Looking ... Seeing Harry Chapin, 1975 The Look of Lyric: Greek Song and the Visual, 2016-04-26 The Look of Lyric Greek Song and the Visual addresses the various modes of interaction between ancient Greek lyric poetry and the visual arts as well as more general notions of visibility It covers diverse poetic genres in a range of contexts radiating outwards from the original performance s to encompass their broader cultural settings the later reception of the poems and finally also their understanding in modern scholarship By focusing on the relationship between the visual and the verbal as well as the sensory and the mental this volume raises a wide range of questions concerning human perception and cultural practices As this collection of essays shows Greek lyric poetry played a decisive role in the shaping of both Reading in the Wilderness Jessica Brantley, 2008-09-15 Just as twenty first century technologies like blogs and wikis have transformed the once private act of reading into a public enterprise devotional reading experiences in the Middle Ages were dependent upon an oscillation between the solitary and the communal In Reading in the Wilderness Jessica Brantley uses tools from both literary criticism and art history to illuminate Additional MS 37049 an illustrated Carthusian miscellany housed in the British Library This revealing artifact Brantley argues closes the gap between group spectatorship and private study in late medieval England Drawing on the work of W J T Mitchell Michael Camille and others working at the image text crossroads Reading in the Wilderness addresses the manuscript s texts and illustrations to examine connections between reading and performance within the solitary monk s cell and also outside Brantley reimagines the medieval codex as a site where the meanings of images and words are performed both publicly and privately in the act of reading The Poetics of American Song Lyrics Charlotte Pence, 2012 Poets teachers and musicologists fusing studies of form scansion and musical creation to redefine the place of the American bard Herself an Author Grace S. field this work is a timely contribution that eminently deserves our attention Given the inclusion of translations of some of the texts discussed the book provides a comprehensive introduction to the reading of women s poetry of the Ming Qing period Wilt Idema Harvard University Herself an Author addresses the critical question of how to approach the study of women s writing It explores various methods of engaging in a meaningful way with a rich corpus of poetry and prose written by women of the late Ming and Qing periods much of it rediscovered by the author in rare book collections in China and the United States The volume treats different genres of writing and includes translations of texts that are made available for the first time in English Among the works considered are the life long poetic record of Gan Lirou the lyrical travel journal kept by Wang Fengxian and the erotic poetry of the concubine Shen Cai Taking the view that gentry women s varied textual production was a form of cultural practice Grace Fong examines women s autobiographical poetry collections travel writings and critical discourse on the subject of women s poetry offering fresh insights on women s intervention into the dominant male literary tradition The wealth of texts translated and discussed here include fascinating documents written by concubines women who occupied a subordinate position in the family and social system Fong adopts the notion of agency as a theoretical focus to investigate forms of subjectivity and enactments of subject positions in the intersection between textual practice and social inscription Her reading of the life and work of women writers reveals surprising instances and modes of self empowerment within the gender constraints of Confucian orthodoxy Fong argues that literate women in late imperial China used writing and reading to create literary and social communities transcend temporal spatial and social limitations and represent themselves as the authors of their own life histories National Union Catalog ,1978 Includes entries for maps and atlases
