Greenfield, 1998 This book proposes that allegory is not a species of literature but a structure of reading applied to uncomfortable juxtapositions within literary texts Examples from centuries of response to English Renaissance narrative poetry show not what poems mean but how they may be read and what cultural conditions encourage allegorical or nonallegorical readings The study also encompasses interpretations of classical verse biblical parable Jacobean masque modern lyric and television advertising to explore how texts move in and out of the category of allegory Popular and Complete English Dictionary John Boag, 1848 The Imperial Lexicon of the English Language John Boag, 1850 Allegorical Quests from Deguileville to Spenser Marco Nievergelt, 2012 An examination of sixteenth century quest narratives focussing on their conscious use of a medieval tradition to hold a mirror up to contemporary culture Offers the first full study of the allegorical knightly quest tradition from the Middle Ages to the

Renaissance Richly satisfying as impressive in the detail of its scholarship as in the elegance of its critical formulations It seamlessly moves between different literary traditions and across conventional period boundaries In Dr Nievergelt's treatment of this theme the successive retellings of the tale of the knight's quest come to stand as an emblem of shifting values and norms both religious and worldly and of our repeated failures to realise those ideals Dr Alex Davis Department of English University of St Andrews The literary motif of the allegorical knightly quest appears repeatedly in the literature of the late medieval early modern period notably in Spenser but has hitherto been little examined Here in his examination of a number of sixteenth century English allegorical chivalric quest narratives focussing on Spenser's Faerie Queene but including important lesser known works such as Stephen Bateman's Travayled Pylgrime and William Goodyear's Voyage of the Wandering Knight the author argues that the tradition begins with the French writer Guillaume de Deguileville His seminal Plerinage de la vie humaine was composed c 1331-1355 it was widely adapted translated rewritten and printed over the next centuries Dr Nievergelt goes on to demonstrate how this essentially medieval literary form could be adapted to articulate reflections on changing patterns of identity society and religion during the early modern period and how it becomes a vehicle of self exploration and self fashioning during a period of profound cultural crisis Dr Marco Nievergelt is Lecturer Maître Assitant and SNF Swiss National Science Foundation Research Fellow in the English Department at the Université de Lausanne
