Jewett, James Parke Stuart, Chauncey Giles, Charles Holbrook Mann, 1872 Talking with

God J. Ben Pickering, 2014-05-11 Fact Prayer changes lives Fact Superman couldn't Batman didn't Wonder Woman wouldn't Fact You can Your super power is talking with God Fact You don't need a degree in theology anyone can pray In this book we discover there are three simple elements to prayer how to use them to effectively change our communication both with God and with other people and in doing so how these transform our minds from looking at the ordinary to achieving a spiritual understanding of how God looks at things When we pray we are talking with God not metaphorically or figuratively or symbolically but literally and in reality This book is a journey that explains in everyday language and examples just what prayer is and how we can find our own relationship with God prayer is His gift to allow us to change our lives and the lives of those around us Are you ready God is Looking Inward Jennifer Bryan, 2013-02-12 You must see yourself The exhortation was increasingly familiar to English men and women in the two centuries before the Reformation They encountered it repeatedly in their devotional books the popular guides to spiritual self improvement that were reaching an ever growing readership at the end of the Middle Ages But what did it mean to see oneself What was the nature of the self to be envisioned and what eyes and mirrors were needed to see and know it properly Looking Inward traces a complex network of answers to such questions exploring how English readers between 1350 and 1550 learned to envision examine and change themselves in the mirrors of devotional literature By all accounts it was the most popular literature of the period With literacy on the rise an outpouring of translations and adaptations flowed across traditional boundaries between religious and lay and between female and male audiences As forms of piety changed as social categories became increasingly porous and as the heart became an increasingly privileged and contested location the growth of devotional reading created a crucial arena for the making of literate subjectivities The models of private reading and self reflection constructed therein would have important implications not only for English spirituality but for social political and poetic identities up to the Reformation and beyond In Looking Inward Bryan examines a wide range of devotional and secular texts from works by Walter Hilton Julian of Norwich and Thomas Hoccleve to neglected translations like The Chastising of God's Children and The Pricking of Love She explores the models of identification and imitation through which they sought to reach the inmost selves of their readers and the scripts for spiritual desire that they offered for the cultivation of the heart Illuminating the psychological paradigms at the heart of the genre Bryan provides fresh insights into how late medieval men and women sought to know labor in and profit themselves by means of books
