in the Air Max Elbaum, 2018-04-10 The first in depth study of the long march of the US New Left after 1968 The sixties were a time when radical movements learned to embrace twentieth century Marxism Revolution in the Air is the definitive study of this turning point and examines what the resistance of today can learn from the legacies of Lenin Mao and Che It tells the story of the new communist movement which was the most racially integrated and fast growing movement on the Left Thousands of young activists radicalized by the Vietnam War and Black Liberation and spurred on by the Puerto Rican Chicano and Asian American movements embraced a Third World oriented version of Marxism These admirers of Mao Che and Amilcar Cabral organized resistance to the Republican majorities of Nixon and Ford By the 1980s these groups had either collapsed or become tiny shards of the dream of a Maoist world revolution Taking issue with the idea of a division between an early good sixties and a later bad sixties Max Elbaum is particularly concerned to reclaim the lessons of the new communist movement for today's activists who like their sixties predecessors are coming of age at a time when the Left lacks mass support and is fragmented along racial lines With a new foreword by Alicia Garza cofounder of BlackLivesMatter

Imperialism and Resistance John Rees, 2006-09-27 A unique critique of the new economic and military imperialism of the United States and its allies in the twenty first century Inspired by the anti globalization and anti war movements in which the author himself has played a crucial role this is also an accessible introduction to the huge changes in global politics since the dominance of the American Empire with the end of the Cold War It covers the key areas of the nature of the new imperialism the economic power of the US globalization and inequality wars in the post Cold War era oil and empire resisting the new imperialism This lively provocative and practical book is an essential guide to the politics of the new world order which also offers constructive suggestions on how the global resistance movement should develop It is important new reading for activists students and all those wanting to understand and challenge the new imperialism Multimedia and Interactive Digital TV Margherita Pagani,2003-01-01 Addressing the issues that managers in the multimedia industry have confronted while developing and implementing this innovative technology this book focuses on the latest research and findings in digital television technologies Covered are the major issues surrounding digital convergence including the digital metamarket and new digital media devices and their potential for IT convergence at the macro level Also addressed are multimedia and interactive digital television and the economic implications of these technologies Additionally the managerial implications of interactive digital television are covered including branding strategies for digital television channels and the critical role of content media management Asia's Unknown Uprisings Volume 2 George Katsiaficas,2013-04-01 Ten years in the making this magisterial work the second of a two volume study provides a unique perspective on uprisings in nine Asian nations in the past five decades While the 2011 Arab Spring is well known the wave of uprisings that swept Asia in the 1980s remain hardly visible Through a critique of Samuel Huntington's notion of a Third Wave of democratization the author relates Asian uprisings to predecessors in 1968 and shows their subsequent influence on uprisings in Eastern Europe at the end of the 1980s By empirically reconstructing the specific history of each Asian uprising significant insight into major constituencies of change and the trajectories of these societies becomes visible This book provides detailed histories of uprisings in nine places the Philippines Burma Tibet China Taiwan Bangladesh Nepal Thailand and Indonesia as well as introductory and concluding chapters that place them in a global context and analyze them in light of major sociological theories Profusely illustrated with photographs tables graphs and charts it is the definitive and defining work from the eminent participant observer scholar of social movements Ladinos with Ladinos, Indians with Indians René Reeves,2006-05-25 In the late 1830s an uprising of mestizos and Maya destroyed Guatemala's Liberal government for imposing reforms aimed at expanding the state assimilating indigenous peoples and encouraging commercial agriculture Liberal partisans were unable to retake the state until 1871 but after they did they successfully implemented their earlier reform agenda In contrast to the late 1830s they met only sporadic resistance Reeves confronts this paradox of Guatemala's nineteenth century by focusing on the rural folk of the western highlands He links the area of study to the national level in an explicitly comparative enterprise unlike most investigations of Mesoamerican communities He finds that changes in land labor and ethnic politics from the 1840s to the 1870s left popular sectors unwilling or unable to mount a repeat of the earlier anti Liberal mobilization Because of these changes the Liberals of the 1870s and beyond consolidated their hold on power more successfully than their counterparts of the 1830s Ultimately Reeves shows that community politics and regional ethnic tensions were the crucible of nation state formation in nineteenth century Guatemala Entangled Terrains and Identities in Cuba Asa McKercher,Catherine Krull,2019-10-10 Entangled Terrains and Identities in Cuba Memories of Guantánamo explores the challenges and conflicts of life in the transnational spaces between Cuba and the United States by examining the lived experiences of Alberto Jones a first generation black Cuban who worked at the U S naval base at Guant namo Bay Asa McKercher and Catherine Krull take readers on a journey through Jones s life as he crossed the entangled political racial cultural and economic boundaries both in Cuba