Jeanne Goosen

N Pawpaw Vir My Darling:

'n Pawpaw vir my darling Jeanne Goosen,2002 South African poet Keorapetse Willie Kgositsile has selected 69 poems from six previously published collections as well as new work The poems written over four decades many while in exile explore a wide spectrum of emotions and a need to participate in the struggle to liberate the poet's land of birth In the stunning original rhythms of the poems the subtle influence of jazz and the Setswana language the poet's mother tongue can be heard History beyond apartheid Thula Simpson,2023-04-18 This edited volume encompasses a range of themes and approaches relevant to the field of South African history today as viewed from the perspective of practicing historians at the cutting edge of research in the discipline The collection features the historians offering critical reflection on the theoretical and methodological aspects of their work This involves them both looking back at the inherited historiographical tradition in the respective areas of their research while also pointing forwards to possible future directions for scholarly engagement

Public Intellectuals in South Africa Chris Broodryk,2021-07-01 This edited collection gives voice to neglected public intellectuals in the arts humanities and journalism in South Africa who gave voice and presence to those who have been marginalized and silenced in South African history Edward Said described a public intellectual as someone who uses accessible language to address a designated public on matters of social and political significance The essays in Public Intellectuals in South Africa apply this interpretive prism and activist principle to a South African context and tell the stories of well known figures as well as some that have been mostly forgotten They include Magma Fuze John Dube Aggrey Klaaste Mewa Ramgobin and Koos Roets alongside marginalized figures such as Elijah Makiwane Mandisi Sindo William Pretorius and Dr Thomas Duncan Greenlees The essays capture the thoughts and opinions of these historical figures who the contributors argue are public intellectuals who spoke out against the corruption of power promoted a progressive politics that challenged the colonial project and its legacies and encouraged a sustained dissent of the political status quo Offering fascinating accounts of the life and work of these writers critics and activists across a range of historical contexts and disciplines from journalism and arts criticism to history and politics it enriches the historical record of South African public intellectual life This volume makes a significant contribution to ongoing debates about the value of research in the arts and humanities and what constitutes public intellectualism in South Africa Obituaries in the Performing Arts, 2017 Harris M. Lentz III,2018-05-03 The entertainment world lost many notable talents in 2017 including iconic character actor Harry Dean Stanton comedians Jerry Lewis and Dick Gregory country singer Glen Campbell playwright Sam Shepard and actor singer Jim Nabors Obituaries of actors filmmakers musicians producers dancers composers writers animals and others associated with the performing arts who died in 2017 are included Date place and cause of death are provided for each along with a career recap and a photograph Filmographies are given for film and television performers After the Thrill is Gone Grant Farred,Rita Barnard,2004 After the Thrill Is Gone is a serious appraisal of what South African democracy has yielded and has failed to yield in the era following the heady expectations of liberation from apartheid's multiple repressions. Since that time South Africa has revealed itself as a turbulent dynamic nation. After the release of black political prisoners in 1990 and the first national democratic election in 1994 its citizens have witnessed a massive increase in crime, unemployment and poverty and an educational system in chaos. In a range of politically inflected essays by philosophers, community activists, political scientists, sociologists, literary scholars and cultural and postcolonial theorists, many of whom are diasporic or resident South Africans, this special issue of SAQ provides a critical look at the realities of black majority governance at the African National Congress and at the costs of ANC rule to the populace. One essay draws a condemning sketch of poverty and violence in the townships and the growing communities of squatters that continue despite the emergence of democracy. A philosophical piece contemplates the practice of human rights in a South African society grappling with the memory of apartheid abuses. The fiction and poetry in the collection explore sexual identity including issues created by the AIDS epidemic and offer critiques of government policies. Using comic strips, another contributor demonstrates the ability of South African popular culture to satirize the nation's political status quo. Taken together, the essays in After the Thrill Is Gone open a sobering perspective on South Africa's recent history, its present and its future. Contributors: Rita Barnard, Patrick Bond, Ashwin Desai, Emmanuel Chukwudi Eze, Grant Fared, Michiel Heyns, Shaun Irlam, Neil Lazarus, Michael MacDonald, Zine Magubane, Richard Pithouse, Lesego Rampolokeng, Adam Sitze.

Klitsgras Maretha Bellingan, 2004. Jo'burg, die blues en 'n swart Ford Thunderbird Vincent Pienaar, 2003. Jo'burg, die blues en 'n swart Ford Thunderbird is a title that reflects the non-conformity of the sixties. This novel does not yield to any convention. It paves its own unpretentious way but with an authentic compassion for its characters who, despite all the blows dealt to them by their working-class existence, desperately strive towards a better life. The dreams and passions that unfold in this story are as life prescribes, ignited by love. It is not only quiet Willie's love for the voluptuous, witty streetwise Martie Santjie that causes a rush in his veins. It is especially his passion for another bird, a black Vee Eight Ford Thunderbird with a silver eagle on the bonnet, that drives him. Willie harbours an all-encompassing passion for his Thunderbird. It is a passion similar to that of a lover but larger and more lasting than the love between people because, as Willie knows too well, people are treacherous. Willie and the road vulture Piet Wioletjies become rivals for the attention of Martie Santjie, the girl who has
