Self Realization And Self Defeat:

Self-realization and Self-defeat Samuel J. Warner, 1966 Self-Fulfillment Alan Gewirth, 2009-11-02 Cultures around the world have regarded self fulfillment as the ultimate goal of human striving and as the fundamental test of the goodness of a human life The ideal has also been criticized however as egotistical or as so value neutral that it fails to distinguish between for example self fulfilled sinners and self fulfilled saints Alan Gewirth presents here a systematic and highly original study of self fulfillment that seeks to overcome these and other arguments and to justify the high place that the ideal has been accorded He does so by developing an ethical theory that ultimately grounds the value of self fulfillment in the idea of the dignity of human beings Gewirth begins by distinguishing two models of self fulfillment aspiration fulfillment and capacity fulfillment and shows how each of these contributes to the intrinsic value of human life He then distinguishes between three types of morality universalist particularist and personalist and shows how each contributes to the values embodied in self fulfillment Building on these ideas he develops a Odialectical conception of reason that shows how human rights are central to self fulfillment Gewirth also argues that self fulfillment has a social as well as an individual dimension that the nature of society and the obstacles that disadvantaged groups face affect strongly the character of the self fulfillment that persons can achieve Bold in scope and rigorous in execution Self Fulfillment is a powerful new contribution to moral social and political philosophy Scientific Gestalt Ray Edwards, 2012-08-15 Goldstein Koffka Khler Lewin and Wertheimer were scientists who at the turn of the 20th century founded the gestalt approach in psychology Fritz Perls 1944 recognized the potential of the gestalt approach in psychotherapy and founded what is now the widespread system of gestalt therapy Perls understanding of gestalt theory was broadened by Zinker with recognition of stages of development of each gestalt so that what is now termed the Cleveland cycle of experience was recognized Ray Edwards has proposed two innovations First it is shown that completion and grounding of the gestalt cycle of events facilitates re energization of depressed people Second attention to Gendlins felt senses aided by use of David Groves clean subset of language facilitates freeing post trauma patients from the effect of recurrent nightmares and or flash backs The relevant felt senses are termed proto figures and are usually phenomena like butterflies in the stomach lumps in the stomach or throat and or clouds are hanging over me This present book sets these innovations in full historical context and reveals the gestalt system to be scientific in character Malcolm Parlett Ph D First Editor of the British Gestalt Journal commented on an earlier version of this book This is a thought provoking read a quirky and vividly argued alternative version of gestalt therapy that challenges most of the assumptions of contemporary Gestalt psychotherapy and will send many a reader flying to a computer to type a rebuttal But Ray Edwards book is definitely worth a look at not least for its acerbic criticisms and references to our past traditions I recommend the self published manuscript by an impressive maverick octagenarian gestalt thinker with strong opinions complete with its copious spelling errors and other forgiveable self indulgences Self-Criticism After the Defeat Sadik J. Al-Azm, 2012-01-23 The 1967 War which led to the defeat of Syria Jordan and Egypt by Israel felt like an unprecedented and unimaginable disaster for the Arab world at the time For many the easiest solution was to shift the blame and to ignore some of the glaring defects of Arab society Syrian philosopher Sadik al Azm was one of the few to challenge such a view in his seminal Self Criticism After the Defeat Exposing the political and cultural faults that led to the defeat he argued that the Arabs could only progress by embracing secularism gender equality democracy and science Available in English for the first time Self Criticism After the Defeat is a milestone in modern Arab intellectual history It marked a turning point in Arab discourse about society and politics on publication in 1968 and spawned other intellectual ventures into Arab self criticism
