Emilie L. Bergmann

Loving In The War Years Lo Que Nunca Paso Por Sus Labios:

Loving in the War Years Cherrie Moraga, 1983 Weaving together poetry and prose Spanish and English family history and political theory Loving in the War Years has been a classic in the feminist and Chicano canon since its 1983 release It remains a testament of Moraga's coming of age as a Chicana and a lesbian at a time when the political merging of those two identities was severely censured Loving in the War Years Cherrie Moraga, 2023-08-15 An updated edition combining two classic works of Chicana and queer literature with a new introduction by renowned writer and luminary Cherr e Moraga In celebration of the 40th anniversary of its original publication this updated edition of Loving in the War Years combines Moraga's classic memoir with The Last Generation Poetry and Prose resulting in a challenging inspiring and insightful touchstone for artists and activists and for anyone striving to foster care and community Cherr e Moraga's powerful memoir remains as urgent as ever She explores the intersections of her Chicana and lesbian identities moving gracefully between poetry and prose Spanish and English personal narratives and political theory Moraga recounts navigating the world largely as an outsider circling the interconnected societies around her from a distant yet observant perspective Ultimately however her writing serves as a bridge between her cultures languages family and herself enabling her to look inward to forge connections from otherwise inaccessible parts of her interior world to show how deep self awareness and compassionate engagement with one's surroundings are key to building global solidarity among people and political movements

Encyclopedia of Hispanic-American Literature Luz Elena Ramirez, 2015-04-22 Presents a reference on Hispanic American literature providing profiles of Hispanic American writers and their works English Literature and the Other Languages, 2022-06-08 The thirty essays in English Literature and the Other Languages trace how the tangentiality of English and other modes of language affects the production of English literature and investigate how questions of linguistic code can be made accessible to literary analysis This collection studies multilingualism from the Reformation onwards when Latin was an alternative to the emerging vernacular of the Anglican nation the eighteenth century confrontation between English and the languages of the colonies the process whereby the standard British English of the colonizer has lost ground to independent englishes American Canadian Indian Caribbean Nigerian or New Zealand English that now consider the original standard British English as the other languages the interaction between English and a range of British language varieties including Welsh Irish and Scots the Lancashire and Dorset dialects as well as working class idiom Chicano literature translation and self translation Ezra Pound's revitalization of English in the Cantos and the psychogrammar and comic dialogics in Joyce's Ulysses As Norman Blake puts it in his Afterword to English Literature and the Other Languages There has been no volume such as this which tries to take stock of the whole area and to put multilingualism in literature on the map It is a subject which has been neglected for too long and this volume is to be welcomed for its brave attempt to fill this lacuna Entiendes? Emilie L. Bergmann, 1995 Entiendes is literally translated as Do you understand Do you get it But those who do get it will also hear within this question a subtler meaning Are you queer Are you one of us The issues of gay and lesbian identity represented by this question are explored for the first time in the context of Spanish and Hispanic literature in this groundbreaking anthology Combining intimate knowledge of Spanish speaking cultures with contemporary queer theory these essays address texts that share both a common language and a concern with lesbian gay and bisexual identities Using a variety of approaches the contributors tease the homoerotic messages out of a wide range of works from chronicles of colonization in the Caribbean to recent Puerto Rican writing from the work of Cervantes to that of the most outrageous contemporary Latina performance artists This volume offers a methodology for examining work by authors and artists whose sexuality is not so much open as an open secret respecting for example the biographical privacy of writers like Gabriela Mistral while responding to the voices that speak in their writing Contributing to an archeology of queer discourses Entiendes also includes important studies of terminology and encoded homosexuality in Argentine literature and Caribbean journalism of the late nineteenth century Whether considering homosexual panic in the stories of Borges performances by Latino AIDS activists in Los Angeles queer lives in turn of the century Havana and Buenos Aires or the mapping of homosexual geographies of 1930s New York in Lorca's Ode to Walt Whitman Entiendes is certain to stir interest at the crossroads of sexual and national identities while proving to be an invaluable resource

