Négritude et situation coloniale Lilyan Kesteloot, 1968 Booklet on the nationalist and political aspects of the role of African and Black writers and the impact of colonisation on cultural change References Négritude et situation coloniale Lilyan Kesteloot, 1988 Négritude et situation coloniale Lilyan Kesteloot, 2010 Négritude et condition africaine Abiola Irele, 2008 Mouvement littéraire et politique dans les années 1930 la Négritude fut d'abord une réponse à la domination culturelle occidentale engendrée par la colonisation Chez le grand poète Aimé Césaire 1913-2008 qui forgea ce mot de Négritude l'inspiration a eu pour fondement une conscience raciale aiguë Une conscience historique de l'expérience du Nègre sur qui s'étaient abattues la domination et l'abjection A partir de l'œuvre de Césaire et de celle d'autres grands écrivains et hommes politiques parmi lesquels Senghor Soyinka Achebe Cheikh Anta Diop l'auteur propose une réflexion culturelle et sociale approfondie nourrie de sa triple filiation yoruba britannique française Il analyse ici les enjeux les courants les revirements qui composent la très riche histoire de la Négritude et traverse elle de la condition africaine elle-même A la fois revoltaire du nationalisme culturel noir histoire intellectuelle et utopie créatrice la Négritude rencontre aujourd'hui un regain d'intérêt au sein de la nouvelle génération des écrivains et intellectuels africains Kwame Bediako and African Christian Scholarship Sara J. Fretheim, 2018-04-17 In a departure from current theologically focused scholarship on Ghanaian theologian Kwame Bediako this book places him within the wider historical continuum of twentieth century Ghana and reads him as a leading Christian scholar within the African study of African religions The book traces a variety of influences and figures within this emerging African discourse in Ghana including aspects of missions and colonial history and the voices of poets politicians prophets and priests Locating Bediako within this complex twentieth century matrix this intellectual history draws upon his published and key unpublished works including his first masters and doctoral dissertations on Négritude literature an abiding influence on his later Christian thought and an essential foundation for interpreting this scholar This book also reads the Akrofi Christaller Institute of Theology Mission and Culture as text by Bediako revealing essential components of his intellectual and spiritual itinerary revealed in the Institute's community and curriculum This approach challenges narrowly focused theological scholarship on Bediako while highlighting critical methodological divisions between African Western confessional and non confessional approaches to the study of religion in Africa In doing so it highlights the rich complexity of this emerging African discourse and identifies Bediako as a pioneering African Christian intellectual within this wider field Epistemologies from the Global South Cheikh Thiam, 2024-06-07 This book argues that the pervasiveness of the modern paradigm and its corollary the colonial matrix of power have led scholars of Négritude to think of Leopold Sedar Senghor's work either as an anti thesis to the anti Blackness constitutive of European modernity or as another manifestation of the West as subject of history As opposed to this tradition the book reads Négritude through the prism of endogenous African world views without the filter of the modern Western paradigm Print edition not for sale in Sub Saharan Africa

European-language Writing in Sub-Saharan Africa Albert S. Gérard, 1986-01-01 The first major comparative study of African writing in western languages European language Writing in Sub Saharan Africa edited by Albert S G rard falls into four wide ranging sections an overview of early contacts and colonial developments Under Western Eyes chapters on Black Consciousness manifest in the debates over Panafricanism and Negritude a group of essays on mental decolonization expressed in Black Power texts at the time of independence struggles and finally Comparative Vistas sketching directions that future comparative study might explore An introductory essay stresses the millennia of writing in Africa side by side with a richly eloquent and artistic set of vernacular oral traditions written and oral traditions have become interwoven in adaptations of imported forms and linguistic innovations that challenge traditional high literary norms G rard uses the mathematical concept of fuzzy sets to explain why the focus on Black Africa has led him to set aside for future analysis the literatures produced in North Africa which fall under the influence of Muslim civilization as well as the diasporic literatures of the New World Over sixty scholars from twenty two countries contribute specialized studies of creative writing by leading authors in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries such as Achebe Mphahlele Ngugi Senghor Soyinka and Tutuola Critical analyses are organized primarily around regions reflecting different colonial languages imposed through schools and other social institutions Some authors trace the adaptation of western genres others identify syncretism with folktales or myths The volumes are attentive to the heterogeneity of national literatures addressed to polyethnic and multilingual populations and they note the instrumental politics of language in newly independent states A closing chapter Tasks Ahead identifies areas for future scholars to explore

