Revolt In Tibet 1st Edition:

A History of Modern Tibet, 1913-1951 Melvyn C. Goldstein, 2003-11-15 The Tibetan Question the nature of Tibet's political status vis vis China has been the subject of often bitterly competing views while the facts of the issue have not been fully accessible to interested observers While one faction has argued that Tibet was in the main historically independent until it was conquered by the Chinese Communists in 1951 and incorporated into the new Chinese state the other faction views Tibet as a traditional part of China that split away at the instigation of the British after the fall of the Manchu Dynasty and was later dutifully reunited with New China in 1951 In contrast this comprehensive study of modern Tibetan history presents a detailed non partisan account of the demise of the Lamaist state Drawing on a wealth of British American and Indian diplomatic records first hand historical accounts written by Tibetan participants and extensive interviews with former Tibetan officials monastic leaders soldiers and traders Goldstein meticulously examines what happened and why He balances the traditional focus on international relations with an innovative emphasis on the intricate web of internal affairs and events that produced the fall of Tibet Scholars and students of Asian history will find this work an invaluable resource and interested readers will appreciate the clear explanation of highly polemicized and often confusing historical events The Tibetan Question the nature of Tibet's political status vis vis China has been the subject of often bitterly competing views while the facts of the issue have not been fully accessible to interested observers While one faction has argued that T The Search for the Panchen Lama Isabel Hilton, 2001 In this chilling picture of the brutality of Chinese repression in Tibet Wall Street Journal Hilton relates the 1995 kidnap and disappearance of a seven year old Tibetan boy believed to be the 11th incarnation of the Panchen Lama 21 photos AB Bookman's Weekly, 1998 Muslims in Amdo Tibetan Society Marie-Paule Hille, Bianca Horlemann, Paul K. Nietupski, 2015-11-12 Muslims in Amdo Tibetan Society Multi Disciplinary Approaches offers nine case studies from several academic disciplines The chapters describe the ethnic cultural linguistic and religious diversity within the Muslim communities of Amdo and illustrate complex social interactions with other Amdo communities While relations between Han Chinese and Tibetans and between Han Chinese and Muslims in Qinghai and Gansu have already attracted scholarly attention this volume has a special focus on Tibetan Muslim interactions These are rarely discussed and if so then mostly in the contexts of trade relations and conflicts This volume challenges some established stereotypes of Tibetan Muslim relations and also highlights new facets of cross cultural contacts and religious and linguistic influences Suicide by Self-Immolation César A. Alfonso, Prabha S. Chandra, Thomas G. Schulze, 2021-02-02 This book addresses biopsychosocial and transcultural determinants of suicide by self immolation populations at risk throughout the world and prevention strategies specifically designed for young women in fragile environments Self immolation the act of burning oneself as a means of suicide is rare in high income countries and is usually a symbolic display of political protest among men that generally receives international media coverage In contrast in low and middle income countries it is highly prevalent primarily affects women and may be one of the most common suicide methods in regions of Central and South Asia and parts of Africa Psychiatric conditions like adjustment disorders traumatic stress disorders and major depression and family dynamics that include intimate partner violence forced marriages the threat of honor killings and interpersonal family conflicts in a cultural context of war related life events poverty forced migration and ethnic conflicts are important contributing factors Written by over 40 academic psychiatrists from all continents sociologists and historians the book covers topics such as region specific cultural and historical factors associated with suicide the role of religion and belief systems marginalization oppression retraumatization and suicide risk countertransference aspects of working in burn centers responsible reporting and the media and suicide prevention strategies to protect those at risk A History of Modern Tibet, Volume 2 Melvyn C. Goldstein, 2009-04-13 History Sacred Suicide Carole M. Cusack, 2016-04-08 The label Suicide Cults has been applied to a wide variety of different alternative religions from Jonestown to the Solar Temple to Heaven s Gate Additionally observers have asked if such group suicides are in any way comparable to Islamist suicide terrorism or to historical incidents of mass suicide such as the mass suicide of the ancient community of Masada Organizationally and ideologically diverse it turns out that the primary shared trait of these various groups is a common stereotype of religion as an irrational force that pushes fanatics to undertake acts of suicidal violence Offering a valuable perspective on New Religious Movements and on religion and violence Sacred Suicide brings together contributions from a diverse range of international scholars of sociology religious studies and criminology Tibet - a Country Where People Have Leapt a Thousand Years Forward Vinař, Jan, The core of the book is a critical edition of an unpublished reportage of Jan Vina from his 1959 trip to Tibet called Tibet A Country where People Have Leaped a Thousand Years Forward Vina s text was never published officially there are only fifteen copies of a samizdat edition printed in 1983 in Zurich and today it can be considered an important documentary material of the given historical period The reportage written in 1960 echoes the official Chinese narrative of Tibetan history and social development and his views reflect the Chinese interpretation of the March 1959 uprising The book is accompanied by so far unpublished photographic material from the 1959 journalist expedition to Tibet and scholarly commentary by editors to the original text in the form of footnotes and several studies clarifying certain aspects of the topic and the historical and political context Kamila Hlad kov describes the clash of Chinese and Tibetan narratives explaining recent Tibetan history mainly regarding the occupation of Tibetan inhabited territories by the PLA in 1950 1951 and the legitimization of the regime after 1959 Lubo B lka provides detailed biography of Jan Vina and explains the historical background of the decade between 1950 and 1959 in Tibet analyzes the texts published by other visitors to Tibet in that time and introduces the phenomenon known in Tibetan language as thamzing or struggle sessions China in the Caribbean Roger Hosein, Bhoendradatt Tewarie, Rebecca Gookool-Bosland, 2025-04-15 China has been connected with the Caribbean community CARICOM and wider region for an extensive period This relationship dates back to the colonial period of indentureship when Chinese immigrants were brought to the region to work on sugar plantations This historically enabled migration to the region which over the years has buoyed and indigenized various sectors of the economies in the Caribbean The rapid growth of these developing economies and the associated increased integration with the global economy has had and continues to have direct and indirect effects on the CARICOM region and beyond This book contextualizes the relationship between CARICOM and China to help policymakers development planners and policy makers leverage opportunities available now and in the future The book highlights the historical trade and development linkages between China and CARICOM considers the changing geopolitical landscape and situates the role of China in CARICOM It also proposes new opportunities to strengthen trade and development relations for the region and considers its geopolitical implications

