Should The Children Know Encounters With Death In The Lives Of Children:

Should the Children Know? Marguerita Rudolph,1978 Helping Children Cope With Grief Alan

Wolfelt,2013-08-21 First published in 1984 A common myth is that that young children say around three years of age do not understand death or give the death of friend pet brother sister parent grandparent other relative or give it a Raggedy Ann doll meaning However research has indicated that they do If it is difficult for us to think about our death it is the author s hypothesis that to think of the death of our children is an even greater difficulty We dread the thought of our children suffering pain dying and death Similarly the thought of our children suffering grief is difficult for us to comprehend Helping Children Cope With Grief is more universal to more than the area of grief and is a valuable tool for parents teachers and counselors when their goal is to develop happier more loving children

Children and Death Costa Papadatos, Danai Papadatou, 2013-02-01 Selected papers from the 1st International Conference on Children and Death held in October November 1989 in Athens It was attended by over 500 participants from all over the world Childhood and Death Hannelore Wass, Charles A. Corr, 1984 Beyond the Innocence of Childhood David Adams, Eleanor Deveau, 2020-11-25 Death is not a mere possibility but a certainty for all of us Yet today's society

unrealistically portrays childhood as a time of unremittant joy and freedom Unfortunately the reality of life may suddenly bring children face to face with tragic circumstances such as the death of their pet the terminal illness of their parent their own struggle with life threatening disease the accidental death of their sibling or the suicide of a friend The gravity of any of these situations takes children beyond the innocence of childhood and plunges them into a world that is frightening and full of uncertainty Unfortunately our perceptions and attitudes toward death do not equip children with the tools to help them cope adequately with such overwhelming experiences Beyond the Innocence of Childhood is a collection of forty chapters which are divided into three separate volumes The overall purpose of this series is to answer the question How do we as educators clinicians other professionals and parents help children and adolescents deal with threat to their lives dying death and bereavement In this three volume set the editors have brought together a number of well known educators researchers and practitioners who share their knowledge and expertise concerning the care and well being of children and adolescents

SPECIFIC TO VOLUME 1 Children explore the world around them through spontaneous and later structured learning acquire knowledge learn to understand themselves establish their role in the family develop peer and adult relationships and find their place in the world However today s society does not include death as part of this developmental process Unfortunately such avoidance may negatively influence children s ability to acquire an understanding of the concepts of death and to develop positive attitudes toward death Highlights of this section include Answering children s questions Children and death past present and future Gender differences Teachable moments Perceptions of death cognitive development and children s artwork The second part of volume 1 examines influences in today s society that potentially impact on children and adolescents perceptions and attitudes toward life threatening illness and death This volume offers readers valuable insights into the various factors which ultimately affect children s ability to achieve a mature understanding of death Features include the following Violent death in a popular culture and the media Political conflict and war The epidemic of AIDS Cultural differences in the management of life threatening illness Death rituals and funeral ceremonies

Death in the Life of Children Kaoru Yamamoto,1978 Children, Adolescents, and Death Robert G. Stevenson,Gerry R. Cox,2017-02-02 The topic of death and related issues such as grief often begin with questions When the questions come from or are about children or adolescents they bring an additional component the fear some adults have of giving a wrong answer In this context a wrong answer is one that can cause more harm than good for the child or adolescent who asked the question This book provides information that can be used to address the death related questions from children and adolescents It also looks at questions from caring adults about the way children or adolescents view death and the grief that follows a death or any major loss Children Adolescents and Death covers topics that start with early studies of childhood grief and progress to expression of grief in cyberspace There is no one answer to most of the questions in this book There are contributors from a number of continents countries cultures and academic disciplines each of whom brings a unique view of the topic issues they discuss There are presentations of practical interventions that others may copy upon which they can build There are a number of chapters that look at death education in both family and school settings This work contains ideas and techniques that can be of value to parents educators counselors therapists spiritual advisors caring adults and of course will be of the most benefit to those who ask the most questions the children and adolescents themselves Children

