documents illustrating the spirituality of the Alaskan orthodox missionaries Includes letters of St Herman writings of St Innocent reports from lesser known parish clergy and diary excerpts Introduced by an informative historical essay The Pragmatics of Defining Religion Jan G. Platvoet, Arie Leendert Molendijk, 1999 The Pragmatics of Defining Religion is a multidisciplinary volume on the problem of the definition of religion with chapters on the polemics of defining religion in modern contexts the history of the concept of religion the methodology of its definition it includes several definition proposals The Invention of God in Indigenous Societies James Cox, 2014-09-19 Indigenous societies around the world have been historically disparaged by European explorers colonial officials and Christian missionaries Nowhere was this more evident than in early descriptions of indigenous religions as savage primitive superstitious and fetishistic Liberal intellectuals both indigenous and colonial reacted to this by claiming that before indigenous peoples ever encountered Europeans they all believed in a Supreme Being The Invention of God in Indigenous Societies argues that by alleging that God can be located at the core of pre Christian cultures this claim effectively invents a tradition which only makes sense theologically if God has never left himself without a witness Examining a range of indigenous religions from North America Africa and Australasia the Shona of Zimbabwe the Rainbow Spirit Theology in Australia the Yupiit of Alaska and the M ori of New Zealand the book argues that the interests of indigenous societies are best served by carefully describing their religious beliefs and practices using historical and phenomenological methods just as would be done in the study of any world religion Of Religion and Empire Robert P. Geraci, Michael Khodarkovsky, 2001 This book is the first to investigate the role of religious conversion in the long history of Russian state building with geographic coverage from Poland and European Russia to the Caucasus Central Asia Siberia and Alaska Missiologial Education for the Twenty-first Century J. Dudley Woodberry, Charles E. Van Engen, Edgar J. Elliston, 2005-06-07 Thoughtful and original contributions from twenty one of the world s foremost missiologists in a volume dedicated to Fuller Seminary s former dean Paul E Pierson outline an agenda for mission education that will provoke lively discussion for years to come Fuller Theological Seminary s School of World Mission is the locus of some of the most creative thought and scholarly reflection on Christian mission in today s world Edited by the School s dean and two professors a score of authors respond to the question How should missiologial education be carried out to prepare men and women to work in the twenty first century Contributors Andrew F Walls Gerald H Anderson Paul G Hiebert Kenneth Mulholland L Grant McClung Jerald D Gort Mary Motte Michael James Oleksa Tite Tienou Samuel Escobar Ken R Gnanakan Wilbert R Shenk Darrell Whiteman Roger S Greenway Philip C Stine Stuart Dauermann Ralph D Winter J Dudley Woodberry Viggo Sogaard Charles Van Engen Edgar J Elliston Russian America Ilya Vinkovetsky, 2011-04-06 Interpreting Russia s nineteenth century colonial system in Alaska Russian America looks at how the Russians governed the indigenous people of their American colony and the ways in which they drew upon their experience in Siberia and other imperial models The Archaeology of Capitalism in Colonial Contexts Sarah K. Croucher, Lindsay Weiss, 2011-08-10 The Archaeology of Capitalism in Colonial Contexts Postcolonial Historical Archaeologies explores the complex interplay of colonial and capital formations throughout the modern world The authors present a critical approach to this topic trying to shift discourses in the theoretical framework of historical archaeology of capitalism and colonialism through the use of postcolonial theory This work does not suggest a new theoretical framework as such but rather suggests the importance of revising key theoretical terms employed within historical archaeology arguing for new engagements with postcolonial theory of relevance to all historical archaeologists as the field de centers from its traditional locations Examining case studies from North America South America the Caribbean Africa Australia the Middle East and Europe the chapters offer an unusually broad ranging geography of historical archaeology with each focused on the interplay between the particularisms of colonial structures and the development of capitalism and wider theoretical discussions Every author also draws attention to the ramifications of their case studies in the contemporary world With its cohesive theoretical framework this volume is a key resource for those interested in decolonizing historical archaeology in theory and praxis and for those interested in the development of modern global dynamics

Myth and Memory John Sutton Lutz, 2011-11-01 The moment of contact between two peoples two alien societies marks the opening of an epoch and the joining of histories What if it had happened differently The stories that indigenous peoples and Europeans tell about their first encounters with one another are enormously valuable historical records but their relevance extends beyond the past Settler populations and indigenous peoples the world over are engaged in negotiations over legitimacy power and rights These struggles cannot be dissociated from written and oral accounts of contact moments which not only shape our collective sense of history but also guide our understanding of current events For all their importance contact stories have not been systematically or critically evaluated as a genre Myth and Memory explores the narratives of indigenous and newcomer populations from New Zealand and across North America from the Lost Colony of Roanoke on the Atlantic seaboard of the United States to the Pacific Northwest and as far as Sitka Alaska It illustrates how indigenous and explorer accounts of the same meetings reflect fundamentally different systems of thought and focuses on the cultural misunderstandings embedded in these stories The contributors discuss the contemporary relevance production and performance of Aboriginal and European contact narratives and introduce new tools for interpreting the genre They argue that we are still in the contact zone striving to understand the meaning of contact and the relationship between indigenous and settler populations in Hong Kong Loretta E. Kim, Chengyi Zhou, 2021-08-23 Hong Kong has been a unique society from its establishment as a political region separate from mainland China in the nineteenth century under British colonial rule until the present day as a special administrative region of the People's Republic of China A hub of interregional and international migration it has been the temporary and long term home of people belonging to many racial ethnic and cultural groups This book examines the evolution of the community established by clergy and congregants of the Russian Orthodox Church This community was first developed in the 1930s and then revived after a hiatus of over two decades from the 1970s to the 1990s with the founding of the Orthodox Parish of Apostles Saints Peter and Paul OPASPP at the turn of the twenty first century This study demonstrates how the OPASPP has become a vital provider of knowledge about Russian language and culture as well as a religious institution serving both heritage and convert believers The community formed by and around the OPASPP is important to foster Sino Russian relations based on individual to individual contact and mutual exposure to Chinese and Russian cultures in a region of China which allows spiritual and social diversity with minimal political constraints Kodiak Kreol Gwenn A. Miller, 2016-01-21 From the 1780s to the 1820s Kodiak Island the first capital of Imperial Russia's only overseas colony was inhabited by indigenous Alutiiq people and colonized by Russians Together they established an ethnically mixed kreol community Against the backdrop of the fur trade the missionary work of the Russian Orthodox Church and competition among Pacific colonial powers Gwenn A Miller brings to light the social political and economic patterns of life in the settlement making clear that Russia's modest colonial effort off the Alaskan coast fully depended on the assistance of Alutiiq people In this context Miller argues the relationships that developed between Alutiiq women and Russian men were critical keys to the initial success of Russia's North Pacific venture Although Russia's Alaskan enterprise began some two centuries after other European powers Spain England Holland and France started to colonize North America many aspects of the contacts between Russians and Alutiiq people mirror earlier colonial episodes adaptation to alien environments the discovery and exploitation of natural resources complicated relations between indigenous peoples and colonizing Europeans attempts by an imperial state to moderate those relations and a web of Christianizing practices Russia's Pacific colony however was founded on the cusp of modernity at the intersection of earlier New World forms of colonization and the bureaucratic age of high empire Miller's attention to the coexisting intimacy and violence of human connections on Kodiak offers new insights into the nature of colonialism in a little known American outpost of European imperial power
