Developing Faithful Ministers Tim Ling, 2013-01-25 Developing Faithful Ministers aims to support the work of all those involved in supervision and training relationships within the Church The Church recognising its call to serve God and the nation seeks to equip and develop its ministers to face the challenge of ministry in a society at the threshold of Christendom that is in a mission context

It is a context where both the general public and the institutional church have significant expectations of those in ministry. Indeed there is now an expectation of demonstrable capability prior to being licensed to any form of permanent tenure. The demand for more professional demonstrably capable mission able and collaborative licensed ministers places particular weight on the efficacy of the initial training relationship. Developing Faithful Ministers seeks to support those who find themselves in these relationships by offering both models of good practice and sustained theological reflection on what these drivers mean for developing ministry.

The Practical Works of Richard Baxter Richard Baxter, 1854 What Do We Know and What Should We Do About Abolishing Prisons? Joe Sim, 2025-05-15 This book challenges the myths and misrepresentations that justify the existence of prisons. It traces the history and failure of prison reform over two centuries, addresses a number of key contemporary issues and argues for the abolition of prisons. It explores the problem with liberal reformism, the myths around crime, the prison population and prison regimes, people in prison and the harms they experience, the relationship between prisons, punishment and structural inequality, the case for abolishing prisons. Aimed at students, researchers, grassroots organisations, prisoners' rights activists, policy makers and anyone interested in social justice, its conclusion is clear: there needs to be fundamental and meaningful change. Prisons, the criminal justice system and structural inequalities need to be radically transformed and abolished if social justice is to be achieved. Written by leading social scientists, the What Do We Know and What Should We Do About series offers concise up to date overviews of issues often oversimplified, misrepresented or misunderstood, and shows you how to enact change. Short, sharp and compelling.
