concepts and technologies are being introduced continuously for application development in the World Wide Web. Selecting the right implementation strategies and tools when building a Web application has become a tedious task requiring in-depth knowledge and significant experience from both software developers and software managers. The mission of this book is to guide the reader through the opaque jungle of Web technologies. Based on their long industrial and academic experience, Stefan Jablonski and his coauthors provide a framework architecture for Web applications which helps choose the best strategy for a given project. The authors classify common technologies and standards like NET, CORBA, J2EE, DCOM, WSDL and many more with respect to platform, architectural layer and application package and guide the reader through a three-phase development process consisting of preparation, design and technology selection steps. The whole approach is exemplified using a real-world case: the architectural design of an order entry management system.

Mobile Data Mining and Applications Hao Jiang, Qimei Chen, Yuanyuan Zeng, Deshi Li, 2019-05-10. This book focuses on mobile data and its applications in the wireless networks of the future. Several topics form the basis of discussion: from a mobile data mining platform for collecting mobile data to mobile data processing and mobile feature discovery. Usage of mobile data mining is addressed in the context of three applications: wireless communication optimization, applications of mobile data mining on the cellular networks of the future and how mobile data shapes future cities. In the discussion of wireless communication optimization, both licensed and unlicensed spectra are exploited. Advanced topics include mobile offloading, resource sharing, user association, network selection and network coexistence. Mathematical tools such as traditional convex and non-convex stochastic processing and game theory are used to find objective solutions. Discussion of the applications of mobile data mining to cellular networks of the future includes topics such as green communication networks, 5G networks and studies of the problems of cell zooming, power control, sleep/wake and energy saving. The discussion of mobile data mining in the context of smart cities of the future covers applications in urban planning and environmental monitoring. The technologies of deep learning, neural networks, complex networks and network embedded data mining. Mobile Data Mining and Applications will be of interest to wireless operators, companies, governments as well as interested end users.
