history of modern philosophy      The Interpretation of Kenosis from Origen to Cyril of Alexandria Michael C. Magree, 2024-04-22 The self emptying of Christ proclaimed in the letter to the Philippians 2:7 remains a much debated topic in modern theology and exegesis The Interpretation of Kenosis from Origen to Cyril of Alexandria brings the insights of Greek Christianity to the understanding of kenosis to illustrate that new dimensions of the topic open up when it is examined in the historical era of early Christianity Origen of Alexandria showed that his understanding of kenosis allowed him to resist overly confining understandings of divine immutability yet retain the conviction that the immutable Word's self emptying calls the Christian believer to awe and wonder Gregory of Nyssa found in kenosis a way to emphasize the Son of God's embrace of all of human life including historical development Cyril of Alexandria finally the term kenosis more than anyone else in Greek speaking Christianity It was a theme across all major eras and genres of his writing from scriptural exegesis to doctrinal disputes including those about the divinity of the Son and the natural union of the Son with human reality Cyril found in kenosis an anchor point for two themes first that the strangeness and shocking quality of the term kenosis reminds the believer that God's categories always stretch beyond human who emptied himself can only be answered by a single subject Christology that proclaims the kenosis of the Word This book opens and closes with chapters relating early Christian teaching on Christ's self emptying to modern scripture scholarship and to concerns of feminist systematic theology      Grief and Sorrow in the Roman World Anthony Smart, 2024-12-26 Engaging with the long history of emotions this book provides a new narrative of how grief was defined experienced and used in Ancient Rome From studies of tears and weeping to Roman funerary monuments and inscriptions the role of female grief in navigating political conflict and letters of consolation Grief and Sorrow in the Roman World explores the language of grief and individuality of sorrow in Rome and asks how and why they shaped their emotions in this way Revisiting familiar sources such as Livy and Plutarch it offers new interpretations to place the Roman emotional framework against our own Can we recognise our own notions of grief in the Ancient World Do we feel pain in the same way as our Roman ancestors did Exploring these questions and more Anthony Smart challenges existing perceptions of grief and sorrow in the Roman world and places emotions at the centre of this rich culture      The Letter to the Hebrews: Critical Readings Scott D. Mackie, 2018-04-05 The Letter to the Hebrews is a key text in the New Testament canon It has recently received a great deal of attention prompting a resurgence of scholarly works and a need to re engage with some of the foundational works of scholarship on the text The history of research on Hebrews is presented in this volume of critical readings edited by Scott D Mackie The volume is organized thematically addressing the following sub areas theology Christology and pneumatology eschatology authorship and audience structure and Greco Roman influences the relationship with contemporaneous Judaism and soteriology Each section is prefaced by an introduction and summary of the particular theme in Hebrews At the end of each section is an annotated bibliography to point researchers towards further readings in and engagements with these key themes      Marlowe's Ovid M. L. Stapleton, 2016-05-06 The first book of its kind Marlowe's Ovid explores and analyzes in depth the relationship between the Elegies Marlowe's translation of Ovid's Amores and Marlowe's own dramatic and poetic works Stapleton carefully considers Marlowe's Elegies in the context of his seven known dramatic works and his epyllion Hero and Leander and offers a different way to read Marlowe Stapleton employs Marlowe's rendition of the Amores as a way to read his seven dramatic productions and his narrative poetry while engaging with previous scholarship devoted to the accuracy of the translation and to bibliographical issues The author focuses on four main principles the intertextual relationship of the Elegies to the rest of the author's canon its reflection of the influence of Erasmian humanist pedagogy imitatio and aemulatio its status as the standard English Amores until the Glorious Revolution part of the larger phenomenon of pan European Renaissance Ovidianism its participation in the genre of the sonnet sequence He explores how translating the Amores into the Elegies profited Marlowe as a writer a kind of literary archaeology that explains why he may have commenced such an undertaking Marlowe's Ovid adds to the body of scholarly work in a number of subfields including classical influences in English literature translation sexuality in literature early modern poetry and drama and Marlowe and his milieu

