Seductive Reasoning Pluralism As The Problematic Of Contemporary Literary Theory:

Seductive Reasoning Ellen Rooney, 2016-11-01 Seductive Reasoning takes a provocative look at contemporary Anglo American literary theory calling into question the critical consensus on pluralism's nature and its status in literary studies Drawing on the insights of Marxist and feminist critical theory and on the works of Althusser Derrida and Foucault Rooney reads the pluralist's invitation to join in a dialogue as a seductive gesture Critics who respond find that they must seek to persuade all of their potential readers Rooney examines pluralism as a form of logic in the work of E D Hirsch as a form of ethics for Wayne Booth as a rhetoric of persuasion in the books of Stanley Fish For Paul de Man Rooney argues pluralism was a rhetoric of tropes just as it was for Fredric Jameson a form of politics Evolution and Literary Theory Joseph Carroll, 1995 Over the past two decades poststructuralism in its myriad forms has come to dominate literary criticism to the exclusion of virtually any other point of view Few scholars have escaped the coercive authority of its programmatic radicalism In Evolution and Literary Theory Joseph Carroll vigorously attacks the foundational principles of poststructuralism and offers in their stead a bold new theory that situates literary criticism within the matrix of evolutionary theory

Pluralism Gregor McLennan, 1995 Pluralism today is not much a particular school of thought or coherent body of theory McLennan argues that pluralism is an indispensable reference point across a spectrum of social scientific debates Fault Lines and Controversies in the Study of Seventeenth-century English Literature Claude J. Summers, Ted-Larry Pebworth, 2002 Written by various experts in the field this volume of thirteen original essays explores some of the most significant theoretical and practical fault lines and controversies in seventeenth century English literature The turn into the twenty first century is an appropriate time to take stock of the state of the field and as part of that stocktaking the need arises to assess both where literary study of the early modern period has been and where it might desirably go Hence many of the essays in this collection look both backward and forward They chart the changes in the field over the past half century while also looking forward to more change in the future Token Professionals and Master Critics James J. Sosnoski, 1994-03-08 This book addresses literary critics in mainstream institutions who though they vastly outnumber their colleagues in more prestigious institutions have little voice in the profession It examines the structures through which the institution of literary critical pressures its members to accept orthodoxy heterodoxy as categories to describe their work which in turn provokes theory wars This opposition produces a method application dichotomy that renders members' pursuits scientific One Earth, Many Religions Paul F. Knitter, 1995 One of the world's foremost exponents of the pluralist position as the most adequate Christian theological account of religious diversity turns to a new and urgent issue facing the community of world religions For Paul Knitter the spectre of environmental and social injustice looms over any serious discussion of humankind's future As urgent as it is to have peace among the world's believers to achieve peace among nations it is urgent that these communities unite in understanding and defending of the earth In One Earth Many Religions Knitter looks back at his own dialogical odyssey and forward to the way that interfaith encounters and dialogue must focus attention on new challenges Nothing less than enlisting the commitment of the world's religions on the task of saving our common home will do In making that case Knitter makes clear the complex structures political economic and social as well as religious that face those who approach this task While articulating a this worldly soteriology necessary to overcome our eco human plight Knitter offers practical considerations on actions and projects that have and should have been undertaken to stem the tide of environmental and human suffering The global crisis is both at the center of One Earth Many Religions and a test case for Knitter and others engaged in the dialogue of religions Can religious differences concerning the nature of the transcendent themselves be transcended in order to promote eco human well being The issue seems basic and clarifies interreligious dialogue cannot effect such a change then one must question whether religion is of any use whatsoever

Cold War Criticism and the Politics of Skepticism Tobin Siebers, 1993 Claiming that a Cold War mentality has impaired the ability of literary theorists to talk about the politics of criticism effectively the author of this treatise argues that modern criticism is a child of the Cold War

(Post)Critical Methodologies: The Science Possible After the Critiques Patti Lather, 2017-02-03 In the World Library of Educationalists series international experts themselves compile career long collections of what they judge to be their finest pieces extracts from books key articles salient research findings major theoretical and practical contributions so the world can read them in a single manageable volume Readers will be able to follow the themes and strands and see how their work contributes to the development of the field Post Critical Methodologies forms a chronology through the texts and concepts that span Patti Lather's career Examining post critical feminist and poststructural theories Lather's work is organized into thematic sections that span her 35 years of study in this field These sections include original contributions formed from Lather's feminism and critical theory background They contain her most cited works on feminist research and pedagogy and form a collection of both early and recent writings on the post and post post with a focus on critical policy studies and the future of post qualitative work With a focus on the implications for qualitative inquiry given the call for scientifically based research in education this compelling overview moves through Lather's progressive thoughts on bridging the gap between quantitative and qualitative research in education and provides a unique commentary on some of the most important issues in higher education over the last 30 years This compilation of Lather's contribution to educational thinking will prove compelling reading to all those engaged in student learning in higher education worldwide

Working the Ruins Elizabeth St. Pierre, Wanda Pillow, 2002-05-03 From some of the leading feminist scholars in education comes a collection of writings discussing how they use feminist poststructural theory in their classrooms and research Drawing on real life situations in their work they show how using this theory has transformed their work Topics covered include theory in everyday life ethnography writing the body emotions in the classroom qualitative research and gossip as a counter discourse The range of topics processes and styles presented provides the reader with a variety of examples illustrating the diversity and power of the effects of poststructural theory as well as showing the possibilities of work still to be done Un/Popular Culture Kathleen Martindale, 1997-03-13 Offers a lucidly written analysis of the complex and provocative terrain of lesbian literary and cultural theory
