The total number of cases remained relatively low, the reasons of which might be the following parties were not familiar with the CISG and therefore decided to opt out of it. In addition, the case collection and report systems in China at that time were not as developed as now, rendering many cases inaccessible. This book provides a comprehensive and detailed analysis of selected cases. The analysis of those cases is on a case-by-case basis. For each case, an English summary of the judgment is provided. In the comment, the People's Courts' approach to the interpretation and application of the CISG is emphasized. Comments of the individual case are written either by scholars or judges or lawyers from international and comparative perspective to discuss the successes and pitfalls of the interpretation and application of the CISG. Proceedings of Topical Issues in International Political Geography Radomir Bolgov, Vadim Atnashev, Yury Gladkiy, Art Leete, Alexey Tsyb, Sergey Pogodin, Andrei Znamenski, 2021-07-08. Surrealism and the People's Republic of China Lauren Walden, 2025-11-13. This study investigates cultural exchange between the Surrealist movement and the People's Republic of China. In 1949, Surrealist art was officially prohibited under Mao's rule. In 1976, however, the book interrogates potent tensions in clandestinely created surrealist artworks by Zhao Shou and Sha Qi, who discovered the movement while studying abroad. Furthermore, Walden explores how several European Surrealists aligned Chinese calligraphy with automatism, as well as Michel Leiris and Marcel Marié's travels to Maoist China and their diametrically opposed visions of the nation. Amidst post-socialism, the book posits that the 85 New Wave consciously employed Surrealism to process the traumatic Cultural Revolution 1966-1976 and react to newfound societal freedoms. Subsequently, the volume considers why a new artistic tendency of surrealist pop emerged in the 1990s. At present, Lauren Walden reveals how Surrealism has become officialised and even promoted by Chinese authorities owing to revolutionary resonances between traditional Chinese art and the western avant-garde. The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history, Chinese studies, and Surrealism. Decoded Messages Hou-mei Sung, 2009. During the Ming Dynasty, numerous new animal themes were created to convey political and ethical messages current at court. As the result, a sophisticated language of Chinese animal painting was developed, employing both the animals' symbolic associations and homonymic puns. Hou-mei Sung's exciting rediscovery of some of these lost meanings has led to a full-scale investigation of the evolving history of Chinese animal painting. Distinct symbolic meanings were associated with individual motifs, but all animals were assigned a place in the universe according to the Chinese concept of nature. From the very early yin-yang cosmology to later developments of Daoist and Confucian philosophies and ethics, Chinese animals gained new meanings related to their historical contexts. This book explores these new findings using the colorful animal images and their rich and evolving symbolic meanings to gain insight into unique aspects of Chinese art as well as Chinese culture and history.

Commentaries on Selected Model Investment Treaties Chester Brown, 2013-01-17. The existing literature on the substantive and procedural aspects of bilateral investment treaties (BITs) relies heavily on investment treaty arbitration decisions as a source of law. What is missing is a comprehensive analytical review of state practice. This volume fills this gap, providing detailed analyses of the investment treaty policy and practice of nineteen leading capital exporting states and emerging market economies. The authors are leading experts in government academia and private legal practice, and their chapters are largely based on primary source materials. Each chapter provides a description of the regulatory or policy framework governing foreign investment, both inflows and outflows, with a historical presentation of the state's Model BIT, an examination of internal government processes.

and practices relating to treaty negotiation conclusion ratification and record keeping and a detailed article by article analytical commentary of the state s Model BIT elucidating the policy behind each provision and highlighting the ways in which the actual investment treaty practice of that state deviates from this standard text This commentary is supplemented by the case law relevant to that state s investment treaties This commentary will be of immense assistance to counsel and arbitrators engaged in arguing and determining the proper interpretation of BITs and investment chapters in Free Trade Agreements and to government officials and scholars engaged in BIT policy formulation and implementation It will serve as a standard resource for legal practitioners scholars policy makers and other stakeholders in the field of international investment policy law and arbitration

The Future History of Contemporary Chinese Art Peggy

Wang,2021-01-26 A revelatory reclaiming of five iconic Chinese artists and their place in art history During the 1980s and 1990s a group of Chinese artists Zhang Xiaogang Wang Guangyi Sui Jianguo Zhang Peili and Lin Tianmiao ascended to new heights of international renown Even as their fame increased they came to be circumscribed by simplistic Western interpretations of their artworks as social and political critiques a perspective that privileged stories of dissidence over deep engagement with the art itself Through in depth case studies of these five artists Peggy Wang offers a corrective to previous appraisals demonstrating how their works address fundamental questions about the forms meanings and possibilities of art

