observes in her introduction a number of the stories in this collection involve mysteries perhaps because photography has a capacity for both documentary reality and moral and psychological ambiguity Many nineteenth century writers represented here including Thomas Hardy and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle helped make short fiction as respectable as the novel Some of them were even serious photographers themselves The twentieth century is arguably a golden age for both the short story and photography This collection includes examples from a worldly group of writer Eug ne Ionesco Julio Cort zar Michel Tournier and Italo Calvino as well as the Chinese writer Bing Xin and John Updike Cynthia Ozick and Raymond Carver In this wide range of stories varying from sentimental to obsessive to sinister to tragic and even fatal the reader will find provocative examples of the confluence of the short story and photography both once considered the bastard stepchildren of literature and art

text this book will serve as a benchmark for future studies of photography in Latin America      History and Modern Media
 John Mraz, 2021-04-15 In History and Modern Media John Mraz largely focuses on Mexican photography and his innovative methodology that examines historical photographs by employing the concepts of genre and function He developed this method in extensive work on photojournalism it is tested here through examining two genres Indianist imagery as an expression of imperial neo colonizing and decolonizing photography and progressive photography as embodied in worker and laborist imagery as well as feminist and decolonizing visuality The book interweaves an autobiographical narrative with concrete research Mraz describes the resistance he encountered in US academia to this new way of showing and describing the past in films and photographs as well as some illuminating experiences as a visiting professor at several US universities More importantly he reflects on what it has meant to move to Mexico and become a Mexican Mexico is home to a thriving school of photohistorians perhaps unequaled in the world Some were trained in art history and a few continue to pursue that discipline However the great majority work from the discipline known as photohistory which focuses on vernacular photographs made outside of artistic intentions A central premise of the book is that knowing the cultures of the past and of the other is crucial in societies dominated by short term and parochial thinking and that today's hyper audiovisuality requires historians to use modern media to offer their knowledge as alternatives to the perpetual present in which we live

Photographs Sotheby's (Firm), 2004      Seeing Mexico Photographed Leonard Folgarait, 2008 This engrossing book presents the photographs of four historically engaged artists and explains what they reveal about the highly dramatic revolutionary and post revolutionary period in Mexico from 1910 to 1935 The works of these photographers American Walter H Horne Italian Tina Modotti and Mexicans Agustín Víctor Casasola and Manuel Álvarez Bravo are discussed not just as windows onto events but as artworks that offer both objective reporting and stylized expression The twenty five years covered in the book encompass some of the most convulsive developments in Mexico from the violence and cataclysmic changes wrought by the Mexican Revolution to the immense struggles to forge a new nation and a new government During this period the work of the four photographers two primarily documentary one propagandistic and one artistic and personal enabled Mexicans to understand the forces that had brought their nation to armed conflict and social transformation      A