Synaesthesia and the Ancient Senses Shane Butler, Alex Purves, 2014-09-03 Like us the ancient Greeks and Romans came to know and understand the world through their senses Yet sensory experience has rarely been considered in the study of antiquity and when the senses are examined sight is regularly privileged Synaesthesia and the Ancient Senses presents a radical reappraisal of antiquity's textures flavours and aromas sounds and sights It offers both a fresh look at society in the ancient world and an opportunity to deepen the reading of classical literature The book will appeal to readers in classical society and literature philosophy and cultural history All Greek and Latin is translated and technical matters are explained for the non specialist The introduction sets the ancient senses within the history of aesthetics and the subsequent essays explores the senses throughout the classical period and on to the modern reception of classical literature

After Taste. Critique of insufficient reason Slavko Kacunko, 2021-06-02 After Taste is an inquiry into a field of study dedicated to the reconsideration reconstruction and rehabilitation of the concept of Taste Taste is the category whose systematic historical and actual dimensions have traditionally been located in a variety of disciplines The actuality and potential of the study is based on a variety of collected facts from readings and experiences which materialize in the following features One concept figurative Taste two thinking traditions analytic and synthetic continental and three interrelated dimensions systematic historic and actual are presented in three volumes As such the study presents a salient comprehensive companion for wider readership of humanities approaching conceptions of Taste for the first time Moreover After Taste is intended for anyone who hopes to make a further contribution to the subject Since its appearance and apparently short triumph some 250 years ago the concept of non literary Taste remained the linchpin of aesthetic theory and practice but also a category outreaching aesthetics Taste as the personal unity of the production theory and criticism of art and literature which was still largely taken as a given in the eighteenth century has meanwhile given way to a highly differentiated art world in which aesthetic discourse is placed in such a way that it can seemingly no longer have a conceptual or linguistic effect on general opinion making The critical role of Taste judges ratings and rankings in the feuilleton politics and social media on the one hand and the responding search for new canons on the other have had a huge impact on the academic and popular discourse today However Taste s impact on society is in fact all encompassing and yet without getting even close to the magnetic North of the academic compass After Taste fills the gaps of systematic research by a comprehensive tracing of the emergence of the doctrines discourses and disciplinary dimensions of Taste up to the peak of its systematic and historical trajectory in the eighteenth century and onwards into the present day The guiding goal is a post disciplinary rehabilitation of the contested category as a preparation for its productive usage in emerging academic and popular contexts Three intertwined research hypotheses form the guiding goal of an overall study of the agencies of Taste its institutionalizations and expert cultures The 1 first part provides a missing systematic perspective on the concept of Taste as a key factor for understanding the human faculties value theories and practices of valuating The 2 second part traces the events at the peak of Taste s systematic and historical trajectories up until the late eighteenth century and verifies the historiographical hypothesis about the instrumentality of Taste for the production reception and distribution of culture The 3 third part reconstructs the major moments in which the contested concept of Taste experiences its post disciplinary rehabilitation in preparation for its future productive usage in the academic and popular discourses and practices It shows how the category of Taste became the foundation legitimation and the catalyst for the emerging division of labour faculties and disciplines confirming the hypothesis of the immense impact and actuality of Taste in the contemporary world

Harvey, Timothy M. Harrison, 2024-05-10 A reimagining of Devotions upon Emergent Occasions as an original treatment of human life shaped by innovations in seventeenth century science and medicine In 1624 poet and preacher John Donne published Devotions upon Emergent Occasions a book that recorded his near death experience during a deadly epidemic in London Four hundred years later in the aftermath of our own pandemic Harvey and Harrison show how Devotions crystalizes the power beauty and enduring strangeness of Donne's thinking Arguing that Donne saw human life in light of emergent ideas in the study of nature physics and the study of the body physick John Donne's Physics reveals Devotions as a culminating achievement a radically new literary form that uses poetic techniques to depict Donne's encounter with death in a world transformed by new discoveries and knowledge systems The English Baroque in Early Modern Literature Robert Hudson Vincent, 2025 While the baroque remains a foundational concept for other European literary and aesthetic traditions scholars have largely elided the word from British literary history Instead of baroque most critics prefer to use terms like metaphysical Stuart and Laudian words that emphasise England's primacy rather than its connections with the world In response to these Anglocentric approaches The English Baroque in Early Modern Literature demonstrates how the baroque can deepen our understanding of the multilingual cross confessional and interdisciplinary features of early modern English literature It connects the works of Margaret Cavendish John Donne John Milton and William Shakespeare among other English authors to the style of excess that spread across Europe and the colonial world during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries In doing so Robert Hudson Vincent offers a compelling new vision of the baroque as an aesthetic logic for thinking about and living with excess in the early modern world
