Media Competition and Coexistence John W. Dimmick, 2002-12-18 This volume considers how media firms as well as entire industries exist and persist over time despite what often seems to be intense competition for such resources as audiences and advertisers Addressing competition within and among media organizations and industries including broadcasting cable and the Internet author John W Dimmick studies the media industries through the niche theory lens developed by bioecologists to explain competition and coexistence He examines the targets of the different media audience advertisers money and how they compete using examples from a variety of studies Each chapter incorporates relevant economic constructs into the analytic framework This approach includes the use of economics of scale to explain selection and firm mortality in newspapers and movie theaters the application of the transaction costs concept to explicate the rise of advertising agencies the employment of the strategic group concept in analyzing the niche breadth strategy and the measurement of gratifications utilities A comprehensive overview of the determinants of media competition and coexistence Media Competition and Coexistence The Theory of the Niche offers unique insights for scholars students researchers and practitioners in media economics management and business

Continuities in Sociological Human Ecology Michael Micklin, Dudley L. Poston, 2013-11-11 The completion of this volume would not have been possible without the generous and dedicated help of numerous people The book had its genesis in a conference held at Cornell University in the fall of 1990 that was organized by Dudley Poston Paul Eberts and Michael Hannan all professors at the time at Cornell With the very generous financial assistance of David Call then the dean of Cornell's College of Agriculture and Life Sciences Poston Eberts and Hannan put together a two day conference of lectures and papers by human ecologists from Cornell University and elsewhere The conference focused on sociological human ecology and celebrated the fortieth anniversary of the publication of Amos Hawley's Human Ecology Ronald Press 1950 Professor Hawley was the keynote speaker at the conference Many of the authors of the chapters in this volume presented earlier versions at the Cornell conference in 1990 Cornell's Departments of Rural Sociology and Sociology also contributed financial assistance however without Dean Call's very generous support the conference would not have been possible A few months after the conference Poston and Michael Micklin discussed the possibility of asking the various authors of the Cornell conference papers to revise them for publication in a volume on sociological human ecology Many opted to do so but others did not because of time and other kinds of commitments and constraints

Dynamic Capabilities Bart Nooteboom, 2022-08-11 The development of salient ideas and publications on dynamic capabilities is given extended by ideas outside the literature of strategic management Dynamic capability is presented as an interdisciplinary subject to which knowledge is central Diversity of knowledge is treated in terms of cognitive distance limited through organisational focus To deal with diversity development and uncertainty evolutionary theory and the notion of entropy are used The relation between individual and organisational knowledge is modelled with the notion of a script and linguistic ideas The governance of collaborative relations for innovation is discussed including trust which are also dynamic capabilities

Darwinism and Evolutionary Economics John Laurent, John Nightingale, 2001-01-01 This outstanding collection of essays by leading scholars helps explain how evolutionary economics has come of age They show how evolutionary economics offers a progressive and diverse research agenda built on strong foundations These are essays of lasting value J Stanley Metcalfe University of Manchester UK Darwinism is fast becoming an orthodoxy of modern thought a framework within which a wide range of knowledge communities conduct their discourse Ever since its formation Darwinian theory has experienced a close though not always comfortable association with economics Evolutionary economists now appear to show little concern for the consistency of knowledge in their embrace of Darwinism Darwinism and Evolutionary Economics brings together contributions from eminent authors who building on Darwin's own insights and on developments in evolutionary theory offer challenging views on how economics can use evolutionary ideas effectively This collection of critical essays provides a thorough examination of the application of Darwinian theory to economic thought and will appeal to evolutionary economists and all those with an interest in Darwin innovation and evolutionary science

Process Philosophy Bart Nooteboom, 2021-03-31 The book analyses and compares a variety of processes of change in evolution learning and innovation language and meaning self and society and ethics and morality Taking a realistic approach the book is inspired by pragmatic philosophy in particular that of Dewey Nietzsche Wittgenstein and Heidegger and employs insights from economics sociology anthropology and social psychology The book aims to give a coherent synthesis of ideas about change and aims to see how one can take a process view of various features of humanity such as knowledge relations between people language and morality and how vice versa that might contribute to process philosophy

Gartner, 2016-02-26 This book draws together William B Gartner's key contributions to entrepreneurship research over the past 25 years An original introduction by the author offers a comprehensive overview and analysis of his work as it pertains to the development of entrepreneurship as a scholarly field and the articles demonstrate the many ways in which his research has explored entrepreneurship in relation to individuals firms environments and processes

Evolutionary Theories of Economic and Technological Change (Pier) Paolo Saviotti, Stan Metcalfe, 2018-03-29 Recently evolutionary theories of economic and technological change have attracted a considerable amount of attention which reflects the problems encountered by mainstream analysis of dynamic phenomena and quantitative change This book originally published in 1991 develops the debate and draws on the concepts of evolutionary biology nonequilibrium thermodynamics systems and organization theory While recognizing that new technology is not the cause of quantitative change the editors claim it should play a more central role in economic theory and policy At the same time the ground is laid for a more generalized concept of innovation and experimentation and their relation to routine activities The book is intended for economists The Evolution of Institutional Economics Geoffrey Martin Hodgson, 2004 This exciting new book from Geoffrey Hodgson is eagerly awaited by social scientists from many different backgrounds This book charts the rise fall and renewal of institutional economics in the critical analytical and readable style that Hodgson's fans have come to know and love and that a new generation of readers will surely come to appreciate Technology and Strategy Richard A. Goodman, Michael W.

