Flying and Preserving Historic Aircraft David Frederick Ogilvy,2023-11-23 David Ogilvy has spent more than a full working life in aviation As a schoolboy he was sent out with a bugle and binoculars to blow a warning if a V1 flying bomb appeared Soon after this he joined the Royal Air Force and served for six years as a pilot flying types ranging from the Tiger Moth to the Mosquito and Meteor As a civilian he spent fourteen years involved in pilot training and became Chief Instructor of the Air Schools group with responsibility for three establishments He was a keen display and racing pilot and competed in many events flying several historic types At an early age David realised the need for owners and operators of flyable pre war machines to have a representative organization to look after their concerns and interests so in 1951 when 22 and still serving in the RAF he was a co founder of the Vintage Aeroplane Club He was also a founding member and now a Vice President of the Historic Aircraft Association In 1966 David was appointed general manager of the famous Shuttleworth Collection at Old Warden During this time he brought in several historic aircraft including initiating the retrieval of a 1935 Hawker Hind from Afghanistan He flew many of the Collection s remarkable airplanes organizing and participating in the displays As well as outlining his remarkable career the main focus of this book is on David Ogilvy s descriptions of many of the historic aircraft he helped rescue and preserve and what it was like to be at their controls It therefore provides a unique compendium of the flying characteristics of a range of historic aircraft for one or two of which he unashamedly admits he is possibly the last man alive to have flown Away from the cockpit David has been associated with many organizations including being a founder member of the UK Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association serving for 45 years in the roles of editor Executive Chairman and President He is also President of today s Vintage Aircraft Club and is a Fellow of the Royal Aeronautical Society David was awarded the OBE for services to aviation in 1996 Mount of Aces: The Royal Aircraft Factory S.E.5a Paul R.

Hare,2014-03-27 From the author of Fonthill Media s Fokker Fodder The Royal Aircraft Factory B E 2c Mount of Aces The Royal Aircraft Factory S E 5a is a fitting testament to a legendary fighter Arguably the Sopwith Camel may be the best known British fighter plane of the First World War that took on the mighty and feared Jastas over the killing fields that were the trenches However almost all the highest scoring aces including McCudden and Mannock preferred the Royal Aircraft Factory S E 5a It was well armed fast highly manoeuvrable and a superb gun platform and yet it was easy and safe for even the most sketchily trained pilot to fly The S E 5a was deadly Not only could it absorb punishment and turn on a penny it packed a wallop with its 303 Vickers and 303 Lewis machine guns Over 5 500 examples were produced in the war and Major Edward C Mick Mannock scored fifty of his seventy three victories in the S E 5a The S E 5a helped turn the tide of war in the Allies favour After the war examples took part in air races and were employed in the sky writings industry for advertising purposes in both Britain and America And today all over the world home builders are producing reproductions of the S E 5a for sport and leisure flying a fitting tribute to a design now nearly a century old and an appropriate memorial to the thousands of pilots who flew it in combat in defence of their country

During the Second World War the British movie industry produced a number of films concerning the war all of which were by necessity heavily myth laden and propagandised. Foremost among these productions was The First of the Few which was the biggest grossing film of 1942. In the immediate post war period to start with there were no British aviation war films. The first to be released was Angels One Five in 1952. It was well received confirming that the Battle of Britain was a commercial commodity. Over the next few years many famous war heroes published their memoirs or had books written about them including the legless Group Captain Douglas Bader whose story Reach for the Sky told by Paul Brickhill became a best seller in 1956. It was followed a year later by the film of the same name which starring Kenneth More dominated that year's box office. The early Battle of Britain films had tended to focus upon the story of individuals not the bigger picture. That changed with the release of the star studded epic Battle of Britain in 1969. Using real aircraft the film produced in color and on a far larger scale than had been seen on film before was notable for its spectacular flying sequences. Between the release of Reach for the Sky and Battle of Britain however much had changed for modern Britain. For a variety of reasons many felt that the story of the nation's pivotal moment in the Second World War was something best buried and forgotten. Indeed the overall box office reaction to Battle of Britain reinforced this view all of which might explain why it was the last big screen treatment of this topic for many years. It was during the Battle of Britain's seventieth anniversary year that the subject returned to the nation's screens when Matthew Wightman's docudrama First Light was first broadcast. Essentially a serialisation of Spitfire pilot Geoffrey Wellum's best selling memoir of the same title Wightman cleverly combined clips of Wellum as an old man talking about the past with his new drama footage. The series is in the opinion of the author the best portrayal of an individual's Battle of Britain experience to have been made. In this fascinating exploration of the Battle of Britain on the big screen renowned historian and author Dilip Sarkar examines the popular memory and myths of each of these productions and delves into the arguments between historians and the filmmakers. Just how true to the events of the summer of 1940 are they and how much have they added to the historical record of The Finest Hour. The Macmillan Guide to the United Kingdom 1978-79 NA NA, 2015-12-25. A View from the Wings Colin Cruddas, 2012-10-01. Many books have been produced which detail the lives and thoughts of famous individuals. A View from the Wings is unique recalling a wartime boyhood in which aircraft flying constantly overhead played a large part. This experience led to a lifetime career in the aviation industry both in the UK and overseas such as the US and South Africa. Mixed with events of a more personal nature often coated with whimsical humour the author has evocatively captured the rise and demise of Britain's aircraft industry in the post war period. In setting out to be non technical A View from the Wings will appeal to those whose memories embrace the sound barrier breaking years and the leap of faith and technology that saw Concorde defeat the Americans in the race to produce a practical supersonic airliner. All too often political procurement and technical failures have made for dramatic headlines and these too are subjected to much critical comments. Think of the critically acclaimed Empire of the Clouds Faber and Faber.