African Theology in Its Social Context Benezet Bujo, 2006-03-29 Increasingly theologians from non Western lands demand that theology be done in a new non eurocentric way First published in German African Theology in Its Social Context by one of Africa s most respected theologians meets this challenge Bujo takes traditional African values to the horizon of contemporary social issues extreme poverty mass unemployment rapid urbanization changing family life His underlying concern is for the African people and for the models they will choose for their society their economy their church Bujo begins with Jesus Asking how Christ can be seen as an African among Africans Bujo identifies Jesus as Ancestor the One from Whom all life flows He goes on to define distinctively African roles for the church clergy and lay people alike From the standpoint of African legal and religious traditions many far older than those of the Western church Bujo describes pastoral approaches to such issues as death and marriage in Africa This original and challenging work shows how Africans need not change culture to be called children of God and how indeed Christianity can become a source of fullness of life for Africans

Black Paris Bennetta Jules-Rosette, 1998 Black Paris documents the struggles and successes of three generations of African writers as they strive to establish their artistic literary and cultural identities in France Based on long term ethnographic archival and historical research the work is enriched by interviews with many writers of the new generation Bennetta Jules Rosette explores African writing and identity in France from the early négritude movement and the founding of the Présence Africaine publishing house in 1947 to the mid 1990s Examining the relationship between African writing and French anthropology as well as the emergence of new styles and discourses Jules Rosette covers French Pan Africanism and the revolutionary writing of the 1960s and 1970s She also discusses the new generation of African writers who appeared in Paris during the 1980s and 1990s

Postcolonial Thought in the French Speaking World Charles Forsdick, David Murphy, 2022-04-01 In the late 1990s Postcolonial Studies risked imploding as a credible area of academic enquiry Repeated anthologization and an overemphasis on the English language literatures led to sustained critiques of the field and to an active search for alternative approaches to the globalized and transnational formations of the post colonial world In the early twenty first century however postcolonial began to reveal a new openness to its comparative dimensions French language contributors to postcolonial debate such as Edouard Glissant and Abdelkebir Khatibi have recently risen to greater prominence in the English speaking world and there have also appeared an increasing number of important critical and theoretical texts on postcolonial issues written by scholars working principally on French language material It is to such a context that this book responds Acknowledging these shifts this volume provides an essential tool for students and scholars outside French departments seeking a way into the study of Francophone colonial postcolonial debates At the same time it supplies scholars in French with a comprehensive overview of essential ideas and key intellectuals in this area

Rethinking Négritude through Léon-Gontran Damas F. Bart Miller, 2014-04-10 Rethinking Négritude through Léon Gontran Damas analyses four cases in which Damasian Négritude shifted through generic experimentation Pigments 1937 Retour de Guyane 1938 Veilles noires 1943 and Black Label 1956 In doing so it also advances scholarship on Damas 1912-1978 in two ways On the one hand it undertakes the crucial and in depth research needed to challenge the understanding of Négritude as a bipartite Césaire and Senghor phenomenon On the other hand it offers an innovative reading of Damas whose work deserves more complete consideration than it has received thus far Reading this essay will illuminate Damas's works and their relationship to one another thus demonstrating the continuity of Damasian Négritude F. Bart Miller holds a PhD in French Studies from the University of Liverpool He is a specialist in French Caribbean Literature and his other publications have appeared in International Journal of Francophone Studies Romance Studies and in the volume Adaptation Studies in French and Francophone Culture in the series Modern French Identities with Peter Lang publishers