World Economic Performance D. S. Prasada Rao, B. Van Ark, 2013-07-01 Not only is this excellent collection of papers a fitting tribute to Angus Maddison it is also a great resource for thinking about future patterns of global economic growth both in the BRICS and the OECD based on key insights from historical experience Nicholas Crafts University of Warwick UK Angus Maddison may no longer be with us but his spirit is very much alive This collection of essays including one by Maddison himself shows how the methods he pioneered continue to shed new light on the comparative performance of nations and inspire successive generations of scholars Barry Eichengreen University of California at Berkeley US The distinguished editors leading authorities in the field of comparative quantitative economic development have gathered a stellar group of authors to address arguably the most challenging question of our time understanding development dynamics over time and across countries They are to be congratulated for this comprehensive stimulating and insightful volume It is a fitting tribute to the late Angus Maddison an intellectual giant in the study of long term economic development to whom the book is dedicated Hal Hill Australian National University World economic performance over the last 50 years has been spectacular The post war period has witnessed impressive growth rates in Western Europe and Japan and in recent times China and India This new book discusses these issues and tackles topical questions such as what are the socio economic and institutional factors that have contributed to this impressive performance Will China and India continue to grow at the same rate over the next two decades What are the prospects for Japan the US and other advanced economies The book brings together contributions by eminent scholars including the late Angus Maddison Professors Justin Lin Bob Gordon Ross Garnaut Bart van Ark and others to provide answers to these fascinating questions The chapters analyse the economic performance of selected countries including China India Japan Indonesia and the US as well as Western Europe Latin America and developing countries as a group The time period of the study is from 1850 to the present and includes forecasts to 2030 This well documented book will be of considerable interest to development economists and country specialists working on countries such as China and India economic historians who are interested in explaining the growth performance of countries economists and economic statisticians who are interested in the measurement issues and international organizations such as the OECD World Bank and the UN General readers and non specialists who are interested in the world economic performance will also find much to interest them in this book Catalog of Copyright Entries. Lipton,2002 Human rights of which the freedom of religion is a central component are promised by most governments on Planet Earth But promises are promises are promises In real life religious liberty is far from a universal fact This book surveys the countries of Asia and is augmented by a current bibliography and useful indexes by subject title and author