Mourning, Mourning Children Kenneth J. Doka, 2014-01-21 Based on the Hospice Foundation of America's second annual teleconference this book explores three basic themes in children's grief Firstly it maintains that children are always developing therefore their understanding of death and their reactions to illness and loss are also multifaceted and constantly undergoing change Secondly children grieve in ways that are both different from and similar to adults While they may need different therapeutic approaches from their elders each loss is different and the grief experience will be affected by many of the same factors that affect adults Thirdly it holds that they need significant support as they grieve Talking to children about loss and illness is too important to wait until a crisis rather it is essential to provide opportunities to discuss loss in times that are not so Emotionally Laden This Book Aims To Demonstrate That Open Communication between parents and children will lead to skills and understanding that are essential to the child for coping with loss and reaffirming that death is part of the process of living Shadows in the Sun Betty Davies, 2015-12-22

Shadows in the Sun covers the immediate short and long term responses and subsequent generational effects of sibling bereavement and discusses sibling responses in the context of the variables which influence them The final chapter synthesizes all that has gone before into a comprehensive model of sibling bereavement Practical guidelines are offered for those who seek to help grieving siblings children and families Loss of the Assumptive World Jeffrey Kauffman, 2013-05-13

The assumptive world concept is a psychological principle of the conservation of human reality or culture it is a lens for seeing the psychological disturbances that occur in times of change In this collection the authors examine the assumptive world from diverse theoretical perspectives providing the reader with an array of different viewpoints illuminating the concept and its clinical usefulness Death and the Life

After Billy Graham, 1994-10 Explores issues of death and afterlife including euthanasia suicide living wills Provides help with comforting those who are facing death planning a funeral and more Coping With Loss Susan Nolen-Hoeksema, Judith

Larson, Judith M. Larson, 2013-01-11 Coping With Loss describes the many ways in which people cope with the death of someone they love Most earlier books on bereavement have fallen into two categories distillations of the clinical experience of individual therapists or collections of chapters reporting the results of empirical studies Each category is valuable but has tended to serve a narrow group of readers practitioners with particular theoretical orientations or researchers in quest of the latest findings Coauthored by a leading research psychologist and an experienced therapist who specializes in bereavement education and intervention this book is different The authors weave together the strands of theory research and clinical wisdom into a seamless and readable narrative While they discuss previous work they also present new data never before published from one of the largest studies of bereaved people ever conducted the Bereavement Coping Project Unlike most studies to date which focused on only one type of bereaved group usually widows or widowers the Bereavement Coping Project examined the experiences of several different groups during the first 18 months after the death The groups included those who had lost a spouse a parent an adult sibling or a child and those who had lost their significant other to cancer or cardiovascular disease on one hand as opposed to the stigmatized disease of AIDS on the other The book begins with a critical overview of theories of bereavement succeeding chapters explore in depth the impact of specific types of loss the impact of particular coping strategies on recovery the impact of social supports and religion and the special cases of children and of people who seem to grow and change for the better after a loss A final chapter considers implications for intervention with bereaved people Each chapter is richly illuminated with real life examples throughout and ends with a section called Voices in which bereaved people describe their various attempts to cope in their own words Insightful and informative A Stepping-stone Year Margaret K. Gooding, 1989 The Crisis Manual for Early Childhood Teachers Karen Miller, 1996 This is the book that covers the really tough problems teachers face divorce death abuse AIDS violence illness and more Children, Young People and Dark Tourism Mary Margaret Kerr, Philip R Stone, Rebecca H. Price, 2022-08-31 This book is the first its kind to offer an innovative examination of the intersecting influences contexts and challenges within the field of children's dark tourism It also outlines novel conceptualizations and methods for scholarship in this overlooked field Presently tourism research and in dark tourism specifically relies primarily on adult centered theories and data collection methods However these approaches are inadequate for understanding and developing children's experiences and perspectives This book seeks to inform and inspire research on children's experiences of dark tourism Designed to appeal to students and scholars it brings together insights from leading experts The book focuses on five themes to explore the conceptual and historic origins of children's dark tourism developmental contexts child perspectives specific contexts relevant to children's encounters and methodological approaches This book is aimed at an international array of scholars and students with inherent research interests in the contemporary commodification of death and difficult heritage within the visitor economy Thus the book will provide a multi disciplinary scope within the fields of history heritage studies childhood studies psychology education sociology human geography and tourism studies The volume is primarily intended for undergraduate and postgraduate study as well as scholars and tourism professionals
