John Pope - Failure At Second Battle Of Bull Run LCDR Daniel B. Morio USN, 2015-11-06 Was the failure of the Army of Virginia at the Second Battle of Bull Run a result of General John Pope being a failure as a leader or were there other circumstances that helped him in his loss General Pope had a long career in the Army that to the Second Battle of Bull Run had gone well Pope had distinguished himself in the Mexican American War and had done well early on in the western theater of operations during the Civil War With his assumption of command in northern Virginia Pope entered a realm in which he was unfamiliar not welcomed by the troops he led and out of his league with regards to the Confederate leaders arrayed against him Pope's paranoia regarding commanders who had come from General George McClellan's Army of the Potomac resulted in a lack of trust in first hand accounts from senior officers as well as intelligence presented This lack of trust resulted in his disregarding the fact that General Lee and Longstreet had moved 25 000 Confederate soldiers through Thoroughfare Gap and combined forces with General Jackson and deployed them along the right flank of Jackson's forces and perpendicular to

Pope's force This force then proceeded to assail the Union flank to nearly disastrous proportions The fog of war has clouded the judgment of many generals throughout history and Pope was no exception The fog of war negatively affected his imagination and ability to think critically throughout the battle

This Great Struggle Steven E. Woodworth,2011-04-16 Referring to the war that was raging across parts of the American landscape Abraham Lincoln told Congress in 1862 We shall nobly save or meanly lose the last best hope on earth Lincoln recognized what was at stake in the American Civil War not only freedom for 3 5 million slaves but also survival of self government in the last place on earth where it could have the opportunity of developing freely Noted historian Steven E Woodworth tells the story of what many regard as the defining event in United States history While covering all theaters of war he emphasizes the importance of action in the region between the Appalachians and the Mississippi River in determining its outcome Woodworth argues that the Civil War had a distinct purpose that was understood by most of its participants it was primarily a conflict over the issue of slavery The soldiers who filled the ranks of the armies on both sides knew what they were fighting for The outcome of the war after its beginnings at Fort Sumter to the Confederate surrender four years later was the result of the actions and decisions made by those soldiers and millions of other Americans Written in clear and compelling fashion This Great Struggle is their story and ours
