Oriental Studies In The Ussr Annual 1989:

Oriental Studies in USSR, 1989 Reconstruction and Regional Diplomacy in the Persian Gulf H. Amirahmadi, N. Entessar, 2023-05-26 First Published in 1992 Reconstruction and Regional Diplomacy in the Persian Gulf goes beyond a description of the recent events by analysing the social political and economic patterns of interaction between the Gulf states The argument is strengthened by a consideration of the role of the superpowers in the region s political discourse and of religion as a force for a change Not only do the authors provide an easily accessible basis for explaining the current problems in the region but they also offer their own sometimes provocative policy prescriptions This book is an important read for scholars and researchers of Middle East politics and Middle East history Index of Islamic Literature, 1991 Himalayan and Central Asian Studies, 1997 Annual Report Kokusai Bunka Kaikan (Tokyo, Japan), The Muslim World Book Review, 1991 The Far East and Australasia, 1989 Europa Publications Limited, 1989 Burying Mao Richard Baum, 2018-06-05 For almost two decades after Mao Zedong s death an epic no holds barred contest was waged in China between orthodox Marxists and reformers With Deng Xiaoping s strong support the reformers ultimately won but they and China paid a heavy price Here Richard Baum provides a lively comprehensive guide to the intricate theater of post Mao Chinese politics He tells the intriguing story of an escalating intergenerational clash of ideas and values between the aging revolutionaries of the Maoist era and their younger more pragmatic successors Baum deftly analyzes the anatomy of the reformers ultimate victory in his brilliant reconstruction of the twists and turns of the reform process From Leninism To Freedom Margaret Latus Nugent, 2019-03-08 This book stimulates inquiry into questions about how to facilitate and consolidate transitions from Leninism to market oriented democracies It allows readers to appreciate the diversity of opinion that exists on such questions as the causes for what happened and the prospects for the future Changing Educational Contexts, Issues and Identities Michael Crossley, Patricia Broadfoot, Michele Schweisfurth, 2007-01-24 Documenting major intellectual and paradigmatic changes in the field of comparative education in the light of the history and development of the journal Comparative Education this book compiles a selection of articles from forty years of the journal s distinguished history It illustrates how changing times have been reflected in the nature and quality of published comparative research Contributors explore the impact of key issues such as marketisation accountability and globalisation upon policy and practice world wide They explore how new challenges faced by the social sciences have seen shifts in the contexts issues and priorities attended to by comparatives and how different approaches to comparative education have influenced the intellectual and professional identities and positioning of those involved Bridging theoretically oriented scholarship with empirically grounded research relating to issues of policy and practice and with chapters addressing questions of relevance throughout the world this book is an invaluable resource of ideas and stimuli for further thinking and research The Cranes Curt Meine, George Archibald, 1996 The Cranes are among the most ancient and distinctive families of birds on Earth yet they are among the world's most threatened groups of birds. This Action Plan describes the many different sorts of threats facing cranes especially as they migrate through different countries and the many solutions that have been attempted to overcome them. It is intended for all those involved in crane conservation including conservation biologists, conservation organizations, other non-governmental organizations, inter-national development agencies, political, civic and business leaders, funding agencies and foundations, educators and members of the general public.

Science and Technology in the Global Cold War Naomi Oreskes, John Krige, 2014-11-07. Investigations of how the global Cold War shaped national scientific and technological practices in fields from biomedicine to rocket science. The Cold War period saw a dramatic expansion of state-funded science and technology research. Government and military patronage shaped Cold War technoscientific practices imposing methods that were project-oriented, team-based and subject to national security restrictions. These changes affected not just the arms race and the space race but also research in agriculture, biomedicine, computer science, ecology, meteorology and other fields. This volume examines science and technology in the context of the Cold War considering whether the new institutions and institutional arrangements that emerged globally constrained technoscientific inquiry or offered greater opportunities for it. The contributors find that whatever the particular science and whatever the political system in which that science was operating, the knowledge that was produced bore some relation to the goals of the nation-state. These goals varied from nation to nation: weapons research was emphasized in the United States and the Soviet Union, for example, but in France and China scientific independence and self-reliance dominated. The contributors also consider to what extent the changes to science and technology practices in this era were produced by the specific politics, anxieties and aspirations of the Cold War. Contributors: Elena Aronova, Erik M. Conway, Angela N. H. Creager, David Kaiser, John Krige, Naomi Oreskes, George Reisch, Sigrid Schmalzer, Sonja D. Schmid, Matthew Shindell, Asif A. Siddiqi, Zuoyue Wang, Benjamin Wilson.

The Soviet Union and the Pacific Gerald Segal, 2022-02-13. First published in 1990. The Soviet Union and the Pacific provides comprehensive analysis of Soviet strategy in the Pacific, examining both the successes of and the constraints on Soviet policy towards the nations and resources of the Pacific rim. Set against the downfall of the Soviet empire, this policy records a departure from the treatment of the Pacific as an arena only for military competition to an important terrain of Mikhail Gorbachev's foreign policy. This book is designed to serve as an introduction to the role of the Soviet Union in the Pacific for undergraduates, scholars, policymakers and business people.

Climate Hazard Crises in Asian Societies and Environments Troy Sternberg, 2017-01-20. Climate hazards are the world's most widespread, deadliest and costliest natural disasters. Knowledge of climate hazard dynamics is critical since the impacts of climate change, population growth, development projects and migration affect both the impact and severity of disasters. Current global events highlight how hazards can lead to significant financial losses, increased mortality rates and political instability. This book examines climate hazard crises in contemporary Asia, identifying how hazards from the Middle East through South and Central Asia and China have the power to reshape our globalised world In an era of changing climates knowledge of hazard dynamics is essential to mitigating disasters and strengthening livelihoods and societies across Asia By integrating human exposure to climate factors and disaster episodes the book explores the environmental forces that drive disasters and their social implications Focusing on a range of Asian countries landscapes and themes the chapters address several scales province national regional different hazards drought flood temperature storms dust environments desert temperate mountain coastal and issues vulnerability development management politics to present a diverse comprehensive evaluation of climate hazards in Asia This book offers an understanding of the challenges climate hazards present their critical nature and the effort needed to mitigate climate hazards in 21st century Asia Climate Hazard Crises in Asian Societies and Environments is vital reading for those interested and engaged in Asia s development and well being today and will be of interest to those working in Geography Development Studies Environmental Sciences Sociology and Political Science