Across Genres, Generations and Borders Susanna Scarparo, Rita Wilson, 2004 This book examines the processes involved in writing the lives of women both as autobiographies and as biographies Some essays are theoretical discussions about the constructions of self articulation in women's life writing Others are more autobiographical emphasizing the importance of self articulation for creating possibilities for self direction Adopting different theoretical approaches chapters in this collection highlight the connections between subjectivity and history feminist concerns about mothering and the mother daughter relationships autobiography discourse and its framing of the relationship between text and life and the ethics of constructing biographies The book is divided into three parts the first part focuses on the process of writing lives as expressed but also contested in epistolary narratives autobiography and historical fiction The second part considers notions of female genealogy and the relationship with the maternal both biological and symbolic The third part comprises articles which deal with writing outside geographical and metaphorical borders

Narratives of Greater Mexico Héctor Calderón, 2004 Once relegated to the borders of literature neither Mexican nor truly American Chicana o writers have always been in the vanguard of change articulating the multicultural ethnicities shifting identities border realities and even postmodern anxieties and hostilities that already characterize the twenty first century Indeed it is Chicana o writers very in between ness that makes them authentic spokespersons for an America that is becoming increasingly Mexican Latin American and for a Mexico that is ever more Americanized In this pioneering study Hector Calder n looks at seven Chicana and Chicano writers whose narratives constitute what he terms an American Mexican literature Drawing on the concept of Greater Mexican culture first articulated by Am rico Paredes Calder n explores how the works of Paredes Rudolfo Anaya Tom s Rivera Oscar Zeta Acosta Cherr e Moraga Rolando Hinojosa and Sandra Cisneros derive from Mexican literary traditions and genres that reach all the way back to the colonial era His readings cover a wide span of time 1892 2001 from the invention of the Spanish Southwest in the nineteenth century to the Am rica Mexicana that is currently emerging on both sides of the border In addition to his own readings of the works Calder n also includes the writers perspectives on their place in American Mexican literature through excerpts from their personal papers and interviews correspondence and e mail exchanges he conducted with most of them Lavender and Red Emily K.

Hobson, 2016-11-01 LGBT activism is often imagined as a self contained struggle inspired by but set apart from other social movements Lavender and Red recounts a far different story a history of queer radicals who understood their sexual liberation as intertwined with solidarity against imperialism war and racism This politics was born in the late 1960s but survived well past Stonewall propelling a gay and lesbian left that flourished through the end of the Cold War The gay and lesbian left found its center in the San Francisco Bay Area a place where sexual self determination and revolutionary internationalism converged Across the 1970s its activists embraced socialist and women of color feminism and crafted queer opposition to militarism and the New Right In the Reagan years they challenged U S intervention in Central America collaborated with their peers in Nicaragua and mentored the first direct action against AIDS Bringing together archival research oral histories and vibrant images Emily K Hobson rediscovers the radical queer past for a generation of activists today The Wounded Heart Yvonne Yarbro-Bejarano, 2011-05-18 In her work as poet essayist editor dramatist and public intellectual Chicana lesbian writer Cherr e Moraga has been extremely influential in current debates on culture and identity as an ongoing open ended process Analyzing the in between spaces in Moraga s writing where race gender class and sexuality intermingle this first book length study of Moraga s work focuses on her writing of the body and related material practices of sex desire and pleasure Yvonne Yarbro Bejarano divides the book into three sections which analyze Moraga s writing of the body her dramaturgy in the context of both dominant and alternative Western theatrical traditions and her writing of identities and racialized desire Through close textual readings of Loving in the War Years Giving Up the Ghost Shadow of a Man Heroes and Saints The Last Generation and Waiting in the Wings Yarbrow Bejarano contributes to the development of a language to talk about sexuality as potentially empowering the place of desire within politics and the intricate workings of racialized desire

Women Writing Women Patricia Hart, Karen Weathermon, Susan Hodge Armitage, 2006-01-01 By merging scholarly writing with personal life stories Women Writing Women creates a new setting for communicating the unique experiences of women The interdisciplinary nature of this volume incorporating authors ideas on identity gender and social realities illuminates a rich diversity of experiences To give voice to the different realities women live in and write from the editors have divided the anthology into four sections writing about the self writing about the family and other intimate relationships writing about the women they study and writing about women from sources such as diaries and letters Within this framework women touch on subjects such as ethnicity sexuality motherhood and feminist versus traditional values The result is a collection of essays that pays tribute to women s complex realities and to their critical creativity in writing about those realities
