Race and Planning Huw Thomas, 2004-08-02 Examines the place of race in land use planning drawing on policy making literature as well as race and ethnic studies to provide students with a well balanced introduction Race, Faith and Planning in Britain Richard Gale, Huw Thomas, 2020-09-21 Race Faith and Planning in Britain adopts a Critical Race Theory perspective to analyse and discuss challenges of planning in contemporary multi ethnic Britain Exploring how planning is affected by and affects the racialisation of social relations this book charts the history of the UK planning system s approach in terms of the spatial consequences of immigration and discourses of diversity cohesion citizenship and belonging Authors Richard Gale and Huw Thomas pay special attention to the experiences of minority groups in Britain including Gypsies and Travellers and British Muslims They underline that the struggle over planning in racialised societies must be construed as part of a wider political struggle over equality This book is an essential read for students and practitioners of planning in multi cultural contexts

Town and Country Planning in the UK Barry Cullingworth, Vincent Nadin, 2006-10-16 This revised fourteenth edition reinforces this title s reputation as the bible of British planning It provides a through explanation of planning processes including the institutions involved tools systems policies and changes to land use Town and Country Planning in the UK Simin Davoudi, David Webb, Geoff Vigar, John Pendlebury, Tim Townshend, Trevor Hart, Vincent Nadin, 2014-12-05 Town and country planning has never been more important to the UK nor more prominent in national debate Planning generates great controversy whether it s spending 80m and four years inquiry into Heathrow s Terminal 5 or the 200 proposed wind turbines in the Shetland Isles On a smaller scale telecoms masts take aways house extensions and even fences are often the cause of local conflict Town and Country Planning in the UK has been extensively revised by a new author group This 15th Edition incorporates the major changes to planning introduced by the coalition government elected in 2010 particularly through the National Planning Policy Framework and associated practice guidance and the Localism Act It provides a critical discussion of the systems of planning the procedures for managing development and land use change and the mechanisms for implementing policy and proposals It reviews current policy for sustainable development and the associated economic social and environmental themes relevant to planning in both urban and rural contexts Contemporary arrangements are explained with reference to their historical development the influence of the European Union the roles of central and local government and developing social and economic demands for land use change Detailed consideration is given to the nature of planning and its historical evolution the role of the EU central regional and local government mechanisms for developing policy and managing these changes policies for guiding and delivering housing and economic development sustainable development principles for planning including pollution control the importance of design in planning conserving the heritage community engagement in planning The many recent changes to the system are explained in detail the new national planning policy framework the impact of the loss of the regional tier in planning and of the insertion of neighbourhood level planning the transition from development control to development management the continued and growing importance of environmental matters in planning community engagement partnership working changes to planning gain and the introduction of the Community Infrastructure Levy and new initiatives across a number of other themes Notes on further reading are provided and at the end of the book there is an extensive bibliography maintaining its reputation as the bible of British planning Planning for Tourism Nigel D Morpeth, Hongliang Yan, 2015-05-01 This text provides an innovative approach to the pedagogy of contemporary planning processes within different cultural contexts globally It adopts an innovative multi disciplinary social science approach and through the inclusion of international case studies considers the extent to which intelligent design has enabled the needs of disabled residents and visitors to have universal access to social spaces and facilities In incorporating the consideration into the fabric of the book it will encourage the mainstreaming of universal design and accessible tourism as keystones of planning processes within the C21st

Engaged Urban Pedagogy Lucy Natarajan, Michael Short, 2023-07-06 Engaged Urban Pedagogy presents a participatory approach to teaching built environment subjects by exploring 12 examples of real world engagement in urban planning involving people within and beyond the university Starting with curriculum review course content is analysed in light of urban pasts race queer identity lived experiences and concerns of urban professionals Case studies then shift to focus on techniques for participatory critical pedagogy including expanding the classroom with links to live place making processes connections made through digital co design exercises and student led podcasting assignments Finally the book turns to activities beyond formal university teaching such as where school age children learn about their own participation in urban processes together alongside university students and researchers The last cases show how academics have enabled co production in local urban developments trained community co researchers and acted as part of a city to city learning network Throughout the book editorial commentary highlights how these activities are a critical source of support for higher education Together the 12 examples demonstrate the power and range of an engaged urban pedagogy They are written by academics university students and those working in urban planning and place making Drawing on foundational works of critical pedagogy they present a distinctly urban praxis that will help those in universities respond to the built environment challenges of today