Touching Tibet Niema Ash,The Dalai Lama,2011-04-15 STRONGAn affectionate travelogue that conveys not only impressions of everyday life and descriptions of unique Tibetan customs and traditions but brings us Tibetan history politics and religion from a fresh unstudied perspective Despite the determined efforts of the Dalai Lama to publicize the Tibetan cause for many the people culture history and traditions of this country remain mysterious Niema Ash was one of the first Westerners to enter the country when its borders were briefly opened and in this highly absorbing and personal account she relates with wit compassion and sensitivity her encounters with people whose humor spirituality and sheer enthusiasm for life have carried them through years of oppression and suffering This journey into a forbidden kingdom gives a fresh insight into the real heart of Tibet Water Brahma Chellaney,2013-07-25 This is a pioneering study about the relationship between fresh water peace and security in Asia from the Middle East to Siberia but with a special focus on South and Southeast Asia Asia is home to many of the world s great rivers and lakes but its huge population and booming economies make it the most water scarce continent on a per capita basis Over extensive irrigation pollution and global warming add to the demographic and economic pressures on Asia s fresh water supplies The location of the sources for much of South and Southeast Asia s fresh water is in the Chinese controlled Tibetan Plateau and China s increasing exploitation of these water sources have created growing geopolitical tensions that could boil over into conflict India is reliant on fresh water from Tibet which gives the Chinese uncomfortable leverage over India and further exacerbates their unsettled border disputes Vietnam Bangladesh Pakistan and other countries of the region also find themselves in similarly vulnerable positions where water is scarce and the sources are increasingly being exploited and polluted upstream by the continent s most powerful country Brahma Chellaney proposes strategies to avoid conflict and more equitably share and preserve Asia s water resources

Facets of Qing Daoism Monica Esposito,2016-03-11 As China is rapidly reemerging as the world s dominant economic powerhouse that it had been until the mid eighteenth century interest in its religions and philosophies is on the rise Just as the history and culture of Western civilizations can hardly be grasped without a measure of knowledge about Christianity an understanding of Chinese civilization and its history seems impossible without some comprehension of Daoism Though it has long been clear that modern Daoism has its roots in Daoist movements of the Qing dynasty 1644 1911 research on premodern Daoism had been largely neglected Published in six languages Italian French English German Chinese and Japanese the pioneering studies by Monica Esposito 1962 2011 on Qing Daoism have been instrumental in kindling keen scholarly interest both in the West and in China and Japan This book presents corrected and augmented versions of three of Dr Esposito s seminal articles that had originally been published in English Daoism in the Qing The Longmen School and its Controversial History and Longmen Daoism in Qing China Doctrinal Ideal and Local Reality along with English versions of two articles that had hitherto only been available in Japanese and Chinese Beheading the Red Dragon The Heart of Feminine Alchemy and An Example of Daoist and Tantric Interaction during the Qing Dynasty The Longmen xinzong In addition this volume contains a bibliography of all her publications and a detailed index The Tibetan History Reader Gray Tuttle, Kurtis R. Schaeffer, 2013-03-12 Answering a critical need for an accurate in depth history of Tibet this single volume resource reproduces essential hard to find essays from the past fifty years of Tibetan studies Covering the social cultural and political development of Tibet from the seventh century to the modern period the volume is organized chronologically and regionally to complement courses in Asian and religious studies and world civilizations Beginning with Tibet s emergence as a regional power and concluding with its profound contemporary transformations this anthology offers both a general and

Book Dealers' Weekly , 1926 Tibet on Fire John Whalen-Bridge, 2015-10-07 Using Kenneth Burke s concept of dramatism as a way of exploring multiple motivations in symbolic expression Tibet on Fire examines the Tibetan self immolation movement of 2011 2015 The volume asserts that the self immolation act is an affirmation of Tibetan identity in the face of cultural genocide Subject Catalog Library of Congress, 1980 Protest and Resistance in the Chinese

Party State Hank Johnston, Sheldon Zhang, 2022-02-24 Although contemporary China is a repressive state protests and demonstrations have increased almost tenfold between 2005 and 2015 This is an astounding statistic when one considers that Marxist Leninist regimes of the past tolerated little or no public dissent How can protests become so common in an autocratic state What are the trends of repression and mobilization This collection helps to answer these compelling questions through in depth analyses of several Chinese protest movements and state responses The chapters examine the opportunities and constraints for protest mobilization and explains their importance for understanding contemporary Chinese society