Lawless, 1994-10-06 In today's complex dynamic competitive landscape management of technology can mean the difference between success and failure Managers and researchers alike need effective ways to conceptualize and develop technology strategies Richard Goodman and Michael Lawless provide tools needed to integrate firms technology capabilities with their competitive direction Technology and Strategy presents models that help put technology and its market impacts into perspective It addresses the broad questions of how technology and markets evolve how technology can re order the rules of competition and how it can shift the balance of individual firms competitive advantage It also blends topics currently capturing attention in business circles such as Total Quality Management and the resource based view of the firm into a clear view of technology management programs Technology and Strategy also describes methods to develop specific strategies to cope with challenges facing executives like evaluating promising but untried new technologies Using actual case studies from the electronics and bio tech industries Goodman and Lawless demonstrate the use of new techniques to formulate strategy including Technology Mapping and the Innovation Audit Both were created to help executives choose the approach to technology best suited to their firms particular capabilities Offering clear practical guidance through a complex fast changing world of competition this new analysis of technology and strategy is a valuable guide for general managers R D and manufacturing managers strategic planners and academics Human Services as Complex Organizations Yeheskel

The Ethnographer's Method Alex Stewart, 1998-06-17 Helping ethnographers devise a clearly articulated explanation of their methods this book argues that norms about discussing methods in ethnographies are underdeveloped The book considers what ought to be normative in methods discussions within ethnography from the research design to the end product

Modern Organizations Ali Farazmand, 2002-07-30 Farazmand and his contributors examine modern organization theory and behavior They view organization in two ways As an organization of society into public private and nonprofit sectors and they examine the power structure and those power elites who determine policy choices and outcomes They also look at organizing activity such as creating institutional arrangements to perform certain functions or tasks as well as organizational entities of all sizes Using a balanced approach to analyze modern organizations managerial expectations and individual citizen expectations and demands the book presents a succinct analysis of theoretical and conceptual perspectives on modern organizations their management and their interactions with other organizations in an environment that is becoming increasingly global and integrated worldwide Although all organizations are covered the emphasis is placed mainly on public organizations The book also addresses key issues of organizational change reform and reorganization of governments in both theoretical and empirical ways A key text and handbook for scholars students researchers and practitioners of public administration and the management of nonprofit organizations

The Business Model Innovation Process Yariv Taran, Harry Boer, Christian Nielsen, 2021-11-21 Business Model Innovation Process Preparation Organization and Management examines a range of critical questions that merit thoughtful interdisciplinary consideration such as Why do business models and their innovation in particular matter today How can the process of business model innovation be understood organized and managed adequately under increasingly volatile uncertain complex and ambiguous technological business and geo political conditions What should decision making and risk management look like under these conditions with managers whose rationality is bounded The book offers a detailed account of the relatively unknown process of business model innovation by looking into the intersection of strategic operations and innovation management organizational design decision making and performance management In doing so this book addresses fundamental issues and introduces new ideas and theoretical perspectives In envisioning and thinking about various potential scenarios of business model innovation and understanding how to organize for each of these under different conditions the book provides original arguments and suggestions for practitioners For that purpose the book also offers many compelling real life examples of business models and their innovation Combining theory and practice this book is an essential read for researchers and academics of business model innovation as well as strategic management digital transformation innovation management and organizational change It will also be of direct interest to practitioners and business leaders seeking new perspectives to increase their competitive advantage An Autecological Theory of the Firm and its Environment Colin Jones,Gimme Walter,2017-06-30 The process of firm level adaptation and survival have historically been of great interest to researchers of firms However these researchers have previously been denied an ecological framework within which to study the processes through which individual firms respond to and indeed modify their individual environments This book remedies this situation providing the first comprehensive introduction to organisational autecology or the study of individual firms and the environments they interact with and typically modify to ensure their survival In addition to establishing the theoretical and philosophical foundations of organisational autecology the empirical application of this new approach is demonstrated and its future application to the domain of organisational studies is contemplated Long-run Economics Norman Clark,Calestous Juma,2013-11-07 A major problem of conventional economic theory as applied to long run economic change is its unduly narrow and static character which compromises its capacity to handle conceptually a social process inherently systemic complex and dynamic At the same time there is a growing realization in relevant government and industrial circles reinforced by the example of Japan that effective economic policy making needs a strategic and therefore a technological content Long Run Economics suggests a more realistic conceptual framework for the analysis of economic and technological change Borrowing from other disciplines such as sociology psychology and biology the authors develop a model that is evolutionary and systemic in character Special emphasis is given to the role of information flows in the innovative process while the overall argument is illustrated by two case studies photovoltaics and fuel ethanol Finally the book stresses the strategic importance of science and technology policy and the role of appropriate institutions in facilitating long run economic change