The Politics and Ideology of Planning Tim Marshall, 2020-12-09 Planning is a battleground of ideas and interests perhaps more visibly and continuously than ever before in the UK These battles play out nationally and at every level from cities to the smallest neighbourhoods Marshall goes to the root of current planning models and exposes who is acting for what purposes across these battlegrounds He examines the ideological structuring of planning and the interplay of political forces which act out conflicting interest positions This book discusses how structures of planning can be improved and explores how we can generate more effective political engagements in the future Cities and the Politics of Difference Michael A. Burayidi, 2015-01-01 The essays in this collection cover the practical and theoretical issues that surround integrating considerations of diversity in all its forms and guises into planning practice and theory      Planning Practice Jessica Ferm, John Tomaney, 2018-06-13 Planning Practice Critical Perspectives from the UK provides the only comprehensive overview of contemporary planning practice in the UK Drawing on contributions from leading researchers in the field it examines the tools contexts and outcomes of planning practice Part I examines planning processes and tools and the extent to which theory and practice diverge covering plan making Development Management planning gain public engagement and place making Part II examines the changing contexts within which planning practice takes place including privatisation and deregulation devolution and multi level governance increased ethnic and social diversity growing environmental concerns and the changing nature of commercial real estate Part III focuses on how planning practice produces outcomes for the built environment in relation to housing infrastructure economic progress public transport and regeneration The book considers what it means to be a reflective practitioner in the modern planning system the constraints and opportunities that planners face in their daily work and the ethical and political challenges they must confront      'Race' and Sport Kevin Hylton, 2008-08-01 Critical Race Theory provides a framework for exploring racism in society taking into account the role of institutions and drawing on the experiences of those affected Applied to the world of sport this framework can reveal the underlying social mores and institutionalised prejudices that have helped perpetuate those racial stereotypes particular to sport and those that permeate broader society In this groundbreaking sociological investigation Kevin Hylton takes on the controversial subject of racial attitudes in sport and beyond With sport as his primary focus Hylton unpacks the central concepts of race ethnicity social constructionism and racialisation and helps the reader navigate the complicated issues and debates that surround the study of race in sport Containing rigorous and insightful analysis throughout the book explores key topics such as the origins applications and terminology of Critical Race Theory the meaning of whiteness the media sport and racism anti racism and sport genetics and scientific racism The contested concepts that define the subject of race in sport present a constant challenge for academics policy makers and practitioners in the development of their ideas policies and interventions This innovative and challenging book is essential reading for anybody looking to fully understand this important subject      Planning for Ethnic Tourism Li Yang, Geoffrey Wall, 2016-04-22 Ethnic tourism has emerged as a means that is employed by many countries to facilitate economic and cultural development and to assist in the preservation of ethnic heritage However while ethnic tourism has the potential to bring economic and social benefits it can also significantly impact traditional cultures ways of life and the sense of identity of ethnic groups There is growing concern in many places about how to balance the use of ethnicity as a tourist attraction with the protection of minority cultures and the promotion of ethnic pride Despite the fact that a substantial literature is devoted to the impacts of ethnic tourism little research has been done on how to plan ethnic tourism attractions or to manage community impacts of tourism This book addresses the need for more research on planning for ethnic tourism by exploring the status and enhancement of planning strategies for ethnic tourism development The book develops the case of a well known ethnic tourist destination in China Xishuangbanna Yunnan It analyzes how ethnic tourism has been planned and developed at the study site and examines associated socio cultural and planning issues The authors evaluate the perspectives of four key stakeholder groups the government tourism entrepreneurs ethnic minorities and tourists on ethnic tourism through on site observation interviews with government officials planners and tourism entrepreneurs surveys of tourists and ethnic minority people and evaluation of government policies plans and statistics This book is unique in its emphasis on planning and in its focus on China rapidly emerging as a major player in tourism with applications for tourism around the world Town and Country Planning in the UK J. B.

