Race Class And Power:

Race, Class, and Power, 1968 In Their Own Interests Earl Lewis, 1991 Since the Civil War African Americans have made great efforts to empower themselves Focusing on Norfolk Virginia Earl Lewis shows how blacks have had to balance competing inclinations for conscious inaction and purposeful agitation as they sought to promote their own interests at home and in the workplace In Their Own Interests presents a cross section of southern urban blacks the power brokers and lesser knowns Garvey followers and communist enthusiasts who came to live in Norfolk between the Civil War and the Civil Rights Movement Lewis seeks to recreate the texture of African American life by examining the lives of the people after they moved to the city the jobs and assistance they secured the houses families and institutions they built the battles they waged and the culture they shared In Their Own Interests moves African American urban and social history beyond the current intellectual crossroads Drawing on a variety of sources Lewis tells the interconnected story of race class and power in twentieth century Norfolk His study has far reaching implications and should be of wide interest RACE, CLASS, and POWER Raymond W. Mack, 1963 Race, Class, and Power in the Alabama Coalfields, 1908-21 Brian Kelly, 2001 In this lucid and supremely readable study Brian Kelly challenges the prevailing notion that white workers were the main source of resistance to racial equality in the Jim Crow South Kelly explores the forces that brought the black and white miners of Birmingham Alabama together during the hard fought strikes of 1908 and 1920 He examines the systematic efforts by the region s powerful industrialists to foment racial divisions as a means of splitting the workforce preventing unionization and holding wages to the lowest levels in the country He also details the role played by Birmingham s small but influential black middle class whose espousal of industrial accommodation outraged black miners and revealed significant tensions within the African American community Race, Class, Power, and Organizing in East Baltimore Marisela B. Gomez, 2013 This book examines the historical and current practices of rebuilding abandoned and disinvested communities in America Using a community in East Baltimore as an example Race Class Power and Organizing in East Baltimore shows how the social structure of race and class segregation of the past contributed in the creation of our present day urban poor and low income communities of color and continue to affect the way we rebuild these communities today Specific to East Baltimore is the presence of a powerful and prestigious medical complex which has directly and indirectly affected the abandonment and rebuilding of East Baltimore While it has grown in power and land over the past 100 years the neighborhoods around it have decreased in size and capital widening the gap between the rich and the poor The author offers a critical analysis of the relationships between powerful private institutions like the Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions and government and their intention in rebuilding urban communities by asking the question How do we determine equity in benefit Focusing on a current rebuilding project using eminent domain to displace historical African American communities and the acquiring of land for private development this book details the role of community organizing in challenging these types of non community participatory rebuilding processes resulting in the gentrification of urban neighborhoods The detailed analysis of the community organizing process when families are displaced offers similarly affected communities a tool box for challenging current developers and government in unfair rebuilding practices The context of these practices highlights the current laws and policies that contribute to continued displacement and disadvantage to poor communities without addressing the rhetoric of the intention of government subsidized private development This book examines the effect of such non participatory and non transparent rebuilding practices on the health of the people and place Race, class, and power ... [Compiled by] Raymond W. Mack. (Second edition.). Raymond Wright MACK,1968 Orpheus and Power Michael G. Hanchard,1998-10-19 From recent data on disparities between Brazilian whites and non whites in areas of health education and welfare it is clear that vast racial inequalities do exist in Brazil contrary to earlier assertions in race relations scholarship that the country is a racial democracy Here Michael George Hanchard explores the implications of this increasingly evident racial inequality highlighting Afro Brazilian attempts at mobilizing for civil rights and the powerful efforts of white elites to neutralize such attempts Within a neo Gramscian framework Hanchard shows how racial hegemony in Brazil has hampered ethnic and racial identification among non whites by simultaneously promoting racial discrimination and false premises of racial equality Drawing from personal archives of and interviews with participants in the Movimento Negro of Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo Hanchard presents a wealth of empirical evidence about Afro Brazilian militants comparing their effectiveness with their counterparts in sub Saharan Africa the United States and the Caribbean in the post World War II period He analyzes in comprehensive detail the extreme difficulties experienced by Afro Brazilian activists in identifying and redressing racially specific patterns of violation and discrimination Hanchard argues that the Afro American struggle to subvert dominant cultural forms and practices carries the danger of being subsumed by the contradictions that these dominant forms produce

Diamonds in the Rough James Sanders Day, 2013-06-24 Diamonds in the Rough reconstructs the historical moment that defined the Cahaba Coal Field a mineral rich area that stretches across sixty seven miles and four counties of central Alabama Combining existing written sources with oral accounts and personal recollections James Sanders Day s Diamonds in the Rough describes the numerous coal operations in this region later overshadowed by the rise of the Birmingham district and the larger Warrior Field to the north Many of the capitalists are the same Truman H Aldrich Henry F DeBardeleben and James W Sloss among others however the plethora of small independent enterprises properties of the coal itself and technological considerations distinguish the Cahaba from other Alabama coal fields Relatively short lived the Cahaba coal mining operation spanned from discovery in the 1840s through development boom and finally bust in the mid 1950s Day considers the chronological discovery mapping mining and marketing of the field s coal as well as the issues of convict leasing town development welfare capitalism and unionism weaving it all into a rich tapestry At the heart of the story are the diverse people who lived and worked in the district whether operator or miner management or labor union or nonunion white or black immigrant or native who left a legacy for posterity now captured in Diamonds in the Rough Largely obscured today by pine trees and kudzu the mining districts of the Cahaba Coal Field forever influenced the lives of countless individuals and families and ultimately contributed to the whole fabric of the state of Alabama Winner of the 2014 Clinton Jackson Coley Award for Best Work on Alabama Local History from the Alabama Historical Association

Crime, Inequality and Power Eileen B. Leonard, 2015-04-10 Crime Inequality and Power challenges the dominant definitions of crime and the criminal through its uniquely comparative approach In this book Eileen Leonard analyzes multiple forms of criminal behavior in the United States including violence sexual assault theft and drug law violations whilst also asking readers to consider the parallels between crimes that are rarely thought comparable Leonard s juxtaposition of familiar street crimes such as car theft alongside large scale corporate theft vividly exposes profound inequalities in the way crime is defined and the treatment it receives within the criminal justice system Leonard s analysis also reveals the underlying inequalities of race class and gender which enable the perpetuation of such crimes as well as calling into question the reality of fundamental American ideals of fairness and equal justice Moreover the book questions whether current policies that punish street crime excessively while minimizing the crimes of the powerful fail to keep the public safe A broader consideration of crime and the inequalities that underlie it offers a fresh opportunity to rethink public policies and enduring issues of crime and criminal justice Challenging the many persistent inequalities in the perception of and response to crime this critique of American crime and punishment will be of interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as scholars in the fields of criminology sociology and law