By the end of the 1980s Chinese artists were scrutinizing earlier waves of Western influence and turning instead to their own heritage and culture to forge their own future histories. As the national trauma of the 1989 Tiananmen Square massacre converged with the mounting expansion of the global art world, these artists turned to art as a profoundly generative site for grappling with their place in the world. Wang demonstrates how they consciously and energetically sought to make their own ideas about art and art history visible in contemporary art. Wang's argument is informed by extensive primary research including close examination of the artworks, analysis of Chinese language documents and archives, and deeply personal interviews with the artists. Their words uncover layers of meaning previously obscured by the popular and often recycled assessments that many of these works have received until now. Beyond Wang's reinterpretation of these individual artists, she contributes to an urgent conversation on the future direction of art history: how do we map engagements between art from different parts of the world that are embedded within different art histories? What does it mean for histories of contemporary art and art history more generally to be inclusive? The new understandings offered in this book can and should be engaged when considering current hierarchies in histories of Chinese art, the global art world, and the intersections between them.

Shanghai Mundane Lei Ping, 2025-09-18 This book offers a new critical intervention into the studies of the paradox of Chinese socialism. Centering on the unremovable Shanghai bourgeoisie and middle class, the book brilliantly discovers Chinese society's persistent aspiration to bourgeois lifestyle and remarkable resistance to socialist ideology from the Mao era to the Xi era. Shanghai Mundane offers a new critical intervention into the studies of the paradox of Chinese socialism. Through the lens of contested state-society relations, the book challenges conventional China Studies by repositioning Shanghai as the key to decode the protracted ideological warfare between socialism and capitalism. Based on significant archival, ethnographic, and theoretical evidence unearthed from the distinct cases of Shanghai bourgeoisie and middle class, Lei Ping discovers the city's persistent aspiration to bourgeois lifestyle and remarkable resistance to socialist ideology throughout the entire history of the People's Republic of China. Ping argues that despite the socialist remolding of capitalist industry and commerce, the post-1949 Chinese state failed to eradicate bourgeois heritage in the domain of everyday life in the Mao era, which ironically contributed to its controversial policy reversals in the post-Mao era from Deng to Xi. What lies at the heart of the major intellectual conundrum namely the survival and revival of bourgeois sentiments is what Ping calls the unremovable Shanghai mundane This captivating and provocative account sheds new light on understanding the larger questions as to the crisis ridden practices of Chinese socialism and the raison d'être of the Chinese Communist Party in the twenty first century UNESCO Art Collection Selected works UNESCO,2021-11-19 Painting Nature for the Nation Rosina Buckland,2012-12-10 In Painting Nature for the Nation Taki Katei and the Challenges to Sinophile Culture in Meiji Japan Rosina Buckland offers an account of the career of the painter Taki Katei 1830 1901 Drawing on a large body of previously unpublished paintings collaborative works and book illustrations by this highly successful yet neglected figure Buckland traces how Katei transformed his art and practice based in modes derived from China in order to fulfil the needs of the modern nation state at large scale exhibitions and at the imperial court She provides a rare examination of the vibrant world of Chinese inspired culture during the 1880s and the hostility which it faced in the following decade Women of Chinese Modern Art Doris Sung,2023-12-31 Winner of the SECAC Award for Excellence in Scholarly Research and Publication Bringing to light the largely overlooked female participation in domestic and international art worlds this book offers the first comprehensive study of how women embroiderers traditionalist calligraphers and painters including Shen Shou Wu Xingfen Jin Taotao and members of Chinese Women's Society of Calligraphy and Painting shaped the terrain of the modern art world and gender positioning during China's important moments of social cultural transformation from empire to republic Drawing on a wealth of previously unexhibited artworks rare artist's monographs women's journals personal narratives diaries and catalogs of international expositions Doris Sung not only affirms women's significant roles as guardian and innovator of traditionalist art forms for a modern nation but she also reveals their contribution to cultural diplomacy and revaluation of Chinese artistic heritage on the international stage in the early twentieth century Future Information Engineering and Manufacturing Science Dawei Zheng,2015-02-25 The 2014 International Conference on Future Information Engineering and Manufacturing Science FIEMS 2014 was held June 26 27 in Beijing China The objective of FIEMS 2014 was to provide a platform for researchers engineers academics as well as industry professionals from all over the world to present their research results and development activities The Publisher ,1904 Alternatives in Print ,1979
