Mechanical Engineering Railways Industrial Archaeology 6:

Industrial Archaeology Marilyn Palmer, Peter Neaverson, 1998 Industrial Archaeology sets out a coherent methodology for the discipline which expands on and extends beyond the purely functional analysis of industrial landscapes structures and artefacts to their cultural meaning The Oxford Handbook of Industrial Archaeology Eleanor Casella, Michael

Nevell, Hanna Steyne, 2022-05-12 Representing the first substantial English language text on Industrial Archaeology in a decade this handbook comes at a time when the global impact of industrialization is being re assessed in terms of its legacy of climate change mechanization urbanization the forced migration of peoples and labour relations Critical debates around the beginning of a new geological era The Anthropocene have emerged over the last decade This approach interrogates the widespread exploitation of natural resources that forged industrialization from its early emergence in 18th century northern Europe to its contemporary ubiquity environmental impacts and social legacy within our globalized world Through a broad international and multi period set of chapters this volume explores the complex origins processes and development of industrialization through both its physical remains and human consequences both the good and the bad It provides a diverse material framework for understanding our modern world from its industrial origins through its future paths in the 21st century

Twentieth Century Industrial Archaeology Michael Stratton, Barrie Trinder, 2014-04-04 This book examines the industrial monuments of twentieth century Britain Each chapter takes a specific theme and examines it in the context of the buildings and structure of the twentieth century The authors are both leading experts in the field having written widely on various aspects of the subject In this new and comprehensive survey they respond to the growing interest in twentieth century architecture and industrial archaeology The book is well illustrated with superb and unique illustrations drawn from the archives of the Royal Commission on the Historical Monuments of England It will mark and celebrate the end of the century with a tribute to its remarkable built industrial heritage Catalogue: Authors Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology. Library, 1963 Its outstanding feature is the inclusion of journal articles For more than 50 years the periodicals have been indexed as well as compilations such as Festschriften and the proceedings of congresses Catalogue of the Library of the Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology. Heritage, Conservation and Communities Gill Chitty, 2016-12-01 Public participation and local community involvement have taken centre stage in heritage practice in recent decades In contrast with this established position in wider heritage work public engagement with conservation practice is less well developed The focus here is on conservation as the practical care of material cultural heritage with all its associated significance for local people How can we be more successful in building capacity for local ownership and leadership of heritage conservation projects as well as improving participative involvement in decisions and in practice This book presents current research and practice in community led conservation It illustrates that outcomes of locally led active participation show demonstrable social educational and personal benefits for participants Bringing together UK and international case studies the book combines analysis of theoretical and applied approaches exploring the lived experiences of conservation projects in and with different communities Responding to the need for deeper understanding of the outcomes of heritage conservation it examines the engagement of local people and communities beyond the expert and specialist domain Highlighting the advances in this important aspect of contemporary heritage practice this book is a key resource for practitioners in heritage studies conservation and heritage management It is also relevant for the practising professional student or university researcher in an emerging field that overarches professional and academic practice The Industrial Archaeology of Shropshire Barrie Stuart Trinder, Barrie Trinder, 1996

Made in Lancashire Geoffrey Timmins, 1998-12-15 Presents a new perspective on the Industrial Revolution providing far more than just an account of industrial change Looks at the development of the economic structures and includes chapters on financing the revolution technological change markets and demand transport and food The final section looks at economic change and its impact and includes chapters on demography the household families authority and regulation and the built environment Providing a complete summary of the various debates in the literature on this period making a strong case for re introducing a regional approach to the history of the age The Coming of the Railway David Gwyn, 2023-01-01 The first global history of the epic early days of the iron railway Railways in simple wooden or stone form have existed since prehistory But from the 1750s onward the introduction of iron rails led to a dramatic technological evolution one that would truly change the world In this rich new history David Gwyn tells the neglected story of the early iron railway from a global perspective Driven by a combination of ruthless enterprise brilliant experimenters and international cooperation railway construction began to expand across the world with astonishing rapidity From Britain to Australia Russia to America railways would bind together cities nations and entire continents Rail was a tool of industry and empire as well as eventually passenger transport and developments in technology occurred at breakneck speed even if the first locomotive in America could muster only 6 mph The Coming of the Railway explores these fascinating developments documenting the early railway's outsize social political and economic impact carving out the shape of the global economy as we know it today

The Archaeology of an Early Railway System Stephen Hughes, 1990 The structures discovered on the Brecon Forest Tramroads illustrate the beginnings of modern railway practice This first detailed archaeological study of a railway illuminates parallels located elsewhere in Britain Developments that were to be of world importance Did iron railway bridges exist before George Stephenson This book shows that such bridges were built in south Wales thirty years before the construction of Stephenson's Gaunless Viaduct on the Stockton and Darlington Railway and explains where to see these bridges today Numerous stone viaducts bridges and causeways were built over gorges Monumental building detail existed years before the Euston Arch Even the foundations of American Industrial might were laid here Preface Introduction The Planning and Construction of the Railways The Use and Local Impact of the Railways The Engineering of the Lines Rolling
