Myths And Legends Of Wwii:

The Soviet Myth of World War II Jonathan Brunstedt, 2021-07-15 This pioneering monograph a Foreign Affairs Best Book of the Year asks how a socialist society ostensibly committed to Marxist ideals of internationalism and global class struggle reconciled itself to notions of patriotism homeland Russian ethnocentrism and the glorification of war Through the lens of the myth and remembrance of victory in World War II arguably the central defining event of the Soviet epoch the book shows that while state historical narratives reinforced a sense of Russian primacy and Russian dominated ethnic hierarchy the story of the war enabled an alternative supra ethnic source of belonging which subsumed Russian and non Russian loyalties alike to the Soviet whole The tension and competition between Russocentric and internationalist conceptions of victory which burst into the open during the late 1980s reflected a wider struggle over the nature of patriotic identity in a multiethnic society that continues to reverberate in the post Soviet space The book sheds new light on long standing questions linked to the politics of remembrance and provides a crucial historical context for the patriotic revival of the war s memory in Russia today

World War II in Andreï Makine's Historiographic Metafiction Helena Duffy, 2018-04-17 Can it be ever possible to write about war in a work of fiction asks a protagonist of one of Makine s strongly metafictional and intensely historical novels Helena Duffy s World War II in Andre Makine s Historiographic Metafiction redirects this question at the Franco Russian author s fiction itself by investigating its portrayal of Soviet involvement in the struggle against Hitler To write back into the history of the Great Fatherland War its unmourned victims invalids Jews POWs women or starving Leningraders is the self acknowledged ambition of a novelist committed to the postmodern empowerment of those hitherto silenced by dominant historiographies Whether Makine succeeds at giving voice to those whose suffering jarred with the triumphalist narrative of the war concocted by Soviet authorities is the central concern of Duffy s book

Make World War II the Last World War Donald Johnson,2023-04-07 The purpose of this book is to let the people mostly the young people of today who think they're living in hard times and that everything around them is so brutal and savage and of so much despair though many think that way because of to the constant negative ambush they receive today from the media schools newspapers and through many elites in our society who are taught that everything around them is going to hell in a handbasket know that this is the best time in the world to be alive Most people are safer better educated and living around modern high tech advances that make their lives easier People have more wealth and leisure time than ever before They are healthier and tend to live longer than ever before The world is also more acceptable among the races and religions of the world and this generation has the chance to live in everlasting peace without no World Wars though there will always be conflicts among people and nations and it will never be perfect This generation today must know that the world was a pretty savage doggy world throughout history climaxed by World War II though savage wars did continue after World War II They must also be taught that the perpetrators of the savagery were all people races and religions not just some For today's media want to use that narrative and the victims of the savagery were also from all people races and religions We all know that slavery is wrong in America but it ended over 160 years ago Why not also talk about slavery before American slavery like the slavery in Africa And why not talk right now about slavery that's been going on right now in China in North Africa by Isis and in Libya Because it doesn't get the media's narrative on who is good and who is bad And one more thing about the media how about talking about some of the good things that America has done throughout its history instead of bashing America all the time For example if America were to be wiped out by a tidal wave the rest of the world would be in warfare because there will be no America to secure peace The Legacy of World War II in European Arthouse Cinema Samm

Deighan,2021-06-08 World War II irrevocably shaped culture and much of cinema in the 20th century thanks to its devastating global impact that changed the way we think about and portray war This book focuses on European war films made about the war between 1945 and 1985 in countries that were occupied or invaded by the Nazis such as Poland France Italy the Soviet Union and Germany itself Many of these films were banned censored or sharply criticized at the time of their release for the radical ways they reframed the war and rejected the mythologizing of war experience as a heroic battle between the forces of good and evil The particular films examined made by arthouse directors like Pier Paolo Pasolini Rainer Werner Fassbinder and Larisa Shepitko among many more deviate from mainstream cinematic depictions of the war and instead present viewpoints and experiences of WWII which are often controversial or transgressive They explore the often complicated ways that participation in war and genocide shapes national identity and the ways that we think about bodies and sexuality trauma violence power justice and personal responsibility themes that continue to resonate throughout culture and global politics

Dancing on Bones Katie Stallard,2022-04-08 History didn't end Democracy didn't triumph America's leading role in the world is no longer assured Instead autocrats and populist strongmen are on the rise and the global order established after 1945 is under attack This is the phenomenon Katie Stallard tackles in Dancing on Bones as she examines how the leaders of China Russia and North Korea manipulate the past to serve the present and secure the future of authoritarian rule Russia has annexed Crimea started a war in eastern Ukraine and repeatedly massed troops on its borders China has stepped up war games near Taiwan and militarized the South China Sea while North Korea has resumed missile testing and blood curdling threats against the United States These three states consistently top lists of threats to US and European security and yet the leaders of all three insist that it is their country that is threatened rewriting history and exploiting the memory of the wars of the last century to justify their actions and shore up popular support Since coming to power Xi Jinping has almost doubled the length of China's World War II Vladimir Putin has elevated the memory of the Great Patriotic War to the status of a national religion and Kim Jong Un has invested vast sums in rebuilding war museums in his impoverished state while those who try to challenge the official version of history are silenced and jailed But this didn't start with Putin Xi and Kim and it won't end with them Drawing on first hand on the ground reporting Dancing on Bones argues that if we want to understand where these three nuclear powers are heading we must understand the stories they are telling their citizens about the past

Myth Making in the Soviet Union and Modern Russia Vicky Davis,2017-11-30 The 1943 battle to free the Soviet Black Sea port of Novorossiisk from German occupation was fought from the beach head of Malaia zemlia where the young Colonel Leonid Brezhnev saw action Despite widespread scepticism of the state's appropriation and inflation of this historical event the heroes of the campaign are still commemorated in Novorossiisk today by an amalgam of memoir monuments and ritual Through the prism of this provincial Russian town Vicky Davis sheds light on the character of Brezhnev as perceived by his people and on the process of memory for the ordinary Russian citizen Davis analyses the construction and propagation of the local war myth to link the individual citizens of Novorossiisk with evolving state policy since World War II and examines the resultant social and political connotations Her compelling new interdisciplinary evidence reveals the complexity of myth and memory challenging existing assumptions to show that there is still scope for the local community and even the individual in memory construction in an authoritarian environment This book represents a much needed departure from the study of myth and memory in larger cities of the former Soviet Union adding nuance to the existing portrait of Brezhnev and demonstrating the continued importance of war memory in Russia today
