writing under the name of Hugh MacDiarmid was a major modern poet and founder of the Scottish literary Renaissance In this study of his poetry John Baglow eliminates what has been a stumbling block for most MacDiarmid scholars by showing the very real thematic and psychological consistency which underlines MacDiarmid's work He demonstrates the extent to which the work was dominated by a desire to find a faith that could justify his desire to write poetry a desire continually thwarted by a critical intellect which destroyed whatever faith he was able to construct This constant search without a successful conclusion is at the heart of the work of many major modernist writers MacDiarmid's poetry can be seen as embracing this tradition and making it explicit Three Centuries of American Poetry and Prose Alphonso Gerald