Dictionary of Race, Ethnicity and Culture Guido Bolaffi, 2003 Race ethnicity and culture are concepts that are interpreted in various and often contradictory ways This Dictionary of Race Ethnicity and Culture provides the historical background and etymology of a wide number of words related to these concepts looking at discourses of race ethnicity and culture from a broadly multicultural perspective This new and up to date dictionary contains numerous references to both European and American concepts debates and terms Contributors to the dictionary include well known anthropologists biologists lawyers philosophers sociologists and psychologists enabling the Dictionary to bring an interdisciplinary approach to the subject matter and a rich variety of voice and content that would otherwise Black Images, 1973 La Négritude Dr Wacyf H Ghali, 2024-08-09 La Négritude An African Social Humanism seeks to tackle accounts of African society particularly sub Saharan Africa from its roots through modern times La Négritude meaning Blackness in French was coined as a term in the 1930s initially as a strategy for political resistance against French colonialism As the resistance matured its namesake developed to refer to being proud to be Black proud of being a Negro the true and correct word for defining an African Black man's ethnicity Instead of being disrespectful the word became meaningful and beautiful in terms of what it portrayed Because of the effects of slavery and colonialism the traditional Negro African society transformed into a modern society so different from the old one that many expressed a loss of identity culturally politically and economically This study attempts to redefine and reidentify sub Saharan Negro African society using the traditional values that existed before or during the era of colonialism Its goal is to instill a sense of security and unity among the people with the understanding that adding changes from outside Negro Africa could allow positive growth and development without fear of destroying the African character and personality Essai sur la poétique de la négritude (2) Michel Hausser, 1978-01-01 T00:00:00+01:00 Cet ouvrage est une réédition numérique d'un livre paru au XXe siècle désormais indisponible dans son format d'origine Négritude Isabelle Constant, Kahiudi C. Mabana, 2009-03-26 Doit-on considérer la Négritude comme un mouvement ancré dans la fin de l'époque coloniale et sur lequel il n'y a plus lieu de revenir C'est une des questions que le colloque qui s'est tenu à l'Université des West Indies à la Barbade en l'honneur du centenaire de la naissance de Senghor s'efforce d'explorer Lylian Kesteloot nous rappelle encore récemment dans son étude Césaire et Senghor un pont sur l'Atlantique l'importance de ce mouvement qui entre les années trente et soixante a participé à la naissance de la littérature africaine La question du particularisme que le mot Négritude implique et de son opposé l'universel sera largement débattue dans les pages de cet ouvrage Les articles de cet essai discutent les défauts essentialistes de la Négritude sénégalaise mais gâchent le fait que dans les termes de Senghor la Négritude est un mythe donc une construction identitaire l'expression d'une invention Il envisageait par exemple l'avènement d'un socialisme africain dans une interprétation unique du marxisme En tant que mouvement poétique philosophique littéraire ou en tant que réponse idéologique à l'oppression les auteurs africains et antillais étudiés ici et qui traitent de thèmes très contemporains montrent la vivacité d'une Négritude toujours d'actualité dans sa présentation des cultures Il faut bien entendu dépasser la notion raciale contenue dans le terme et insister sur le culturel le philosophique et l'esthétique pour accepter que la Négritude ait une pertinence actuelle Notamment nous verrons que la Négritude s'est métamorphosée aux Antilles ou au Brésil en d'originaux projets idéologiques et esthétiques Should Négritude be seen as a movement that originated at the end of the colonial era and merits no further study in this contemporary world This is one of the questions explored in the Colloquium held at the University of the West Indies Barbados to mark the centenary of the birth of Léopold Sédar Senghor In a recent study Césaire et Senghor Un pont sur l'Atlantique Lylian Kesteloot reminds her readers of the importance of Negritude which contributed to the emergence of African literature between 1930 and 1960 The idea of essentialism which the word Negritude implies as well as the opposite idea of universalism will be widely discussed in the pages of this work This collection of essays acknowledges the essential shortcomings of Senghor's Negritude but at the same time underlines the fact that in Senghor's words Negritude is a myth and therefore has to do with the construction of an identity and is the expression of an imaginary creation It envisaged for example the creation of an African form of socialism within a unique interpretation of Marxism In this volume African and Caribbean writers who are concerned with contemporary issues demonstrate the vitality of Negritude as a poetic philosophical and literary movement and as an ideological response to oppression that is still relevant in its presentation of cultures Clearly it is necessary to go beyond the notion of race implied in the term and to focus on the cultural philosophical and aesthetic elements in order to appreciate the relevance of Negritude today Most notably in the Caribbean or Brazil Negritude has been transformed into original ideological and aesthetic projects Negritude Colette Verger Michael, 1988

Politics and Post-Colonial Theory Pal Ahluwalia, 2012-12-06 This groundbreaking book makes sense of the complexities and dynamics of post colonial politics illustrating how post colonial theory has marginalised a huge part of its constituency namely Africa Politics and Post Colonial Theory traces how African identity has been constituted and reconstituted by examining issues such as negritude the rise of nationalism decolonisation The book also questions how helpful post colonial analysis can be in understanding the complexities which define institutions including the nation state civil society human rights citizenship Politics and Post colonial Theory bravely breaks down disciplinary boundaries Its radical vision will be essential reading for all those engaged in Politics post colonial studies and African studies Littérature africaine et sa critique Locha Mateso, 1986-01-01
