Wicks, 2000 Family, Self, and Human Development Across Cultures Cigdem Kagitcibasi, 2007-03-09 Reflecting author igdem Kagit ibasi s influential work over the last two decades this new edition examines human development the self and the family in a cultural context It challenges the existing assumptions in mainstream western psychology about the nature of individuals The author proposes a new model the Autonomous Related Self which expands on existing theory by demonstrating how culture influences self development The development of competence is examined from a contextual perspective with a view towards global urbanization which is creating increasingly similar lifestyles around the world The implications of this perspective are discussed extensively particularly early intervention policy implications related to promoting human competence in immigration and acculturation Rich in both theory and application each topic is introduced with a historical antecedent and earlier research before current work is discussed This new edition also features a new theoretical perspective that integrates cultural variation with universal human development trajectories in the context of social change globalization and immigration two new chapters on Parenting and the Development of the Autonomous Related Self and Immigration and Acculturation a more student friendly approach with boxed stories summary and main point reviews discussion questions and an extensive bibliography in each chapter and a comprehensive glossary of all the book s key terms for a quick reference Intended as a graduate or advanced undergraduate level text for courses addressing cross cultural psychology taught in a variety of departments including developmental community family and educational psychology this comprehensive volume will also appeal to researchers interested in issues of human development in a socio cultural context Changing Life Patterns Elizabeth Liebert,2000 Family and Human Development Across Cultures Cigdem Kagitibasi,2014-03-05 The culmination of 15 years of research by a Turkish psychologist who was educated in the West this volume examines both the theoretical and practical aspects of cross cultural psychology It takes a contextual developmental functional approach linking the child family and society as they are embedded in culture A refreshingly different view the author presents a portrait of human development from the other side from the perspective of the majority world In a world seemingly dominated by American psychology she proposes the cross cultural orientation as a corrective to the culture boundedness of much of Euro American psychology Analyzing human development in context while avoiding the pitfalls of extreme relativism this work studies development with an inclusive holistic and ecological perspective focusing on the development of the self and of competence In so doing it also attempts to combine cultural contextualism with universalistic standards and psychological processes It proposes a theory of family change which challenges some commonly held modernization assumptions and links theory and application while examining the role of psychology in inducing social change Discovering Biblical Equality Ronald W. Feminist Periodicals, 1991 Sex and Love in the Home, Second Edition David M. McCarthy, 2011-01-01 This book inaugurates a completely new way of thinking about the ethics of marriage and sex I know of no book on the subject more promising than what McCarthy has achieved here Stanley Hauerwas Gilbert T Rowe Professor of Theological Ethics Duke University Much has been written in Christian theology about sex love and procreation but their social meanings and contributions are much more rarely addressed McCarthy now takes this greatly neglected task eloquently connecting the Christian household to the common good All those who want to realize the social vocation of the Christian family will find in this work a rich and challenging resource for understanding and for life Lisa Sowle Cahill J Donald Monan Professor of Theology Boston College Drawing on his own experience of learning how to be a husband and father David Matzko McCarthy offers wonderfully incisive and readable reflections on the habits of the household a neighborly space which resists consumerism and enables sexual relationships to be ordinary meaningful and passionate If you think that all that Christian theology has to say about sex and relationships is twaddle about complementarity and family values then this is the book for you Gerard Loughlin Senior Lecturer in Religious Studies University of Newcastle upon Tyne American Bookseller, 1989
