Return To Isis:

Returning Islamist Foreign Fighters Elena Pokalova, 2019-10-24 This book examines the challenges foreign fighter returnees from Syria and Iraq pose to Western countries. A number of returnees have demonstrated that they are willing to use violence against their home countries and some have already staged terrorist attacks on Western soil on apparent orders from ISIS. Through the historical context of previous waves of mobilizations of Islamist foreign fighters, the author tracks the experiences of returnees from previous conflicts and discusses the major security challenges associated with them. The book analyzes the major approaches implemented by Western countries in response to foreign fighter returnees, discusses the prosecution of returnees, and evaluates the corresponding challenges of prison radicalization.

Returning Home Helen Stenger, 2024-12-16 In March 2019, ISIS was territorially defeated. ISIS members were captured and detained: men were sent to prison and women and children to camps in northern Syria. This is an unprecedented situation where, for the first time, thousands of female members of a terrorist group are detained in a foreign country without access to legal mechanisms, rehabilitation, or reintegration measures. What happens to the foreign women and children who are not repatriated from the camps? If they are repatriated, are there rehabilitation and reintegration programmes in place that account for the experiences the women had? Most existing rehabilitation and reintegration programmes are gender neutral; that is, they claim to be universal and are not tailored specifically to male or female beneficiaries. Yet typically these programmes are influenced by implicit gender norms and assumptions such as that men are violent perpetrators of aggression and women are victims who are peaceful and lack agency. Alongside gender norms, intersecting racial and religious dynamics also shape how governments handle the repatriation, rehabilitation, and reintegration of ISIS returnees. This includes racial profiling, the conflation between Islam and extremism, and more broadly, the rising Islamophobia in many countries, particularly since the War on Terror. These dynamics lead to an absence of rehabilitation and reintegration programmes specifically designed for women's diverse experiences, which is the subject of this book. Returning Home examines state responses to repatriation, rehabilitation, and reintegration of ISIS returnees from an intersectional perspective, with a focus on ISIS women returnees. This book addresses the biased understandings that are built into scholarship and policy responses that reinforce gendered and racialized inequalities. It outlines how these dynamics can be uncovered and redressed by designing policies that are responsive to gender differences, inequalities, and harmful norms.

Returning Foreign Fighters: Responses, Legal Challenges and Ways Forward Francesca Capone, Christophe Paulussen, Rebecca Mignot-Mahdavi, 2023-03-24 This book is a follow-up publication to the 2016 volume Foreign Fighters under International Law and Beyond, which zooms in on the responses that the international community and individual States are implementing in response to prospective and actual returning foreign fighters (FFs) and their families, focusing on returnees from Syria and Iraq to European countries. As States and international organisations are still learning by doing, the role of the academic community is to help steer the process by bridging the divide between international standards and their implementation at the national level and between security concerns and human rights law Furthermore the academic community can and should assist in identifying ways forward that are both effective sustainable and international law compliant Those are ultimately the goals that the present volume seeks to pursue The observations recommendations and warnings included in this book will be useful in future debates on returning FFs both in the academic world and in the world of policy makers and practitioners as well as to the public at large

Francesca Capone is Associate Professor of International Law at the Istituto DIRPOLIS of the Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna in Pisa Italy Christophe Paulussen is Senior Researcher International Law at the T M C Asser Instituut in The Hague The Netherlands Rebecca Mignot Mahdavi is Lecturer in International Law at the Manchester International Law Centre University of Manchester School of Law in Manchester United Kingdom

Intolerant Justice Asif Efrat, 2023 The idea of facing a court in a foreign country would typically cause serious doubt about whether the foreign legal process and its outcome would be fair Intolerant Justice examines the political implications of those doubts regarding foreign justice and how they might hinder international cooperation among national legal systems Should we allow our troops to stand trial in foreign courts Should we extradite offenders to countries with a poor human rights record Should we enforce rulings issued by foreign judges This book examines the domestic political controversies over these sensitive legal questions