and living as a black Cuban in central Florida McKercher and Krull argue that Jones s story encapsulates the reality of recent Caribbean and Cuban experiences as they deconstruct the events of his life to reveal the broader cultural and social implications of identity boundaries and belonging throughout Caribbean and Cuban history Beyond the Valley Ramesh Srinivasan,2020-09-01 How to repair the disconnect between designers and users producers and consumers and tech elites and the rest of us toward a more democratic internet In this provocative book Ramesh Srinivasan describes the internet as both an enabler of frictionless efficiency and a dirty tangle of politics economics and other inefficient inharmonious human activities We may love the immediacy of Google search results the convenience of buying from Amazon and the elegance and power of our Apple devices but it s a one way top down process We re not asked for our input or our opinions only for our data The internet is brought to us by wealthy technologists in Silicon Valley and China It s time Srinivasan argues that we think in terms beyond the Valley Srinivasan focuses on the disconnection he sees between designers and users producers and consumers and tech elites and the rest of us The recent Cambridge Analytica and Russian misinformation scandals exemplify the imbalance of a digital world that puts profits before inclusivity and democracy In search of a more democratic internet Srinivasan takes us to the mountains of Oaxaca East and West Africa China Scandinavia North America and elsewhere visiting the design labs of rural low income and indigenous people around the world He talks to a range of high profile public figures including Elizabeth Warren David Axelrod Eric Holder Noam Chomsky Lawrence Lessig and the founders of Reddit as well as community organizers labor leaders and human rights activists To make a better internet Srinivasan says we need a new ethic of diversity openness and inclusivity empowering those now excluded from decisions about how technologies are designed who profits from them and who are surveilled and exploited by them Business, Entrepreneurship and Innovation Toward Poverty Reduction Steven Si,David Ahlstrom,Wei Jiang,John Cullen,2021-07-26 Ways in which poverty can be reduced in both countries and regions through business entrepreneurship and government has been a hot issue for researchers and policymakers in recent years Governments can play an important role in helping the poor people by non profit organizations and others that help to seed business among the poor Businesses increasingly also see the large number of people in severe poverty not only as an issue for social concern but also as a potentially large untapped market of consumers for goods and services Some scholars have called for poverty reduction through entrepreneurship owing to the fact that it can be an efficient path to also change the poor s attitudes and behaviours from a passive mode to a more active mode towards poverty reduction economically and socially In addition the sharing economy brings opportunities where everyone is a micro entrepreneur There is a recognition that these types of entrepreneurship above could offer the greatest single potential means to move individuals out of poverty in the nations and regions in the next 5 10 years This book provides new and valuable analyses of poverty and business entrepreneurship and innovation in current nations and regions including developing and developed countries As business entrepreneurship and innovation can help to generate greater business activity in settings of severe poverty they will help to solve poverty as individuals in severe poverty are able to both generate greater incomes and accumulate greater assets as they participate with large firms in those activities The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Entrepreneurship Regional Development Drafting Instruments and Operations in Four Divisiions ... Nye,2004-09-17 An exploration of the dialogue that emerged after 1776 between different visions of what it meant to use new technologies to transform the land After 1776 the former

American colonies began to reimagine themselves as a unified self created community Technologies had an important role in the resulting national narratives and a few technologies assumed particular prominence Among these were the axe the mill the canal the railroad and the irrigation dam In this book David Nye explores the stories that clustered around these technologies In doing so he rediscovers an American story of origins with America conceived as a second creation built in harmony with God s first creation While mainstream Americans constructed technological foundation stories to explain their place in the New World however marginalized groups told other stories of destruction and loss Native Americans protested the loss of their forests fishermen resisted the construction of dams and early environmentalists feared the exhaustion of resources A water mill could be viewed as the kernel of a new community or as a new way to exploit labor If passengers comprehended railways as part of a larger narrative about American expansion and progress many farmers attacked railroad land grants To explore these contradictions Nye devotes alternating chapters to narratives of second creation and to narratives of those who rejected it Nye draws on popular literature speeches advertisements paintings and many other media to create a history of American foundation stories He shows how these stories were revised periodically as social and economic conditions changed without ever erasing the earlier stories entirely The image of the isolated frontier family carving a homestead out of the wilderness with an axe persists to this day alongside later images and narratives In the book s conclusion Nye considers the relation between these earlier stories and such later American developments as the conservation movement narratives of environmental recovery and the idealization of wilderness
