Social Problems Donileen R. Loseke, Joel Best, 2017 This collection of focused essays is directed at several levels of students of social problems It is accessible to the uninitiated who are not familiar with the constructionist literature and aimed at those who are not particularly interested in subtle theoretical and empirical issues of concern to academics studying social problems from constructionist perspectives Some readings focus on the construction of problems by scientists and other professionals others examine the work of social activists mass media and social service personnel Among the topics included are studies of social inequalities and individual deviance a comparison of the images of social problems in the United States with those in other countries and an examination of the importance of politics and power in constructing public images of social problems Constructionist perspectives have become the leading theoretical approach for sociology and allied fields in studying social problems Yet constructionists impact on the teaching of social problems has been far less dramatic Undergraduate courses on social problems are often subject to a theoretical barrage of eclectic perspectives Just as the first social problems textbooks did almost a century ago textbooks continue to present a series of unrelated chapters each devoted to a particular social problem Social Problems is an effort at systematic analysis rather than random thought on the subject Social Problems presents detailed case studies demonstrating how constructionist perspectives can actually be applied to understand particular social problems While these articles can be read alone the editors have organized these selections to correspond with the chapter topics in the second edition of Donileen Loseke's Thinking about Social Problems an accessible introduction to constructionist approaches At the same time some instructors who use this edited collection might wish to provide their own mix to the selection process Many of the contributions make multiple points and so reasonably could be used to illustrate other basic texts or classic studies in the field of social problems Donileen R Loseke is professor of sociology at the University of South Florida Joel Best is professor and chair Department of Sociology and Criminal Justice University of Delaware He has also served as an advisory editor for Aldine in the area of social problems

The BBC's management of risk Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts, 2007-12-06 This Committee of Public Accounts report on The BBC's management of risk sets out a number of recommendations on dealing with risk and what the BBC's Executive Board should implement Risk comes in different forms from the risk of damaging the Corporation's reputation as a public service broadcaster to personal risk staff can experience when reporting from dangerous parts of the world This report follows on from a National Audit Office report of the same title and is available from the NAO website http://www.bbcgovernorsarchive.co.uk/docs/reviews/nao_riskmanagement.pdf Among the recommendations are that BBC guidance needs a clearer delineation of responsibilities for risk management that the main themes of risk management are not aligned with corporate objectives that the BBC should update its assessments of the risks of working in hostile environments as the abduction of journalist Alan Johnson showed by failing to comply with its own Broadcasting Code the BBC was fined by Ofcom over the a live phone in competition on Blue Peter and illustrates that some programme makers are ignoring the BBC's own editorial guidelines exposing the corporation to reputational risk the BBC has not related its risk to corporate objectives or assigned all risks to named owners that BBC managers at all levels are not sufficiently engaged in the management of risk there is still no fully satisfactory regime under which the BBC is accountable to Parliament for the value for money with which it spends licence fee payers money

Managing Food Safety and Hygiene Bridget M. Hutter, 2011-01-01 One of the most thorough and considered studies we have of the relationship between regulation and business risk management practices Food regulation provides a revealing canvas for understanding the dynamics of the governance of risk John Braithwaite Australian National University Food safety and hygiene is of critical importance to us all yet as periodic food crises in various countries each year show we are all dependent on others in business and public regulation to ensure that the food we consume from food in the retailing and hospitality sectors is safe Bridget Hutter considers the understandings of risk and regulation held by those in business and considers the compliance pressures on managers and owners and how these relate to understandings of risk and uncertainty Using data from an in depth case study of the food retail and catering sectors in the UK the research investigates how business risk management practices are influenced by external pressures such as state regulation consumers insurance and the media and by pressures within business The argument of the book is that food businesses in the UK are generally motivated to manage risk They realize that good risk management aligns with good business practice However there are challenges for an industry that is highly segmented in terms of risk management capacity The findings have implications for contemporary risk regulation in the increasingly number of countries that rely on self regulation Managing Food Safety and Hygiene will prove invaluable for academic researchers and students in risk regulation studies business studies food studies organizational studies social psychology socio legal studies sociology management public administration and political science In addition the book will also appeal to practitioners specifically to senior policy makers regulators and business risk managers charged with managing risk in diverse organizational settings and across different functional jurisdictions
