Kershaw, 2013-04-04 In 1940 the world was on a knife edge The hurricane of events that marked the opening of the Second World War meant that anything could happen For the aggressors there was no limit to their ambitions for their victims a new Dark Age beckoned Over the next few months their fates would be determined In Fateful Choices Ian Kershaw re creates the ten critical decisions taken between May 1940 when Britain chose not to surrender and December 1941 when Hitler decided to destroy Europe s Jews showing how these choices would recast the entire course of history      Lieutenant Schreiber's

Country Andreï Makine, 2018-05-01 Jean Claude Servan Schreiber enlisted in the French army at the outset of World War II and quickly rose to the rank of lieutenant Despite his patriotism and courage in defending his country in which he narrowly escaped death several times he suffered the bigotry of his fellow soldiers until he was expelled from the army for being Jewish He sought exile in Spain and was deported and interned in a concentration camp before he managed to join the Allied army in North Africa He eventually participated in the triumphant liberation of his homeland His story almost forgotten would have remained unknown if not for the efforts of the award winning and internationally bestselling author Andrei Makine Retelling Servan Schreiber s dramatic life with a novelist s skill he reveals a man who embraced experience in all its joys and sorrows who knew the pleasures of love amid the savagery of war and who could forgive the hatred he was subjected to but never forget it In Servan Schreiber who is now nearly a centenarian Makine celebrates virtues that every citizen should be reminded of self sacrifice honor love of country and true heroism      Reconceptions Rachel

Lehmann-Haupt, 2023-04-04 New choices and emerging technologies in reproductive science aren t just changing the ways we become parents they re playing a key role in the evolving definition of family Traditional family structures are adapting to make room for children conceived in previously unimaginable ways Whole industries and internet enabled communities are being built around reproductive technologies And there s more change coming as science continues to move forward Combining intimate personal stories with cutting edge research Reconceptions invites readers to reconsider their own ideas about parenthood and embrace a new vision of the meaning of family In 2012 Rachel Lehmann Haupt an award winning journalist chose to begin a family on her own as a single mother by choice In the years since her son was born Rachel s interest in collaborative reproduction has only grown leading her to search for pioneers in reproductive science and the different permutations of families that this science is making possible In Reconceptions she shares intimate stories from the bleeding edge of society s redefinition of family including her own experience of creating a new kind of tribe with her son s dosies or donor siblings and their parents In these pages readers will meet Tyra the egg donor and professional surrogate who doesn t want kids of her own but stays in touch with several of the families she s helped in the conception of their children Sam the single father by choice who worked with a surrogate and donor egg to conceive his son who he is now raising with his girlfriend Rob and Scotty the gay couple whose egg donor is now a friend and fixture at family social gatherings The author s Facebook group of mothers who conceived their children with the same sperm donor and how the group served as a much much needed support system through the worst of the COVID pandemic Reconceptions offers a compelling vision of what advances in reproductive science mean for the definition of family in the 21st century and beyond and imparts a modern story for anyone looking to better understand their own familial relationships no matter what their family looks like Lady Charlotte Schreiber's Journals Lady Charlotte Guest,1911 Report of the Kansas State Board of Agriculture Kansas. National Labor Relations Board,1993 Dictionary of Modern Anguish R. M. Berry,2000 Fourteen enactments of radical undoing by the acclaimed author of Leonardo s Horse and Plane Geometry and Other Affairs of the Heart Reviews of unwritten novels prefaces to fraudulent books narratives of dictionary entries and one interminable sentence all written in a style as strewn with landmines as everyday speech In Samuel Beckett s Middlemarch a scholar undertakes to reconstruct the deceased author s reputation after the discovery of a thousand page realist novel among Beckett s posthumous papers The novel about an idealistic young Englishwoman in a nineteenth century village is heralded by some as Beckett s broadest parody decried by others as Beckett s dementia but in the imaginary interval between modernity and tradition the scholar locates another Beckett of whom only Middlemarch can make an end The spirit of Wittgenstein hovers low over these literary pratfalls where materiality proves the most artificial of abstractions and what goes without saying always leaves somebody up in the air In Knott Unbound an office worker suspected of murder recalls feeling a pain but can t otherwise account for his time That the missing time should be missing from his life seemed if you thought about it the merest of accidents like bad genes or rich parents and the thought that Knott s well being rested on nothing surer nothing but the likelihood that his every second would follow the preceding with no break all this struck him as fantastically irrational How did humans abide it But the world was a slave to such prejudices In these fabrications reminiscent of Stein Borges and Sorrentino Berry unsettles the grounds of narrating In Mimesis a semi literate surveyor struggles against metaphysical abandonment in a Florida swamp in Torture an anthropologist leaves his lifelong study of cruelty mysteriously unwritten and in A Theory of Fiction a ruined man finds revenge in misrepresenting every injustice he s ever suffered Nothing seems the matter Everything appears to be wrong From first word to last these are fictions of impossible everydayness where the telling of what s happening proves the unlikeliest feat of all Nominations of J.H.
