Narrative And Storytelling Implications For Understanding Moral Development:

Cultural and Critical Perspectives on Human Development Martin J. Packer, Mark B. Tappan, 2001-10-25 An array of exciting new studies of child and adolescent development phenomena Narrative and Storytelling Mark B.

Tappan, Martin J. Packer, 1991 Handbook of Moral Development Melanie Killen, Professor of Human Development and Psychology Melanie Killen, Judith G. Smetana, Judith Smetana, 2005-07-06 The psychological study of moral development has expanded greatly both in terms of the diversity of theoretical perspectives that are represented in the field as well as in the range of topics that have been studied This Handbook of Moral Development represents the diversity and multidisciplinary influences on current theorizing about the psychological study of moral development and the range and broad scope of topics being considered by scholars in the field The Oxford Handbook of Moral Development Lene Arnett

Jensen, 2020-01-24 The nature of people's moral lives the similarities and differences in the moral concepts of individuals and groups and how these concepts emerge in the course of human development are topics of perennial interest In recent years the field of moral development has turned from a focus on a limited set of theories to a refreshingly vast array of research questions and methods This handbook offers a comprehensive international and up to date review of this research on moral development Drawing together the work of over 90 authors hailing from diverse disciplines such as anthropology education human development psychology and sociology the handbook reflects the dynamic nature of the field Across more than 40 chapters this handbook opens the door to a broad view of moral motives and behaviors ontogeny and developmental pathways and contexts that children adolescents and adults experience with respect to morality It offers a comprehensive and timely tour of the field of moral development Handbook of Adult Development Jack Demick, Carrie

Andreoletti, 2012-12-06 This volume is an outgrowth of contemporary research on development over the adult lifespan which by now has burgeoned and developed both nationally and internationally However for us the impetus to be involved in this area was spawned and nurtured by our initial association with the Society for Research in Adult Development SRAD with its origins some 15 years ago by Michael Commons and his associates in Cambridge Massachusetts Through the good will and support of this society we also became and are still heavily involved with the Journal of Adult Development and the Kluwer Plenum Monograph Series on Adult Development and Aging of which this volume is a companion Many of the contributions in the volume are from SRAD members who consistently adhere to a focus on positive adult development Their chapters have been complemented by pieces from other researchers who have adopted more mainstream approaches to adult development and aging Regardless of the particular approach and or focus of the chapter all the work reported herein supports the relatively recent idea that development is not restricted to children and adolescents but continues throughout the adult lifespan in ways that we never envisioned some 20 years ago Thus the volume represents state of the art theory research and practice on adult development which has the potential to occupy us all for some time to come Hermeneutical Approaches in Psychology of Religion ,2025-02-10 Contemporary psychology is reviving with new vigor an interest in hermeneutics or the human science of interpretation After a period in which positivistic and statistical approaches have been dominant new methods are being explored Most of these focus on narrative cultural analysis embodiment and interdisciplinarity Because of its specific object of study psychology of religion has never been without an hermeneutical emphasis In this field of psychology scholarship these new directions are especially welcomed as they offer perspectives for research which attempts to interpret religion as a human phenomenon This volume presents hermeneutical psychological studies on religion which rely on both classical and contemporary approaches Dealing with topics like mysticism religious symbols life stories and mental health contributions to the volume draw on a variety of perspectives These range from psychoanalysis narrative psychology and feminism to perspectives drawn deep from the wellspring of interdisciplinary collaboration with anthropology and history

Moral Education F. Clark Power,Ronald J. Nuzzi,Darcia Narvaez,Daniel K. Lapsley,Thomas C. Hunt,Terry L. Hunt,2007-12-30 This work delves into the topic of moral education in America s K 12 schools Following an introductory historical chapter it analyzes salient topics and notable leaders in the field of moral education It treats the issues thoroughly and fairly providing a heightened understanding of both the major and minor themes in moral education

Resilient Religion, Resilience and Heartbreaking Adversity LIT Verlag,2023-01-05 A resilience theory on religion needs to answer four questions What defines the kind of adversity which is addressed in religion What is characteristic for processes of resilience in religion What defines resilient religion as outcome Which logic of inference epistemology based on our beliefs and experiences about reality binds these three elements together The book starts with mapping the field of resilience theory on religion by addressing all four questions The need for thinking about Christian resilience and the God symbol is addressed and the need to be explicitly contextual with regard to resilience in South Africa Next three types practices of religious acting are related to experiences of resilience namely preaching narrating and discerning In the last chapters the focus is on the way stories help to express feelings of experiences of crises tragedy and trauma But also how stories can help heal the broken heart Prof Chris A M Hermans is extraordinary professor in practical theology and missiology at the University of the Free State South Africa He is emeritus professor in pastoral theology at Radboud University the Netherlands and emeritus professor in empirical study of religion as Radboud University the Netherlands Prof Kobus W J Schoeman is professor of practical theology at the University of the Free State South Africa

