Race Identity And Representation In Education

Marvin Lynn, Adrienne D. Dixon

Race Identity And Representation In Education:

Race, Identity, and Representation in Education Cameron McCarthy, 1993 Despite differing orientations the contributors here all share a common concern for stressing the importance of social context nuance and language in understanding the dynamics of race relations Playing the Race Card George Jerry Sefa Dei, Leeno Luke Karumanchery, Nisha Karumanchery-Luik, 2004 Playing the Race Card reflects and engages the dynamic nature of racialized experience in Western contexts It examines today's anti racism project to discern how it might benefit from integrating strategies that work toward the development of critical consciousness as its main goal So that the privileged and the oppressed alike may reflexively examine their own subject positions this book identifies and addresses the need to develop a working model for anti racism strategies Given the need to understand and move beyond static conceptions of race and racism Playing the Race Card offers both a critique of mainstream privileged perceptions of racial oppression as well as a direction forward within a more organic approach to social reform

Comparative and Global Pedagogies Joseph Zajda, Lynn Davies, Suzanne Majhanovich, 2008-06-26 A major aim of Comparative and Global Pedagogies Equity Access and Democracy in Education which is the second volume in the 12 volume book series Globalisation Comparative Education and Policy Research edited by Joseph Zajda and his team is to present a global overview of recent trends in equity and access in education globally By examining some of the major education policy issues particularly in the light of recent shifts in education and policy research dealing with equity and access the editors aim to provide a comprehensive picture of the intersecting and diverse discourses of globalization education and policy driven reforms The impact of globalization on education policy and reforms is a strategically important issue for us all More than ever before there is a need to understand and analyse both the intended and the unintended effects of globalization on educational systems the state and relevant policy changes especially in terms of equity and access as they affect individuals educational bodies such as universities policy makers across the globe Current education policy research dealing with equity and social inequality reflects a rapidly changing world where citizens and consumers are experiencing a growing sense of uncertainty exclusion and loss of flexibility Yet globalization exposes us also to opportunities generated by a fast changing world economy

Researching Race in Education Adrienne D. Dixon, 2014-06-01 In traditional educational research race is treated as merely a variable In 1995 Gloria Ladson Billings and William F Tate IV argued that race is under theorized in education and called for educational researchers to pay closer attention to the relationship between race and educational inequity Ladson Billings and Tate 1995 In particular they argued drawing on legal scholar Derrick Bell's notion of Racial Realism Bell 1995 that racialized inequities are not accidental or aberrant rather racialized educational inequities are the result of particular and specific policies and practices that are designed to maintain particular forms of dominance and marginalization More specifically Bell and later Ladson Billings and Tate argue that racial inequity persists despite liberal policies and legislation that were ostensibly designed to eradicate it The Racial Realist perspective takes into the consideration the longevity and history of racism racial inequity and White supremacy in the U S and serves as a mirror to reflect back the limitations of proposed policies and legislation that fail to address those issues In this way Critical Race Theory and the scholars who draw on CRT view our work as an important check and balance in the effort toward racial equality

