Lovers Of Cinema The First American Film Avant Garde 1919 1945:

Lovers of Cinema Jan-Christopher Horak, 1995 Marshaling his broad cinematic and cultural knowledge editor Jan Christopher Horak has compiled in Lovers of Cinema a groundbreaking group of articles on this neglected film period With one exception all are original to this volume and many are the first to treat comprehensively such early filmmakers as Mary Ellen Bute Theodore Huff and Douglass Crockwell Also included in the book is a listing of all American avant garde films produced in the years before World War II as well as a bibliography of the most relevant criticism literature and news accounts

Adaptation and the Avant-Garde William Verrone, 2011-09-29 Adaptations have occurred regularly since the beginning of cinema but little recognition has been given to avant garde adaptations of literary or other texts This compelling study corrects such omissions by detailing the theory and practice of alternative adaptation practices from major avant garde directors Avant Garde films are often relegated to the margins because they challenge our traditional notions of what film form and style can accomplish Directors who choose to adapt previous material run the risk of severe critical dismay making films that are highly subjective interpretations or representations of existing texts takes courage and foresight An avant garde adaptation provokes spectators by making them re think what they know about film itself just as much as the previous source material Adaptation and the Avant Garde examines films by Peter Greenaway Jean Luc Godard Guy Maddin Jan Svankmajer and many others offering illuminating insights and making us reconsider the nature of adaptation appropriation borrowing and the re imagining of previous sources

The Avant-Garde Feature Film William E.B. Verrone, 2011-11-08 Here is a critical and historical overview of unconventional and aesthetically challenging films all of feature length The author focuses on the particular forms of contemporary avant garde films which often rely on characteristics associated with historical films of the same genre Included are works by such visionary filmmakers as David Lynch Luis Bunuel Jean Cocteau Jean Luc Godard Guy Maddin and Derek Jarman The first of the two appendices contains a filmography of key avant garde feature films from Haxan Witchcraft Through the Ages 1922 to Maximum Shame 2010 The second appendix offers a brief list of directors who have made significant contributions to films that take alternative approaches to cinematic practice establishing new grounds for analysis and evaluation n En palabras de su compilador se trata de rectificar una parte de la negligencia con la que se ha tratado a los primeros cineastas y películas de vanguardia. Pese a la exhaustiva labor de busca y rastreo por parte de Posner y otros historiadores del cine para desenterrar las copias de los filmes incluidos en la colección a día de hoy muchas no han sido recuperadas.

The Documentary Film Reader Jonathan Kahana, 2016 Bringing together an expansive range of writing by scholars, critics, historians and filmmakers The Documentary Film Reader presents an international perspective on the most significant developments and debates from several decades of critical writing about documentary. Each of the book's seven sections covers a distinct period in the history of documentary, collecting both contemporary and retrospective views of filmmaking in the era. And each section is prefaced by an introductory essay that explains its design and provides critical context. Painstakingly selected from the archives of more than a hundred years of cinema practice and theory, the essays, reviews, interviews, manifestos and ephemera gathered in this volume suit the needs and interests of the beginning student, the advanced scholar, the casual reader and the working documentarian.

Film and Literary Modernism Robert P. McParland, 2014-08-26 In Film and Literary Modernism the connections between film, modernist literature and the arts are explored by an international group of scholars. The impact of cinema upon our ways of seeing the world is highlighted in essays on city symphony films, avant-garde cinema, European filmmaking and key directors and personalities from Charlie Chaplin, Sergei Eisenstein and Alain Renais to Alfred Hitchcock and Mae West. Contributors investigate the impact of film upon T. S. Eliot, time and stream of consciousness in Virginia Woolf and Henri Bergson, the racial undercurrents in the film adaptations of Ernest Hemingway's fiction and examine the film writing of William Faulkner, James Agee and Graham Greene. Robert McParland assembles an international group of researchers including independent film makers, critics and professors of film, creative writers, teachers of architecture and design and young doctoral scholars who offer a multi-faceted look at modernism and the art of the film.

Shadow Economies of Cinema Ramon Lobato, 2012-03-12 How do people access movies today? What are the most popular and powerful channels for media distribution on a global scale? How are film industries changing in the face of media convergence and digitisation? To answer questions such as these, argues Ramon Lobato, we must shift our gaze away from the legal film business and toward cinema's shadow economies. All around the world, films are bought from roadside stalls, local markets and grocery stores; they are illegally downloaded and streamed; they are watched in makeshift video clubs on street corners and in restaurants, shops and bars. International film culture in its actually existing forms is a messy affair and it relies to a great extent on black and grey media markets. Examining the industrial dynamics of these subterranean film networks across a number of different sites from Los Angeles to Lagos, Melbourne to Mexico City, this book shows how they constitute a central rather than marginal part of audiovisual culture and commerce. Combining film industry analysis with cultural theory, Shadow Economies of Cinema opens up a new area of inquiry for cinema studies, putting industry research into dialogue with wider debates about economic informality and commodity circulation. Written in an accessible style this book offers an original bottom up perspective on the global cinema industry for researchers and students in film studies cultural studies and media and communications

Amateur Cinema Charles Tepperman, 2014-12-24 From the very beginning of cinema there have been amateur filmmakers at work It wasn't until Kodak introduced 16mm film in 1923 however that amateur moviemaking became a widespread reality and by the 1950s over a million Americans had amateur movie cameras In Amateur Cinema Charles Tepperman explores the meaning of the amateur in film history and modern visual culture In the middle decades of the twentieth century the period that saw Hollywood's rise to dominance in the global film industry a movement of amateur filmmakers created an alternative world of small scale movie production and circulation Organized amateur moviemaking was a significant phenomenon that gave rise to dozens of clubs and thousands of participants producing experimental nonfiction or short subject narratives Rooted in an examination of surviving films this book traces the contexts of advanced amateur cinema and articulates the broad aesthetic and stylistic tendencies of amateur films

Found Sculpture and Photography from Surrealism to Contemporary Art offers fresh perspectives on the sculptural object by relating it to both surrealist concerns with chance and the crucial role of photography in framing the everyday. This collection of essays questions the nature of sculptural practice looking to forms of production and reproduction that blur the boundaries between things that are made and things that are found. One of the book's central themes is the interplay of presence and absence in sculpture as it is highlighted, disrupted or multiplied through photography's indexical nature. The essays examine the surrealist three-dimensional object, its relation to and transformation through photographs as well as the enduring legacies of such concerns for the artwork's materiality and temporality in performance and conceptual practices from the 1960s through the present. Found Sculpture and Photography sheds new light on the shifts in status of the art object, challenging the specificity of visual practices pursuing a radical interrogation of agency in modern and contemporary practices and exploring the boundaries between art and everyday life.

The Complete History of American Film Criticism
Jerry Roberts, 2010-02-19. The Complete History of American Film Criticism is a chronicle of the lives and work of the most influential film critics of the past 100 years. From the first movie review in the New York Times in 1896 through the Silent Era, the pre and postwar years, the Film Generation of the 1960s, the Golden Age of the 1970s and into the 21st century, critics have educated generations of discriminating moviegoers on the differences between good films and bad. They call attention to great directors, cinematographers, production designers, screenwriters and actors and shed light on their artistic visions and storytelling sensibilities. People interested in what the great film critics had to say have usually been shortchanged as to their backgrounds and just why they are qualified to sit in judgment. Using mini biographies placed within a chronological framework, The Complete History of American Film Criticism is the biography of a profession whose cultural impact has left an indelible mark on the 20th century's most significant art form.
