Naming the Father Eva Paulino Bueno, Terry Caesar, William Hummel, 2000-01-01 Naming the Father is a collection of essays on the subject of fatherhood its enduring power its secret ruses its unsettling provocations Despite the considerable critical attention devoted to motherhood in literature and despite the late twentieth century focus on patriarchy there is surprisingly no comparable collection on fatherhood This volume was born of the conclusion that critics of modern and contemporary literature may comprehend the father too little for presuming to have comprehended patriarchy so much Naming the Father begins with a series of nonfiction essays that attempts to locate the missing father in the individual experiences of three scholars at various stages of their careers The following thematically grouped sections recover and discuss fatherhood in fields ranging from Caribbean fiction to African American drama and in the work of authors as diverse as Rebecca West Anzia Yezierska William Burroughs and Stephen Wright as well as Henry James and James Joyce A variety of critical approaches from biographical to deconstructive activate and engage with the cultural national and global implications of fatherhood for the family and for the future of literary studies Scholars and students of contemporary literature cultural studies and gender studies will find this book a fascinating and invaluable collection

Fictive Fathers in the Contemporary American Novel Debra Shostak, 2020-02-20 Fictive Fathers in the Contemporary American Novel explores the unstable construction of heteronormative white masculinity in the contemporary United States by focusing on relationships between fathers and their children Debra Shostak reads the novels of 18 North American writers publishing in the late 20th and early 21st centuries as allegories of cultural conflict and change within the nuclear family the authors considered include Paul Auster Don DeLillo Jeffrey Eugenides Jonathan Safran Foer Jonathan Franzen John Irving Jonathan Lethem Carole Maso Bobbie Ann Mason Cormac McCarthy Claire Messud Viet Thanh Nguyen Tim O'Brien Marilynne Robinson Philip Roth Mona Simpson Jane Smiley and Anne Tyler These novelists portray father figures who often literally or figuratively absent from the family scene disrupt the familial order and their family members identities Shostak's close readings illuminate unexpectedly conservative even subversive ideological positions at the heart of these fictions Fictive Fathers traces the eroding myth of paternal authority that sustained a patriarchal model within real American families and their literary representations

Masculinity in Contemporary New York Fiction Peter Ferry, 2014-08-21 Masculinity in Contemporary New York Fiction is an interdisciplinary study that presents masculinity as a key thematic concern in contemporary New York fiction This study argues that New York authors do not simply depict masculinity as a social and historical construction but seek to challenge the archetypal ideals of masculinity by writing counter hegemonic narratives Gendering canonical New York writers namely Paul Auster Bret Easton Ellis and Don DeLillo illustrates how explorations of masculinity are tied into the principal themes that have defined the American novel from its very beginning The themes that feature in this study include the role of the novel in American society the individual and urban society the journey from innocence to awareness of masculinity the archetypal image of the absent and or patriarchal father the impact of homosocial relations on the everyday performance of masculinity male sexuality and the male individual and globalization What connects these contemporary New York writers is their employment of the one of the great figures in the history of literature the fl neur These authors take the fl neur from the shadows of the Manhattan streets and elevate this figure to the role of self reflexive agent of male subjectivity through which they write counter hegemonic narratives of masculinity This book is an essential reference for those with an interest in gender studies and contemporary American fiction Language, Gender, and Community in Late Twentieth-Century Fiction M. Hurst, 2011-04-11 Drawing on critical frameworks this study establishes the centrality of language gender and community in the quest for identity in contemporary American fiction Close readings of novels by Alice Walker Ernest Gaines Ann Beattie John Updike Chang rae Lee and Rudolfo Anaya among others show how individuals find their American identities

Bilingual Legacies Anna Casas Aguilar, 2022-05-30 Bilingual Legacies examines fatherhood in the work of four canonical Spanish authors born in Barcelona and raised during the dictatorship of Francisco Franco Drawing on the autobiographical texts of Juan Goytisolo Carlos Barral Terenci Moix and Clara Janés the book explores how these authors understood gender roles and paternal figures as well as how they positioned themselves in relation to Spanish and Catalan literary traditions Anna Casas Aguilar contends that through their presentation of father figures these authors subvert static ideas surrounding fatherhood She argues that this diversity was crucial in opening the door to revised gender models in Spain during the democratic period Moving beyond the shadow of the dictator Casas Aguilar shows how these writers distinguished between the patriarchal father of the nation and their own paternal figures In doing so Bilingual Legacies sheds light on the complexity of Spanish conceptions of gender language and family and illustrates how notions of masculinity authorship and canon are interrelated

Encyclopedia of Contemporary Writers and Their Work Geoff Hamilton, Brian

Jones,2015-04-22 Presents an alphabetical reference guide detailing the lives and works of authors associated with the English language fiction of the twentieth and twenty first centuries      Intersectional Trauma in American Women

Writers' Incest Novels from the 1990s Marinella Rodi-Risberg,2022-03-24 This book explores the intersections of sexualized gendered and racialized traumas in five US novels about father daughter incest from the 1990s It examines how incest can be connected to wider past and present structural oppression and institutional abuse and what fiction looks like that testifies against and references a historical background of slavery poverty settler colonialism annexation and immigration Investigating the means of resistance used against attempts at silencing and denial in these texts the book also shows how contemporary women s novels can propose social change Overall this study uniquely argues that the individual trauma of incest in these texts must be understood in relation to histories of and present collective wounding against marginalized communities By sitting at the intersections between trauma theory and US third world feminism it allows for theory to meet literary activism      Richard Ford and the Fiction of Masculinities Josep M. Armengol,2010 Richard Ford and the Fiction of Masculinities demonstrates how contemporary U S novelist Richard Ford winner of the Pulitzer Prize for literature rewrites gender and in particular masculinity from highly subversive and innovative perspectives Josep M