Revisiting The Great White North? Darren E. Lund, 2015-01-20 Returning seven years later to their original pieces from this landmark book over 20 leading scholars and activists revisit and reframe their rich contributions to a burgeoning scholarship on Whiteness With new reflective writings for each chapter and valuable sections on relevant readings and resources this volume refreshes and enhances the first text to pay critical and sustained attention to Whiteness in education with implications far beyond national borders Contributors include George Sefa Dei Tracey Lindberg Carl James Cynthia Levine Rasky and the late Patrick Solomon Courageously examining diverse perspectives contexts and institutional practices contributors to this volume dismantle the underpinnings of inequitable power relations privilege and marginalization The book's relevance extends to those in a range of settings with abundant and poignant lessons for enhancing and understanding transformative social justice work in education Revisiting The Great White North offers terrific grist for examining the persistence of Whiteness even as it shape shifts Chapters are comprehensive theoretically rich and anchored in personal experience Authors reflections on the seven years since publication of the first edition of this book complexify how we understand Whiteness while simultaneously driving home the need not only to grapple with it but to work against it Christine Sleeter Professor Emerita California State University Monterey Bay Our understanding of racial inequities in education will be impoverished unless we look deeply at White privilege its variation in different contexts and resistances to change Such is the call in this important book by Lund Carr and colleagues whose analyses within Canadian contexts framed and re framed for this captivating revised edition will be useful to educators and scholars around the world Read this book today Kevin Kumashiro Dean School of Education University of San Francisco President National Association for Multicultural Education Darren Lund and Paul Carr have given the contributors to their original 2007 text the opportunity to revisit rethink reconceptualize and reframe their earlier work The result is an interesting invigorating and unsettling group of chapters that challenge readers to also revisit and rethink their own ideas about Whiteness privilege and power Teachers administrators policymakers and researchers will all benefit from this critical work Sonia Nieto Professor Emerita Language Literacy and Culture College of Education University of Massachusetts Amherst Lund and Carr bring together a superb collection of authors who collectively challenge readers to go beyond liberal platitudes about race until educators confront the political social and economic consequences of inequitably distributed privilege the path towards equality and freedom will remain elusive By immersing us in the discourse of Whiteness the essays in this book illuminate that very path Joel Westheimer University Research Chair Professor Faculty of Education University of Ottawa

Antiracist Education Julie Kailin, 2002-03-11 This book combines theory practice and ethnography in an exploration of how teachers can fully implement diversity and antiracism as a foundation of their teaching approach The author a white mother of children of color whose work is influenced by her own experience being raised in an antiracist activist family developed her curriculum over many years of active involvement with parents and teachers in schools She presents her curriculum along with ethnographic reports of the processes of change that teachers experience as they fully explore the realities of race relations its history and the lived experiences of others Kailin shows how immersion in this exploration enables teachers to develop curricula and teaching practices that are effectively antiracist and fully connected to students lives

Advancing Equity and Achievement in America's Diverse Schools Camille M. Wilson, Sonya Douglass Horsford, 2013-09-05 Advancing Equity and Achievement in America's Diverse Schools illustrates how educators students families and community partners can work in strategic ways to build on social cultural and ethnic diversity to advance educational equity and achievement By drawing on the latest data on demographic change constructions of culture and cultural difference and the politics of school reform in urban rural and suburban school communities this volume looks toward solutions and strategies for meaningful educational improvement Contributors consider both the diversity of youth and families served in public schools and the culture of U S schooling highlighting the influence of policy and reform agendas students identities and agency experiences and approaches of diverse educators and the workings of effective school partnerships Chapters also focus on those often overlooked in educational scholarship such as Native Americans students experiencing poverty and or homelessness Muslim students students with special needs and students and educators who are lesbian gay bisexual transgender intersex or queer In all this edited collection stresses the need for high quality education that is inclusive culturally responsive and unifying so all students can experience academic success This book is a meaningful resource for educators policymakers and community based leaders interested in doing such transformative work

The RoutledgeFalmer Reader in Multicultural Education David Gillborn, Gloria Ladson-Billings, 2004 Bringing together scholarship from both sides of the Atlantic this book focuses on the questions that shape the field of multicultural education offering the reader an opportunity to achieve a real grasp of the subject

Critical Voices in Teacher Education Barry Down, John Smyth, 2012-04-28 We live in dangerous times when educational policies and practices are debated largely in terms of how they fit with the needs of the free market This volume is a collection of writing by teacher educators that draws on their unique biographies experiences and perspectives to denounce these misguided norms It explores what it means practically and intellectually to teach for social justice in conservative times In a globalised world where the power of capital holds sway the purposes of social institutions such as universities and schools is being refashioned in ways that are markedly instrumental and technicist in nature The consequence is that teachers work is increasingly constrained by regimes of control such as standardised testing accountability transparency and national curricula In the meantime large numbers of students and teachers are disengaging physically emotionally and intellectually from learning The contributors to this edited volume present both a powerful critique of these developments and a counter hegemonic vision of teacher education founded on the principles and values of social justice democracy and critical inquiry Teacher education they argue involves a commitment to critical intellectual work that subjects some deeply entrenched assumptions beliefs habits routines and practices to closer scrutiny The contributing authors expose how ideology and power operate in seemingly blameless rational ways to perpetuate social hierarchies based on class gender sexuality race and culture Speaking the Unpleasant