Cullingworth, Vincent Nadin, 2002 This thirteenth edition has been completely revised to take into account all the changes that have occurred in British planning including the policies introduced by the Labour government devolution innovations and the European Union Superdiversity, Policy and Governance in Europe Jenny Phillimore, Nando Sigona, Katherine

Tonkiss, 2020-10-21 Immigration has transformed the social economic political and cultural landscapes of global cities such as London Melbourne Milan and Amsterdam The term superdiversity captures a new era of migration driven demographic diversifications and associated complexities Superdiversity is the future or in many cases the current reality of neighbourhoods cities countries and regions yet the implications of superdiversification for governance and policy have until now received very little attention First published as a special issue of Policy Politics this insightful volume brings together contributions from experts across Europe to explore the ways in which superdiversity has shaped the development of policy and to consider challenges for the future Unlearning the Colonial Cultures of Planning Libby Porter, 2016-02-24

Colonialization has never failed to provoke discussion and debate over its territorial economic and political projects and their ongoing consequences This work argues that the state based activity of planning was integral to these projects in conceptualizing shaping and managing place in settler societies Planning was used to appropriate and then produce territory for management by the state and in doing so became central to the colonial invasion of settler states Moreover the book demonstrates how the colonial roots of planning endure in complex post colonial societies and how such roots manifest in everyday planning practice continue to shape land use contests between indigenous people and planning systems in contemporary post colonial states Knights and Castles Francesco Lo Piccolo, 2017-11-30 Title first published in 2003

Much has been written about the problems minorities encounter in Western European and North American cities This insightful volume acknowledges the deep rooted nature of inequalities and discrimination but seeks ways of ameliorating and eradicating them from positive stories of minority involvement in regeneration Planning and Urban Change Stephen Ward, 2004-03-08 An accessible yet detailed account of British urban planning This second edition features an entirely new chapter on the key policy changes that have occurred under the Major and Blair governments together with a critical review of current policy trends Planning for Diversity Dory Reeves, 2005 The practical importance of diversity and equality for spatial planning and sustainable development is still not widely understood Using international examples this book shows planners and educationalists the benefits of building in a consideration of diversity and equality at each stage and level of planning Despite being one of the most diverse and gender balanced of the built environment professions complacency has been widespread in planning This book shows why a diverse profession is important and drawing on a wide range of good practice shows how those involved in planning can develop their sensitivity to and expertise in diversity and equality

Tensions in Diversity Felicity Hwee-Hwa Chan, 2022-11-01 Urban landscapes are complex spaces of sociocultural diversity characterized by narratives of both conviviality and conflict As people with multiple ethnicities and nationalities find their common destinies in thriving globalizing cities social cohesiveness becomes more precarious as different beliefs practices ambitions values and affiliations intersect in close proximity producing social tensions Tensions in Diversity presents a multi method comparative study that draws on the experiences of 140 residents of native and immigrant origin community organizers and municipal officers in three culturally diverse neighbourhoods of varying income levels in Los Angeles County Using cognitive mapping analysis combined with data from interviews surveys and participant observation this book explores how exactly coexistence is socio spatially experienced and negotiated in daily life Tensions in Diversity identifies the planning and design considerations that enable intercultural learning in the public places within diverse cities In doing so this book foregrounds urban space as an active force in shaping coexistence and convivial public environments

Town & Country Planning, 2001      Understanding 'Race' and Ethnicity Chattoo, Sangeeta, Atkin, Karl, 2019-04-10 This new edition of a widely respected textbook examines welfare policy and racism in a broad framework that marries theory evidence history and contemporary debate Fully updated it contains a new foreword by Professor Kate Pickett acclaimed co author of The Spirit Level two new chapters on disability and chronic illness and UK education policy respectively updated examples and data reflecting changes in black and minority ethnic demographics in the UK a post script from a minority student on her struggle to make a new home in Britain Suitable for undergraduate and postgraduate courses in social policy sociology and applied social sciences its global themes of immigration austerity and securitisation also make it of considerable interest to policy and welfare practitioners