From Subjects to Subjectivities Deborah L. Tolman,Mary Brydon-Miller,2001 From Subject to Subjectivities profiles the recent debates about the role of qualitative and participatory methods in psychology a discipline which has traditionally seen itself as a form of positivistic science Contributors explain how fundamentally different views of the nature of reality and of scientific theory have shaped these debates and how psychology is being transformed through the use of these methods At the heart of the book are 10 exemplars of interpretive and participatory action research which describe the rationale for and process of using these methods in actual cases They also articulate some of the challenges psychologists may face in adopting them offering insights into how these complications can be successfully negotiated Relevant beyond psychology the models provided can be used within the context of a wide array of social science disciplines from sociology and anthropology to women s studies and public health The contributors represent a veritable who s who of qualitative scholars including Lyn Mikel Brown Larry Davidson Michelle Fine Louise Kidder M Brinton Lykes Jeanne Marecek Abigail Stewart and Niobe Way No previous book has examined qualitative and participatory methods specifically within the context of psychology From Subjects to Subjectivities provides a unique and badly needed resource for those interested in learning about the practice of these methods in the field

Developmental Relations among Mind, Brain and Education Michel Ferrari, Ljiljana Vuletic, 2010-06-09 Robert S Siegler Robbie Case A Modern Classic About 15 years ago Robbie asked me what I thought of a talk we had just heard I indicated that I hadn t much liked it and noted several serious problems Robbie agreed with all of the criticisms but said that he nonetheless liked the talk because there was one good idea in it that he could use I agreed with him that the idea was a good one but it took me a while to understand the wisdom of his position If there s one useful idea in a talk then hearing it has been worthwhile even if the talk also has numerous deficiencies On that day and on many others talking with Robbie changed my thinking for the better Robbie Case was in many ways a classic developmental psychologist of the old school The depth and breadth of his theory the range of age groups populations and topics that he studied and his efforts to connect theory and application are all reminiscent of the greats of the past Baldwin Dewey Piaget Vygotsky and Bruner

Sociogenetic Perspectives on Internalization Brian D. Cox, Cynthia Lightfoot, 2013-05-13 The issue of how the external world becomes part of the behavioral repertoire of children has been important to psychology from its very beginning preoccupying theorists from Sigmund Freud to George Herbert Mead But ever since Lev Vygotsky claimed that every function in a child s activity appears first as a process in the social realm between individuals and moves to a process that individual children can accomplish relatively independently there has been increased debate as to exactly how this process of internalization happens In contemporary developmental psychology the process of internalization has become so important that the time is ripe for a book which explicitly addresses the problems it poses Although the chapters in this book deal with age groups from preschool to adolescence and topics from mathematics to storytelling and from taking risks to making moral judgments there is one core question which unifies them all If the growing competence of a child is truly sociogenetic if it truly grows out from is supported by and is dependent upon the social where is that competence truly located Bearing a variety of labels cultural historical co constructionist dialectical contextualist narrative hermeneutic and discursive psychologies and analytic constructs scaffolding proleptic instruction participation appropriation and situated activity contemporary perspectives are showing clear signs of development and differentiation This volume s goal is to help bring some order to these differences without denying either the usefulness of this variety or the importance of the differences among perspectives This new book illuminates these differences by collecting a select sample of theory and research into one of two major sections The first section includes work undertaken from a social interactive perspective The overarching aim is to identify processes of child child or child adult interactions as they emerge over relatively short periods of time Typically the methodology involves the microanalysis of videotaped interactions Development is situated literally within social interactions which are considered directly responsible for children s development The second section provides a sample of work representing a symbolic action perspective This one is not oriented toward social interactions but toward the symbolic meanings that they express and that children impose on them The dominant methodology is interpretive or hermeneutic and the goal is to articulate the figurative metaphoric processes and narrative structures that inhabit social actions and from which they draw their meaning and coherence

