The American Journal of Public Health published a research titled “An Evaluation of a Classroom Science, Intervention Designed to Extend the Bicycle Helmet Safety Message” in order to create awareness regarding the helmet safety. This study seeks to present the results of an evaluation of the knowledge of students with regard to the head safety and their attitude towards helmet use after the delivery of the Wizards of Motion Head Safety Intervention module that was introduced to grade seven science classrooms. The research question seeks to find out “what is the relationship between student head safety knowledge and their attitude towards helmet use after they were exposed to the delivery of the Wizards of Motion Head Safety Intervention module?”

The World Health Organization reveals that most of the hospitalized children suffering from head injuries that came as a result of bicycle accidents. The population sample for this study was 74 (35 males and 39 females) while two instruments were employed in data collection, and they comprised of a knowledge based test to record student’s knowledge on head safety and biomechanical concepts, as well as the questionnaires to collect information on the student’s present and prospective helmet use. The hypothesis of the study was to find out whether wearing a bicycle helmet was directly connected to the attitudes of these young children.

There is widespread use of bicycles by young children aged between 11 and 15 in varied daily activities, including visiting friends, adventure or for fun activities. From the 74 respondents who were involved in this study, it was reported that 84 percent rode bicycles on a daily basis while only 88 percent of these actually owned a helmet. Despite this, only 32 percent of those who owned the helmets, were reported to be wearing them when riding a bicycle even though the law requires that each child ought to wear a helmet when riding a bicycle. Name Of Action Critical Essays:

The Name of Action John Fraser,1984-12-20 John Fraser s critical essays explore conflicting attitudes towards self affirmation and social order Important concerns that touch these essays are ideas of energy power and personal plenitude and the way in which idealism and heroic intensity can sometimes lead to overstrain and collapse Valuation in Criticism and Other Essays F. R. Leavis,1986-07-17 This volume gathers together some of F R Leavis s earliest work with the things he was working on before his death as well as a representative sample of pieces reflecting the concerns he developed throughout his writing life This material from the whole span of a long writing career shows both the continuity of his pre occupations and important respects in which his judgements changed In an introductory essay Professor Singh discusses each piece and relates it to the development of Leavis s ideas The reader can trace his concern for standards of critical valuation as it evolved through studies of T S Eliot D H Lawrence William Empson George Eliot Henry James W B Yeats I A Richards and others Leavis s well known reflections on Marxism are also included Varieties of Realism Margaret A. Hagen,1986-05-31 Varieties of Realism argues that it is not possible to represent the layout of objects and surfaces in space outside the dictates of formal visual geometry the geometry of natural perspective The book examines most of the world s coherent representational art styles both in terms of the geometry of their creation and in terms of their perceptual effects on the viewer A lucid exposition of modern geometrical principles and relations accessible to the nonmathematical reader is followed by an analysis of all known styles as variants of natural perspective as true varieties of realism Delineating the physical and mechanical constraints that determine the act of visual representation in painting and drawing the author traces the intimate relations among seemingly distant styles and considers the kind of perceptual information about the world each can carry Margaret Hagen is a perceptual psychologist with an ecological point of view Her rigorous but readable presentation of visual theory and research offers provocative new insights into the connections among vision geometry and art The Definition of Literature and Other Essays W. W. Robson,William Wallace Robson,1984-07-26 Professor Robson considers particular works and authors in the light of the preceding discussion of critical principles The Puritan Conversion Narrative Patricia Caldwell,1985-11-29 In the mid seventeenth century persons on both sides of the Atlantic wishing to join a Puritan church had to appear before all of its members and tell the story of their religious conversion in effect to give convincing verbal evidence that their souls were saved This book explores the testimonies of spiritual experience delivered by puritans in the mid seventeenth century in order to qualify for membership of their local churches The Poet and His Audience Ian Jack,1984-07-05 A systematic exploration of the influence of readers on the shaping of six major poets works Aristotle and Logical Theory Jonathan Lear,1980-05-08 Aristotle was the first and one of the greatest logicians He not only devised the first system of formal logic but also raised many fundamental problems in the philosophy of logic In this book Dr Lear shows how Aristotle s discussion of logical consequence validity and proof can
