Decisionmaking Under Stress Andrew Scobell, 2005 If there is one constant in expert analyses of the history of modern China it is the characterization of a country perpetually in the throes of crises While China at the mid point of the Twenty first Century s first decade is arguably the most secure and stable it has been in more than a century crises continue to emerge with apparent frequency Consequently the study of china s behavior in conditions of tension and stress is of considerable importance to policy makers and analysts around the world The Sino-Vietnamese Approach to

Managing Boundary Disputes Ramses Amer, 2002 The Making of Chinese Foreign and Security Policy in the Era of Reform David M. B. Godwin, 2019-06-18 Complex issues of national security and defense modernization continue to be a major preoccupation of the PRC leadership In the 1970s especially during the second half of that crucial decade critical decisions were made that led to Beijing s alignment with the West against the USSR and a revitalization of its armed forces This book looks at Chi

Horner, 2021-01-26 This book first published in 1981 examines the broader aspects of international strategic relations and analyses Cold War developments within particular nations fields of warfare and areas of political military interaction The role of force in international society changed as the nuclear deadlock between the superpowers continued with military forces being deployed for political purposes in situations only just short of war The balance between NATO and Warsaw Pact forces also changed as American technology increased and short range nuclear missiles were deployed in Europe This book also examines the development of strategic thinking in China Japan and India as well as insurgency in the Third World so often the site for proxy superpower conflict Shaping China's Future In World Affairs

Robert G Sutter, 2019-06-26 This book considers Chinese foreign policy and China's future role in world affairs in the context of the country's recent past. Robert Sutter shows that although it appears to be in U.S. interests for post-Mao leaders to continue moving toward international norms, a post-Deng leadership backed by growing economic and military power and reflecting profound changes in China's economy and society could move in markedly different directions. Most foreign powers appear willing to accommodate China, avoiding actions that could prompt a sharp shift in Chinese foreign policy, but Sutter argues that current U.S. policy intrudes on so many issues that are particularly sensitive for Beijing and for China's future that it represents perhaps the most critical variable determining how China will position itself in world affairs. Concluding that there is no guarantee the United States will use this influence wisely, Sutter examines the uncertainty and unpredictability of U.S. foreign policy in the post-Cold War environment that work against the creation of an effective U.S. policy toward China.
