Seismic Design of Precast Concrete Building Structures fib Fédération internationale du béton, 2003-01-01. The aim of this state of art report is to present current practices for use of precast and prestressed concrete in countries in seismic regions to recommend good practice and to discuss current developments. The report has been drafted by 30 contributors from nine different countries. This state of art report covers state of the practice in various countries advantages and disadvantages of incorporating precast reinforced and prestressed concrete in construction lessons learned from previous earthquakes construction concepts design approaches primary lateral load resisting systems precast and prestressed concrete frame systems and structural walls including dual systems diaphragms of precast and prestressed concrete floor units modelling and analytical methods gravity load resisting systems foundations and miscellaneous elements shells folded plates stairs and architectural cladding panels. Design equations are reported where necessary but the emphasis is on principles. Ordinary cast in place reinforced concrete is not considered in this report. This fib state of the art report is intended to assist designers and constructors to provide safe and economical applications of structural precast concrete and at the same time to allow innovation in design and construction to continue.