Armengol analyzes the construction as well as the de construction of masculinity in all of Ford s major fictional texts to date ranging from A Piece of My Heart to The Sportswriter to The Lay of the Land Given its simultaneous critique of traditional masculinity and its depiction of alternative models of being a man Ford s fiction is shown to be particularly interesting from a men s studies perspective which aims not only to undermine patriarchal masculinity but also to look for new non hierarchical and more egalitarian models of being a man in contemporary U S culture and literature By framing Ford s contemporary representations of masculinity within a more general context of American literature this book reveals how his texts continue along a trajectory of earlier American fiction while they also re examine masculinity in new more complex ways Richard Ford and the Fiction of Masculinities contributes to the much needed revision of men and masculinities in U S literature and especially Richard Ford s fiction where constructions of gender and masculinity remain paradoxically enough largely unexplored

Making History New Seamus O'Malley, 2014-10-24 Guided by Ezra Pound's dictum 'Make it new' a generation of writers set out to create fiction and poetry that was unlike anything that came before it. However, as Seamus O'Malley shows, historical narrative was a key site for modernist experimentation. Taking three of literary modernism's major figures—Joseph Conrad, Ford Madox Ford, and Rebecca West—Making History New demonstrates how the movement's literature not only engaged with history but also transformed traditional approaches to its telling in unique ways. Informed by Paul Ricoeur's belief that narrative is necessary to comprehend historical processes, the study closely examines four major modernist historical novels: Conrad's Nostromo interrogates the very term 'history' as it relates the political tumult of a fictitious Latin American country; while Ford's The Good Soldier mirrors the cyclical nature of historiography with a protagonist who returns repeatedly to intense periods of his own past to better comprehend them. Two epochal World War I novels, The Return of the Soldier and Parade's End, depict shell-shocked veterans that illustrate the paradox of an accurate historical rendering achieved through the process of amnesia. These novels, in O'Malley's view, lead to the high point of what he terms modernist historiography. Rebecca West's innovative 1941 travelogue Black Lamb and Grey Falcon and its preoccupation with history's impossibility. The monograph concludes with a brief consideration of how historians since World War II have adopted some of the approaches to narrative inaugurated by literary modernists while wrestling with how to relate unthinkable atrocities such as genocide. Ultimately, Making History New foregrounds narrative's essential role as a bridge between fiction and history as it explores the process by which collective human experience becomes historical narrative.

Insurgent Testimonies Nicole M. Rizzuto, 2015-12-01 During the second half of the nineteenth century and the first half of the twentieth, insurgencies erupted in imperial states and colonies around the world, including Britain's. As Nicole Rizzuto shows, the writings of Ukrainian-born Joseph Conrad, Anglo-Irish Rebecca West, Jamaicans H. G. de Lisser and V. S. Reid, and Kenyan Ngũgĩ wa Thiong'o testify to contested events in colonial modernity in ways that question premises underlying approaches in trauma and memory studies and invite us to reassess divisions and classifications in literary studies that generate such categories as modernist, colonial, postcolonial, national, and world literatures. Departing from tenets of modernist studies and from methods in the field of trauma and memory studies, Rizzuto contends that acute as well as chronic disruptions to imperial and national power and the legal and extra-legal responses they inspired shape the formal practices of literatures from the modernist, colonial, and postcolonial periods.

The Past as Present in the Drama of August Wilson Harry Justin Elam, 2006-05 Examines Pulitzer-prizewinning playwright August Wilson's published plays within the context of contemporary African American literature and in relation to concepts of memory and history, culture and resistance, race and representation. This book finds that each of Wilson's plays recaptures narratives lost, ignored, or avoided.

Shell Shock and the Modernist Imagination Wyatt Bonikowski, 2016-04-01 Looking closely at both case histories of shell shock and Modernist novels by Ford Madox Ford, Rebecca West, and Virginia Woolf, Wyatt Bonikowski shows how the figure of the shell-shocked soldier and the symptoms of war trauma were transformed by the literary imagination. Situating his study with respect to Freud's concept of the death drive, Bonikowski reads the repetitive symptoms of shell-shocked soldiers as a resistance to representation and narrative. In making this resistance part of their narratives, Ford, West, and Woolf broaden our understanding of the traumatic effects of war, exploring the possibility of a connection between the trauma of war and the trauma of sexuality. Parade's End, The Return of the Soldier, and Mrs Dalloway are all structured around the relationship between the soldier who returns from war and the women who receive him, but these novels offer no prospect for the healing effects of the union between men and women. Instead, the novels underscore the divisions within the home and the self, drawing on the traumatic effects of shell shock to explore the link between the public events of history and the intimate traumas of the relations between self and other.

Veteran Poetics Kate McLoughlin, 2018-05-24. In this first full-length study of the war veteran in literature, Kate McLoughlin draws new critical attention to a figure central to national life. Offering fresh readings of canonical and non-canonical works, she shows how authors from William Wordsworth to J. K. Rowling have deployed veterans to explore questions that are simultaneously personal, political, and philosophical: What does a community owe to those who serve it? What can be recovered from the past? Do people stay the same over time? Are there right times of life at which to do certain things? Is there value in experience? How can wisdom be shared? Veteran Poetics features veterans who travel in time, cause havoc with their reappearances, solve murders, refuse to stop talking about the wars they have been in, and refuse to say a word about them. Through this last trait, they also prompt consideration of possible critical responses to silence. Rebecca West Today Bernard Schweizer, 2006. Almost the entire corpus of West's fiction receives attention in this volume, with the exception of The Thinking Reed, which is in itself a telling fact. Jacket