Good Question Michael Emme, 2017-09-14

Good Question is a textbook intended for children and youth teachers and researchers interested in doing collaborative research in their community The volume starts out as comic book research methods textbook that intends to introduce children and youth to the fundamental structure of the research process its elements and steps as well as with the research activities associated with the different aspects of research practice in general and arts based image based research in particular This unique approach allows children and youth to learn the e craft of research in a play ful way and to become knowledgeable and competent co researchers with adults contributing to all phases of the study s design The volume encourages teachers and researchers to see the important role of play in teaching children and young people about the research process and gives them the tools to engage children and youth in playful arts based image based inquiries The complexity of exploring collaborative research required an innovative way of overcoming the linearity of a paper bound print text and the way we read it The volume is intentionally organized in three sections starting with the comic book because it invites an openness to layered non linear research literacy The volume also includes an anthology of research examples of conducting arts based image based research with children and several theoretical essays focused on play as research and collaborative arts based image based research The later sections featuring research examples and theory though heavily illustrated have been peer reviewed and formatted more in the academic tradition Thus Good Question represents an attempt to make sense of children s play ful engagement in arts based image based inquiry activities with adults as research By playing with the forms and traditions of the comic book the research methods textbook and the academic book together we have attempted to respectfully disassemble and reassemble book form We invite readers to discover those research conventions that are capable of establishing what is gathered and presented here as collaborative research with children We imagine this volume contributing to the quest e for new ways of living together of generating more and more incisive and inclusive dialogues

Adolescent Identities Deborah L. Browning, 2013-04-15

Adolescent Identities draws the reader into the inner world of the adolescent to examine the process of identity formation through the various lenses of history anthropology sociology psychology and psychoanalysis The volume reveals there is no single normal adolescent nor is there a singular adolescent experience Editor Deborah L Browning illustrates that in the course of development each individual must integrate one's unique biologically given constitution and temperament personal life history and the influence of the social and cultural milieu The book consists of six sections arranged by concentric circles of influence from the most exterior identifiable and potentially overt and conscious to the most internal private and potentially unconscious concerns Opening papers are drawn from sociology European history and cross cultural anthropology and address the question of whether and how adolescence can be considered a stage in development The second section explores how visible or potentially knowable minority statuses are experienced and how these interact with individual identity processes Moving closer to the adolescent's interpersonal world the third section presents papers about intimate relationships between adolescents and about the conscious preoccupations of adolescents when they are alone Extensive excerpts of Erikson's most important contributions on identity formation and adolescence are offered in the fourth section Papers on the most internal private and potentially unconscious conflicts comprise the fifth section The book concludes with a section of papers on failed solutions to the challenge of adolescent identity consolidation homelessness drug abuse eating disorders and suicide Adolescent Identities provides mental health practitioners teachers and graduate students in both fields with a variety of perspectives on the internal experience of adolescents

Empirical Theology in Texts and Tables

Leslie J. Francis, Jeff Astley, Mandy Robbins, 2009-01-31 Empirical theology offers fresh and stimulating insights into the concerns of both the Church and the Academy It does this by accessing relevant empirical evidence using the tools of the social sciences and placing this evidence in the context of theological critique and contemporary debate In this pioneering collection of focused essays leading experts of empirical theology illustrate key perspectives within this rapidly expanding discipline The first section of the book explores theoretical issues underpinning the main methods of obtaining empirical data and the use of these data within theology The other two sections display the role both of qualitative studies and of the analysis of quantitative data in exploring a range of theological beliefs and religious social and educational concerns

Forming Ethical Identities in Early Childhood Play Brian Edmiston, 2007-10-08 Through compelling examples Brian Edmiston presents the case for why and how adults should play with young children to create with them a workshop for life In a chapter on mythic play Edmiston confronts adult discomfort over children's play with pretend weapons as he encourages adults both to support children's desires to experience in imagination the limits of life and death and to travel with children on their transformational journeys into unknown territory This book provides researchers and students with a sound theoretical framework for reconceptualising significant aspects of pretend play in early childhood Its many practical illustrations make this a compelling and provocative read for any student taking courses in Early Childhood Studies

Ethical Literacies and Education for Sustainable Development Olof Franck, Christina Osbeck, 2017-05-06 This book explores the ethical dimensions surrounding the development of education for sustainable development within schools and examines these issues through the lens of ethical literacy The book argues that teaching children to engage with nature is crucial if they are to develop a true understanding of sustainability and climate issues and claims that sustainability education is much more successful when pupils are treated as moral agents rather than being passive subjects of testing and assessment The collection brings together a range of fresh and creative perspectives on how issues around ethical literacies can be elaborated and expanded with regard to democratic sustainability education The use of children's books in teaching about sustainability is carefully explored as are the ethical and aesthetic dimensions of environmental education Including an afterword by Arjen Wals Professor of Transformative Learning for Socio Ecological Sustainability the book will be of great interest to students and researchers in the field of sustainability education

Adolescent Boys Niobe Way, Judy Y. Chu, 2004-01-01

Social constructionism and theology [electronic resource] Chris A. M. Hermans, 2002 Practical theology starts its theological reflections from practices aims at analyzing empirically practices and is directed towards the transformation of these practices From this practice orientation there is a strong connection between practical theology and the social sciences Social constructionism is a growing theory within the social sciences This volume offers a theological and social scientific reflection on this emerging concept of social constructionism
