The German-speaking community of Victoria between 1850 and 1930 Volkhard Wehner, 2018 At the time of Australian Federation in 1901 German immigrants constituted two per cent of the population of Victoria This book examines how they settled formed a communal infrastructure and how they related to their Anglo Celtic hosts It is shown that their attempts to form a cohesive community failed by investigating the role played by the Lutheran Church German associations community leaders and the rift between rural and urban communities The changing relationship between the British Empire the German Reich and emerging Australian nationalism receives close attention The book tests and then proves a hypothesis that rural communities were more resilient and better equipped to survive while urban communities were not

Researching and Transforming Adult Learning and Communities Rob Evans, Ewa Kurantowicz, Emilio Lucio-Villegas, 2015-12-17 Can adult education and learning be understood without reference to community and people's daily lives? The response to be found in the chapters of this volume says emphatically no: they cannot. Adult learning can be best understood if we look at the social life of people in communities and this book is an attempt to recover this view. The chapters of this volume reflect ongoing research in the field of adult education and learning in and with communities. At the same time, the work of the authors presented here offers a very vital reflection of the work of the ESREA research network. Between Local and Global Adult Learning and Communities. The chapters showcase the broad range of professional practice, the variety in both methodology and theoretical background as well as the impressive scope of field research experience the authors bring to bear in their papers. The first section provides the broad view of research into adult learning and community development, emphasising how social movements are at the heart of local and global change and that they are critically important sources of power. The second section focuses in on the practice of educators/mediators working in local and regional contexts in which the tensions of the wider policy and discourse environment impact on adult learners. The third section privileges the view at the close level of research inside local communities in the field. International researchers and practitioners, particularly young researchers who are active in adult learning and in local/global communities, will be interested in this book. The emphasis of the chapters is on participatory and emancipatory social research. Empowerment of women in rural communities, involvement of communities in social and environmental movements, power sharing in community research projects and the exposure of hegemonic/globalising forces at work in ethnic communities are among the themes developed in this volume. Ethnicity, Race, and Nationality in Education N. Ken Shimahara, Ivan Z. Holowinsky, Sandra Tomlinson-Clarke, 2001-07-01 This volume explores contemporary issues of ethnic/cultural and national identities and their influence on the social construction of identity. These issues are analyzed from the perspective of seven nations: China, Israel, Japan, South Africa, Ukraine, Wales, and the United States. While different, these perspectives are not mutually exclusive lenses through which to review the discourse between ethnic and educational dynamics. The chapters in this book illustrate how these seven perspectives differ as well as overlap. Part I explores ethnicity and race as important variables in explaining minority students' academic performance and schooling in the United States and China. Part II focuses on ethnic and racial identity issues in Israel, Japan, and South Africa. Part III addresses ethnic and racial identity as it affects racial integration at different levels of education in post-apartheid South Africa and the effects on schooling of a rapidly changing ethnic map in the United States. Part IV focuses on issues of language and national identity in three countries: Ukraine and Wales, where a national language is central to nation building, and China, where 61 languages are in use and bilingual education is essential in enhancing national literacy and communication. The questions this book addresses are highly significant in today's global economy and culture. Scholars and professionals in the fields of comparative international and multicultural education and educational policy will find the volume particularly pertinent Marriage Across Frontiers Augustin Barbara,1989 More and more marriages are bringing together partners from different nationalities cultures races and religions In this study of the phenomenon of mixed marriages the issues are brought alive by the frequent quotations from a wide range of such marriages Education, Ethnicity, Society and Global Change in Asia Gerard A. Postiglione,2017-07-14 For more than three decades Gerard A Postiglione has witnessed the globalization of education and society in Hong Kong China and the wider Asian region His research emphasizes the diversity and complexity of the region from studies of education and the academic profession during Hong Kong s retrocession to reform of ethnic minority education and the rise of world class universities in the Chinese mainland as well as the complexity of mass higher education in an increasingly dynamic Asia This selection of 12 of his most representative papers and chapters documents his scholarship in comparative higher education in China Hong Kong and Asia

Beyond the Border Tobias Haimin Wung-Sung,2019-03-27 In the nineteenth century the hotly disputed border region between Denmark and Germany was the focus of an intricate conflict that complicates questions of ethnic and national identity even today Beyond the Border reconstructs the experiences of both Danish and German minority youths living in the area from the 1950s to the 1970s a period in which relations remained tense amid the broader developments of Cold War geopolitics Drawing on a remarkable variety of archival and oral sources the author provides a rich and fine grained analysis that encompasses political issues from the NATO alliance and European integration to everyday life and popular culture
