Vego, 2009 Smallholder farmers and pastoralists fulfil an invaluable yet undervalued role in conserving biodiversity They act as guardians of locally adapted livestock breeds that can make use of even marginal environments under tough climatic conditions and therefore are a crucial resource for food security But in addition by sustaining animals on natural vegetation and as part of local ecosystems these communities also make a significant contribution to the conservation of wild biodiversity and of cultural landscapes This publication provides a glimpse into the often intricate knowledge systems that pastoralists and smallholder farmers have developed for the management of their breeds in specific production systems and it also describes the multitude of threats and challenges these often marginalized communities have to cope with Strangling the Axis Richard Hammond, 2020-06-25 This is a major reassessment of the causes of Allied victory in the Second World War in the Mediterranean region Drawing on a unique range of multinational source material Richard Hammond demonstrates how the Allies ability to gain control of the key routes across the sea and sink large quantities of enemy shipping denied the Axis forces in North Africa crucial supplies and proved vital to securing ultimate victory there Furthermore the sheer scale of attrition to Axis shipping outstripped their industrial capacity to compensate leading to the collapse of the Axis position across key territories maintained by seaborne supply such as Sardinia Corsica and the Aegean islands As such Hammond demonstrates how the anti shipping campaign in the Mediterranean was the fulcrum about which strategy in the theatre pivoted and the vital enabling factor ultimately leading to Allied victory in the region History of United States Naval
