The Right of an Alien to be Protected against Arbitrary Expulsion in International Law Julia Wojnowska-Radzińska, 2015-03-20 In The Right of an Alien to be Protected against Arbitrary Expulsion in International Law Julia Wojnowska Radzińska offers a comprehensive legal study of international legal obligations of States for the protection of aliens lawfully residing against arbitrary expulsion It also provides practical information on administrative proceedings legal remedies and procedural rights aliens exercise The book aims at answering a fundamental question how to strike a balance between the inherent right of a State to expel an alien and the rights the latter is entitled to The reader will therefore be given a survey of the subject that is both usefully brief and sufficiently detailed to answer most questions likely to arise in any pertinent legal setting EC Employment Law Catherine Barnard, 2006 EC Employment Law provides a thorough and authoritative guide to EC law on employment within a social and economic context Extensive coverage is given of complex equality caselaw and legislation and many issues not covered elsewhere are examined Citizenship, Crime and Community in the European Union Stephen Coutts, 2019-09-19 Over the past 20 years the European Union has been increasingly active in the area of criminal law Meanwhile the status of European Union citizenship has been progressively developed and strengthened Adopting an expressive and communitarian perspective of the criminal law this book considers EU criminal law in light of EU citizenship with a view to revealing the structure of the EU's political community as expressed in its criminal law It argues that while national communities remain dominant through transnational processes certain features of a supranational community can be said to emerge The book will be of interest to scholars of EU citizenship EU criminal law and EU law and integration more generally The Margins of Discretion in Transnational Administrative Acts Kathrin Hamenstädt, 2022-05-05 This book analyses the expulsion of delinquent foreigners and their exclusion from the territory through a comparative lens The book begins with a vertical perspective focusing on the effects of European standards on the law of expulsion and entry bans in Germany and the Netherlands and the law regulating deportation from the United Kingdom It explores how these countries use their margin of discretion granted by European law to solve the societal political and legal challenges that are posed by delinquent foreigners Moreover it highlights the similarities convergences and differences between these countries approaches to the topic Subsequently the book adopts a horizontal perspective by focusing on the effects of national decisions on other states thereby addressing transnational administrative acts National expulsion decisions and entry bans can be given effect throughout European countries with the consequence that other states are in principle obliged to enforce them by refusing foreigners access to their territory This obligation arises despite the fact that expulsion decisions and entry bans are adopted on the basis of diverging national provisions Even though the margin of discretion of national decision makers has already been limited the remaining differences call for further recommendations which are put forward in this book
