Davi,2012-06-22 An autobiographical collaboration of subsequent journal entries of a poet delves behind the scenes of solitary tedium and introspection when a spark catches between the heart and brain and transforms into a pulsing literary song on the printed page Based in Brooklyn New York in the twentieth century the written word comes alive through a city dweller that gives his life for his art in the all too often darkness of poverty and the clash with social expectations While a friendly narrative of a life story threads into a likeable character the poetic expressions observations and essays surpass politics social issues of the day and religion and exposes the richness of beauty and the limitations of being human Melancholic in tone the writing dares to challenge the astute reader to explore the deeper and unspoken aspects of the human condition Christian and Lyric Tradition in Victorian Women's Poetry F. Elizabeth Gray,2009-09-10 Women in the Victorian period were acknowledged to be the religious sex but their relationship to the doctrines practices and hierarchies of Christianity was both highly circumscribed which has been well documented and complexly creative which has not Gray visits the importance of the literature of Christian devotion to women s creative lives through an examination of the varied ways in which Victorian women reproduced and recreated traditional Christian texts in their own poetic texts Investigating how women poets redeployed the discourse of Christianity to uncover the multiple voices of the scriptures to expand identity and gender constructions and to question traditional narratives and processes of authorization Gray contends that women found in religious poetry unexpected liberating possibilities Taking into account multiple voices from the best known female poets of the day to some of the most obscure this study provides a comprehensive account of Victorian women's religious poetic creativity and argues that this body of work helped shape the development of the lyric in the Victorian period The Art of Florence Harry Huntington Powers, 1912 Mornings with Masters of Art Harry Huntington Powers, 1912 Poetry Project, 2002 The Ingenious Gentleman and Poet Federico Garcia Lorca Ascends to Hell Carlos Rojas, 2013-04-18 DIV In Carlos Rojas's imaginative novel the Spanish poet Federico Garcia Lorca murdered by Francoist rebels in August 1936 finds himself in an inferno that somehow resembles Breughel's Tower of Babel He sits alone in a small theater in this private hell viewing scenes from his own life performed over and over and over Unexpectedly two doppelgangers appear one a middle aged Lorca the other an irascible octogenarian self and the poet faces a nightmarish confusion of alternative identities and destinies Carlos Rojas uses a fantastic premise Garcia Lorca in hell to reexamine the poet's life and speculate on alternatives to his tragic end Rojas creates with a surrealist's eye and a moral philosopher's mind He conjures a profoundly original world and in so doing earns a place among such international peers as Gabriel Garcia Marquez Philip Roth J M Coetzee and Jos Saramago div
