Trites, 2009-11 Trites argues that Twain and Alcott wrote on similar topics because they were so deeply affected by the Civil War by cataclysmic emotional and financial losses in their families by their cultural immersion in the tenets of Protestant philosophy and by sexual tensions that may have stimulated their interest in writing for adolescents Trites demonstrates how the authors participated in a cultural dynamic that marked the changing nature of adolescence in America provoking a literary sentiment that continues to inform young adult literature Both intuited that the transitory nature of adolescence makes it ripe for expression about human potential for change and reform
