Nanas Place:

Nana's Place Evelyn Anderson, 2015-02-13 This book visualizes children everywhere no matter where they are and what they are doing really doesn't matter because angels are always around. They are watchers and protectors of the human generations while appearing in dreams and in real life experiences. This angel seems to be watching over these kids for a particular reason. Nana owns this town and it's a kid fun zone and everything is free to the kids. When they jump into the little red wagon they are invisible to all until they jump out of the little red wagon. This book allows kids to use their imagination.

Round the World with Bicycles Om Prakash Virmani, 2002 A Place Called Home Alice Taylor, 2024-10-14 In fact two places called home. For over sixty years Alice Taylor has lived in the village of Innishannon the gateway to West Cork. But her childhood was spent on a farm in North Cork near the Kerry border and her memories of that homeplace are vivid. Here she recalls the sounds and smells of the farmyard now silent. She visits her old national school today in ruins and her secondary which has a new life as a cultural centre. She also writes of day to day life in her beloved Innishannon. With her trademark wit and wisdom Alice takes us on a ramble around both of her homes celebrating the places, the people and the special moments that have stayed in her heart over the years.

A Grammar of Nese Lana Grelyn Takau, 2023-08-15 Nese is a dying Oceanic language spoken on the island of Malekula in northern Vanuatu. This book based on first hand fieldwork data and without adhering to any particular syntactic framework presents a synchronic grammatical description of Nese's phonology and syntax. Despite being on the verge of extinction with fewer than 20 living speakers the language displays intriguing properties including but not exclusive to the cross linguistically rare apicolabial phonemes, interesting vowel raising patterns in some word classes and a discontinuous negation relationship that is obligatorily expressed with the irrealis mood marker. This book will probably be the last work published on Nese.
