Lumsden, 2004-07-08 Inez Milholland was the most glamorous suffragist of the 1910s and a fearless crusader for women s rights Moving in radical circles she agitated for social change in the prewar years and she epitomized the independent New Woman of the time Her death at age 30 while stumping for suffrage in California in 1916 made her the sole martyr of the American suffrage movement Her death helped inspire two years of militant protests by the National Woman s Party including the picketing of the White House which led in 1920 to ratification of the 19th Amendment granting women the right to vote Lumsden s study of this colorful and influential figure restores to history an important link between the homebound women of the 19th century and the iconoclastic feminists of the 1970s

Out on Assignment Alice Fahs, 2011-11-17 Out on Assignment illuminates the lives and writings of a lost world of women who wrote for major metropolitan newspapers at the start of the twentieth century Using extraordinary archival research Alice Fahs unearths a richly networked community of female journalists drawn by the hundreds to major cities especially New York from all parts of the United States Newspaper women were part of a wave of women seeking new independent urban lives but they struggled to obtain the newspaper work of their dreams Although some female journalists embraced more adventurous reporting including stunt work and undercover assignments many were relegated to the women s page However these intrepid female journalists made the women s page their own Fahs reveals how their writings including celebrity interviews witty sketches of urban life celebrations of being bachelor girls advice columns and a campaign in support of suffrage had far reaching implications for the creation of new modern public spaces for American women at the turn of the century As observers and actors in a new drama of independent urban life newspaper women used the simultaneously liberating and exploitative nature of their work Fahs argues to demonstrate the power of a public voice both individually and collectively