Rudolfo Chávez Chávez,Rudolfo Chavez Chavez,James O'Donnell,1998-01-01 Discusses the issue of engagement and nonengagement of students in multicultural education programs Handbook of Critical Race Theory in Education

Marvin Lynn,Adrienne D. Dixon,2013-09-02 This handbook illustrates how education scholars employ Critical Race Theory CRT as a framework to bring attention to issues of race and racism in education It is the first authoritative reference work to provide a truly comprehensive description and analysis of the topic from the defining conceptual principles of CRT in the Law that gave shape to its radical underpinnings to the political and social implications of the field today It is divided into three sections covering innovations in educational research policy and practice in both schools and in higher education and the increasing interdisciplinary nature of critical race research With 28 newly commissioned pieces written by the most renowned scholars in the field this handbook provides the definitive statement on the state of critical race theory in education and on its possibilities for the future Race, Place and Globalization Anoop Nayak,2016-09-08 What does it mean to be young in a changing world How are migration settlement and new urban cultures shaping young lives And in particular are race place and class still meaningful to contemporary youth cultures This path breaking book shows how young people are responding differently to recent social economic and cultural transformations From the spirit of white localism deployed by de industrialized football supporters to the hybrid multicultural exchanges displayed by urban youth young people are finding new ways of wrestling with questions of race and ethnicity Through globalization is whiteness now being displaced by black culture in fashion music and slang and if so what impact is this having on race politics Moreover what happens to those people and places that are left behind by changes in late modernity By developing a unique brand of spatial cultural studies this book explores complex formations of race and class as they arise in the subtle textures of whiteness respectability and youth subjectivity This is the first book to look specifically at young ethnicities through the prism of local global change Eloquently written its riveting ethnographic case studies and insider accounts will ensure that this book becomes a benchmark publication for writing on race in years to come International Handbook of Teachers and Teaching

Bruce J. Biddle,T.L. Good,I. Goodson,2013-11-11 Recent years have generated a huge increase in the number of research and scholarly works concerned with teachers and teaching and this effort has generated new and important insights that are crucial for understanding education today This handbook provides a host of chapters written by leading authorities that review both the major traditions of work and the newest perspectives concepts insights and research based knowledge concerned with teachers and teaching Many of the chapters discuss developments that are international in scope but coverage is also provided for education in a number of specific countries Many chapters also review contemporary problems faced by educators and the dangers posed by recent politically inspired attempts to reform schools and school systems The Handbook provides an invaluable resource for scholars teacher educators graduate students and all thoughtful persons concerned with the best thinking about teachers and teaching current problems and the future of education Race

Frameworks: A Multidimensional Theory of Racism and Education Zeus Leonardo,2013-09-25 This is a comprehensive introduction to the main frameworks for thinking about conducting research on and teaching about race and racism in education Renowned theoretician and philosopher Zeus Leonardo surveys the dominant race theories and more specifically focuses on those frameworks that are considered essential to cultivating a critical attitude toward race and racism The book examines four frameworks Critical Race Theory CRT Marxism Whiteness Studies and Cultural Studies A critique follows each framework in order to analyze its strengths and set its limits The last chapter offers a theory of race ambivalence which combines aspects of all four theories into one framework Engaging and cutting edge Race Frameworks is a foundational text suitable for courses in education and critical race studies Handbook of Social Justice in Education William Ayers,Therese M. Quinn,David Stovall,2009-06-02 The Handbook of Social Justice in Education a comprehensive and up to date review of the field addresses from multiple perspectives education theory research and practice in historical and ideological context with an emphasis on social movements for justice Each of the nine sections explores a primary theme of social justice and education Historical and Theoretical Perspectives International Perspectives on Social Justice in Education Race and Ethnicity Language and Identity Seeking Social Justice in Education Gender Sexuality and Social Justice in Education Bodies Disability and the Fight for Social Justice in Education Youth and Social Justice in Education Globalization Local and World Issues in Education The Politics of Social Justice Meets Practice Teacher Education and School Change Classrooms Pedagogy and Practicing Justice Timely and essential this is a must have volume for researchers professionals and students across the fields of educational foundations multicultural diversity education theory educational policy and curriculum and instruction

