Miller, 2010-01-30 SHere is a lucid deftly told story of the healing power of love and the tenacity of spirit But this is also a suspense tale with a redemptive twist a genuine metaphysical thriller that seizes the soul and keeps you up until midnight turning the pages Tim Farrington author of The Monk Downstairs and The Monk Upstairs Irish Catholic identities

Oliver P. Rafferty, 2015-06-01 What does it mean to be Irish Are the predicates Catholic and Irish so inextricably linked that it is impossible to have one and not the other Does the process of secularisation in modern times mean that Catholicism is no longer a touchstone of what it means to be Irish Indeed was such a paradigm ever true These are among the fundamental issues addressed in this work which examines whether distinct identity formation can be traced over time The book delineates the course of historical developments which complicated the process of identity formation in the Irish context when by turns Irish Catholics saw themselves as battling against English hegemony or the Protestant Reformation Without doubt the Reformation era cast a long shadow over how Irish Catholics would see themselves But the process of identity formation was of much longer duration Newly available in paperback this work traces the elements which have shaped how the Catholic Irish identified themselves and explores the political religious and cultural dimensions of the complex picture which is Irish Catholic identity The essays represent a systematic attempt to explore the fluidity of the components that make up Catholic identity in Ireland The Queer Bookishness of Romanticism Michael E. Robinson, 2021-01-15 How did the buying and collecting of books figure in the lives and works of the Romantics those supposed apostles of spiritualized poetic genius Why was book collecting controversial during the Romantic period and what role has book collecting played in the history of homophobia The Queer Bookishness of Romanticism Ornamental Community addresses these and more questions about the suppressed bookish dimension of Romanticism as well as Romanticism's historical forebears and Victorian inheritors. The analysis ranges widely addressing the bookish proclivities of the romantic friends the Ladies of Llangollen the camp works about book collecting produced by a subculture calling themselves ornamental gentlemen narratives of prototypically punk collecting and flouting by the essayist and collector Charles Lamb and rare book forgeries by Thomas J. Wise and Harry Forman queer bibliographer scholars responsible for canonizing some of the Romantic poets during the Victorian period. In the process this book uncovers surprising connections between conceptions of literature and sexuality literary materiality and queerness and forgery sexuality and authorship. Light Through the Crack Sue Mosteller, 2007-12-18 A deeply moving and engaging work of Christian spirituality in the tradition of Henri Nouwen written by his close friend and literary executrix Sue Mosteller has had a rich life as a spiritual adventurer and as a member and leader of L'Arche Community where she first met the great spiritual writer Henri Nouwen. In Light Through the Crack she tells her own story and the stories of the people she has known throughout her life. She writes about her family and her upbringing the fifty years she has spent with the Sisters of St. Joseph her thirty years of involvement with L'Arche Daybreak Community where people with disabilities and those who assist them create a home together and her close twenty-year friendship with Nouwen. With grace and humor she explores the relationships she has formed and the difficulties that go with them. Through her varied experiences she has learned that it is impossible to live with people over the long term and hide your flaws and vulnerabilities. Leonard Cohen once wrote in a song "There is a crack in everything That's how the light gets in." Combining revealing memoir and the inspirational stories of others Mosteller brings to life the meaning of that resonant phrase and illuminates why human weaknesses the cracks in our personalities are actually the greatest sources of light for the world. Faulkner, Welty, Wright Annette Trefzer, Jay Watson, James G.