Race, Law, and Higher Education in the Colorblind Era Hoang Vu Tran,2019-07-04 This book provides detailed analysis of Supreme Court judgments which have impacted the rights of minorities in relation to higher education and so illustrates ongoing issues of racial discrimination throughout the American education sector Race Law and Higher Education in the Colorblind Era brings together the many racial disputes that have been adjudicated by the Supreme Court to investigate the politics of colorblindness in the post civil rights era Through a reading of these various cases as a form of continuing racial discourse this book focuses on the ways in which racial disputes operate within a clearly entwined colorblind narrative that invalidates racial justice for minorities By investigating how the Supreme Court has understood racism and the concept of race across its history this volume demonstrates how colleges and universities must navigate the often contradictory and perilous landscape of diversity in attempts to integrate historically disadvantaged minorities This book will be of interest to researchers academics and postgraduate students in the fields of sociology of education multicultural education and legal education The Ocean in the School Rick Bonus,2020-02-07 In The Ocean in the School Rick Bonus tells the stories of Pacific Islander students as they and their allies struggled to transform a university they believed did not value their presence Drawing on dozens of interviews with students he taught advised and mentored between 2004 and 2018 at the University of Washington Bonus outlines how despite the university's promotion of diversity and student success programs these students often did not find their education to be meaningful leading some to leave the university As these students note they weren't failing school the school was failing them Bonus shows how students employed the ocean as a metaphor as a way to foster community and to transform the university into a space that valued meaningfulness respect and critical thinking In sharing these students' insights and experiences Bonus opens up questions about measuring student success the centrality of antiracism and social justice to structurally reshaping universities and the purpose of higher education

Race, Ethnicity and Education in Globalised Times Ruth Arber,2008-02-12 What is the specificity of contemporary racism And what happens to questions of race in a context where multiculturalism is taken for granted Few authors address these kinds of questions with subtlety For the most part questions of racism are treated either as self-evident or alternatively as self-evidenced The first approach accentuated in everyday life and played out in media exposés is the tendency to treat racism as manifestly self-evident We just know what racism is in principle and we just know what it looks like when we see it in practice Dualistic assumptions dominate this sense of identity relations persons are racist or they are not an act is racist or it is not However despite the obviousness of racism in contexts where different people have different seating arrangements on a bus or somebody says I am better than you because your skin colour is different this approach barely comes to terms with the depth of embodied politics and the elusiveness of structures of racism in the contemporary world Standing Outside on the Inside Olga M. Welch,Carolyn R. Hodges,1997-03-20 At a time when increased emphasis is placed on pre-college preparation of disadvantaged students the number of African American students entering colleges and universities continues to decline and the achievement gaps between these students and their White peers persist While many enrichment programs report impressive gains little research on these programs contains the perspective of the Black students This book presents the results of a longitudinal study of academic achievement and pre-college enrichment of disadvantaged African American adolescents in two inner-city high schools Through its presentation and analysis of the students' perceptions of pre-college enrichment seen in relation to their definitions of scholarship and the discussion of findings related to parent and teacher involvement this book provides fresh perspectives on the school experiences of Black adolescents and offers important insights for those involved in both the development and evaluation of enrichment programs Critical Approaches to

Comparative Education F. Vavrus,L. Bartlett,2009-12-07 This book unites a dynamic group of scholars who examine linkages among local national and international levels of educational policy and practice Utilizing multi sited ethnographic approaches the essays explore vertical interactions across diverse levels of policy and practice while prompting horizontal comparisons across twelve sites in Africa Europe the Middle East and the Americas The vertical case studies focus on a range of topics including participatory development the politics of culture and language neoliberal educational reforms and education in post conflict settings Editors Vavrus and Bartlett contribute to comparative theory and practice by demonstrating the advantages of thinking vertically
